The New Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature:

Volume 4, 1900-1950 George Watson, I. R. Willison, 1972-12-07 More than fifty specialists have contributed to this new edition of volume 4 of The Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature. The design of the original work has established itself so firmly as a workable solution to the immense problems of analysis, articulation and coordination that it has been retained in all its essentials for the new edition. The task of the new contributors has been to revise and integrate the lists of 1940 and 1957 to add materials of the following decade to correct and refine the bibliographical details already available and to reshape the whole according to a new series of conventions devised to give greater clarity and consistency to the entries.

A Companion to

Twentieth-Century Poetry Neil Roberts, 2008-06-09 In the twentieth century more people spoke English and more people wrote poetry than in the whole of previous history and this Companion strives to make sense of this crowded poetical era. The original contributions by leading international scholars and practising poets were written as the contributors adjusted to the idea that the possibilities of twentieth century poetry were exhausted and finite. However the volume also looks forward to the poetry and readings that the new century will bring. The Companion embraces the extraordinary development of poetry over the century in twenty English speaking countries, a century which began with a bipolar transatlantic connection in modernism and ended with the decentred heterogeneity of post colonialism. Representation of the canonical and the marginal is therefore balanced including the full integration of women poets and feminist approaches and the in depth treatment of post colonial poets from various national traditions. Discussion of context, intertextualities and formal approaches illustrates the increasing self consciousness and self reflexivity of the period whilst a Readings section offers new readings of key selected texts. The volume as a whole offers critical and contextual coverage of the full range of English language poetry in the last century.

Contemporary Irish Poetry, New and Revised Edition Anthony Bradley, 1988-11-15 The poems featured in this anthology are quintessentially human documents informed by humor, compassion and a joyful and visionary element, an impulse to praise what is really life and to protect it from the naysayers as well as by a salutary realism and irony. This revised edition features the work of Tom Paulin, Medbh McGuckian, Paul Durcan, Aidan Cartwright, Anne Hartigan, Nuala O'Donoghue and others who were not included in the first edition. Moreover the selections from those poets featured in the first edition have in many cases been extensively changed and updated. In total more than half the poems published in this second edition did not appear in the first.

Building W. B. Yeats's Later Poetry Tomoko Iwatsubo, 2024-09-09 This book explores Yeats's later poetry through the metaphor of the poetic tower where different kinds of building architectural textual political and symbolic were closely interrelated It chronologically examines Yeats's tower poems composed during a period of dramatic personal and national transformation from 1915 to 1932 Within a year after the Easter Rising in Dublin Yeats acquired a half ruined Norman tower in County Galway Ireland which had enthralled him for the past two decades and textually and architecturally constructed it into a focus of his life and work Interweaving the account of the renovation of the actual building and the textual construction in the socio historical contexts the book reveals the evolution of Yeats's multiplex tower as an organizing principle of his later poetry Using the archive of correspondence and manuscript materials of relevant poems including those which have thus far escaped close attention the book offers close textual genetic analyses and a diachronic view of Yeats's tower poetry which with its foundations laid decades earlier he built in the collections from The Wild Swans at Coole 1919 to The Winding Stair and Other Poems 1933 Highlighting the delicate exchange between poetry and biography as well as between the textual architecture and the actual one identifying a turning point in the making of each tower oriented poem and proposing some draft dating revisions this first book length systematic study on the process of Yeats's creation of the tower casts an unfamiliar light on a familiar yet underexplored landmark in modern poetry and makes his step by step construction work come alive

Reviews and Essays of Austin Clarke Austin Clarke, 1995 Austin Clarke is widely regarded as one of 20th century Ireland's most important poets In this selection of nearly fifty essays and reviews written over Clarke's long career he demonstrates that he is an astute and provocative literary critic as well Having grown up in Dublin when the excitement of the Irish Literary Revival was still running high Clarke knew many of the principal figures of that movement personally and his readings of Yeats Joyce Synge O Casey Lady Gregory George Moore and others enjoy the advantages of an insider's point of view Moreover committed in his own poetry to the basic assumption that fuelled the Literary Revival that the most productive course for Irish literature lay in the direction not of England but of Ireland Clarke in his criticism provides a way of understanding and judging the Revival's major writers in terms of their relationships to Ireland's rich literary and cultural traditions At the same time these essays call attention to a number of distinctly Irish but often overlooked writers working on the margins of the revival As Yeats observed more than once the Irish for all the contributions that they have made to modern fiction poetry and drama have fallen somewhat short in the genre of literary criticism Austin Clarke's essays and reviews many of which were written under a pseudonym and so not attributed to Clarke for years go a long way towards filling that gap
