Manufacturing research and education United States. Congress. House. Committee on Science, Space, and Technology. Subcommittee on Science, 1992 New Directions for Operations Research in Manufacturing Günter Fandel, Thomas Gullledge, Albert Jones, 2012-12-06 Basically five problems areas are addressed by operations research specialists in the manufacturing domain theoretical and practical aspects in production planning facility layout inventory control tool management and scheduling Some of these problems can be solved off line while others must be treated as real time problems impacted by the changing state of the system Additionally all of these problems have to be dealt with in an integrated systems framework Several new topics have recently appeared in the scientific literature which now attract the interest of operations researchers These include distributed real time scheduling hierarchical and heterarchical control systems integrated algorithms for design process planning and equipment level programming material handling in a finite capacity resource environment and designing and implementing distributed data management systems The contributions of these proceedings represent new and unique theoretical developments and applications related to these new topics They deal with modelling production structures and applying expert systems or neural networks to production systems Mathematical programming control theory simulation genetic algorithms tabu search and simulated annealing are applied as solution techniques Summary of Activities of the Committee on Science, Space, and Technology, U.S. House of Representatives for the ... Congress United States. Congress. House. Committee on Science, Space, and Technology, 1992 Manufacturing Systems National Academy of Engineering, Committee on Foundations of Manufacturing, 1992-02-01 Some 70 percent of U S manufacturing output currently faces direct foreign competition While American firms understand the individual components of their manufacturing processes they must begin to work with manufacturing systems to develop world class capabilities

This new book identifies principles termed foundations that have proved effective in improving manufacturing systems. Authored by an expert panel including manufacturing executives, the book provides recommendations for manufacturers leading to specific action in three areas: Management philosophy and practice; Methods used to measure and predict the performance of systems; Organizational learning and improving system performance through technology. The volume includes in-depth studies of several key issues in manufacturing including employee involvement and empowerment using learning curves to improve quality; measuring performance against that of the competition; focusing on customer satisfaction and factory modernization. It includes a unique paper on jazz music as a metaphor for participative manufacturing management. Executives, managers, engineers, researchers, faculty, and students will find this book an essential tool for guiding this nation's businesses toward developing more competitive manufacturing systems. Agile Manufacturing A.

Gunasekaran, 2001-01-25 Agile manufacturing is defined as the capability of surviving and prospering in a competitive environment of continuous and unpredictable change by reacting quickly and effectively to changing markets driven by customer designed products and services. Critical to successfully accomplishing AM are a few enabling technologies such as the standard for the exchange of products STEP; concurrent engineering; virtual manufacturing; component based hierarchical shop floor control system; information and communication infrastructure etc. The scope of the book is to present the undergraduate and graduate students, senior managers and researchers in manufacturing systems design and management, industrial engineering and information technology with the conceptual and theoretical basis for the design and implementation of AMS. Also, the book focuses on broad policy directives and plans of agile manufacturing that guide the monitoring and evaluating the manufacturing strategies and their performance. A problem solving approach is taken throughout the book emphasizing the context of agile manufacturing and the complexities to be addressed. Organization and Management of Advanced Manufacturing Waldemar Karwowski, Gavriel Salvendy, 1994-03-31 Takes into account the effective use of human factors issues in advanced manufacturing which would make the difference between the failure or success of industrial corporations. International authorities describe how to implement methods and techniques applicable on a global basis into manufacturing and process industries where change is being brought about as they move to concurrent engineering formats of operation. NIST Special Publication, 1994 Empowering Technology Lewis M. Branscomb, 1993 experts from Harvard's Center for Science and International Affairs here examine a set of key issues and problems that taken together define the scope and limits of a technology policy.
