Meyer,1993-01-29 The Earth as Transformed by Human Action is the culmination of a mammoth undertaking involving the examination of the toll our continual strides forward technical and social take on our world The purpose of such a study is to document the changes in the biosphere that have taken place over the last 300 years to contrast global patterns of change to those appearing on a regional level and to explain the major human forces that have driven these changes The first section deals strictly with the major human forces of the past 300 years and the second is a detailed account of the transformations of the global environment wrought by human action The final section examines a range of perspectives and theories that purport to explain human actions with regard to the biosphere Sustainable Development as a Civilizational Revolution Artur Pawlowski,2011-05-24 As a concept sustainable development is in conflict with traditional development based upon economic growth Sustainable development is an attempt to formulate a programme that integrates different aspects ecological social and economical which were usually considered as separate from each other Sustainable Development as a Civilizationa Global Environmental Risk Jeanne X. democratic in principle humanistic in concept and geared to the realities that pertain to the particular societies locales and regions that will ultimately bear the risk New Thinking for a New Millennium Richard A. Slaughter, 2002-11 The study of futures is an area of increasing interest and one that is comprehensively examined in this new collection with contributions from key names in the field Environmentalists Lester W. Milbrath, 1985-06-30 In a groundbreaking study Lester Milbrath argues the need for a deep change in our belief structure Environmentalists Vanguard for a New Society describes a revolution in process Basing his work on the views of modern environmentalists Milbrath delineates a new social paradigm a new understanding and revised values to show how the world functions in a way different from what our institutions and culture presuppose It is a book about our civilization the human condition and the quality of life Many of the ideas and much of the evidence in this volume are derived from a three nation study of environmental beliefs and values Teams of scholars in England Germany and the United States distributed questionnaires to the general public and to public officials business and labor leaders and environmentalists The answers to these questions are tabulated and the inferences are drawn in this timely study which is certain to provoke controversy and a reconsideration of basic beliefs
