The Economics of 'underdeveloped' Areas Arthur Hazlewood, 1954 The Economics of "under-developed" Areas Arthur Hazlewood, 1959 The Alliance of Bioenergy Production and Organic Farming Torsten Siegmeier, 2016-01-01

Current global energy needs and the effort to substitute fossil fuels have led to extensive production of biomass in agricultural systems for purposes of renewable energy generation. At the same time, energy cropping poses new threats to the sustainability of land use systems. Large scale industrialized farming in general and intensive energy crop production in particular are increasingly drawing criticism from various stakeholders for their negative external effects. Organic farming systems alleviate the environmental burden of agricultural production by minimizing negative this food energy climate nexus. A large scale conversion of agricultural area to organic management seems infeasible. Against this backdrop, this dissertation examined interrelations and connections of organic agriculture and biomass energy systems in regard to three dimensions: i Scientific interest and publication structure, ii research topics and contents, and iii systemic implications of integrated bioenergy and organic farming systems in the case of farm biogas production in Germany.

The Economics of "under-developed" Areas Arthur Hazlewood, 1964 The Economics of 'Under-Developed' Areas. An Annotated Reading List of Books, Articles and Official Publications. Compiled by A. Hazlewood Arthur Dennis HAZLEWOOD, 1954 The Economics of "under-developed" Areas, 1959 Real Estate and Destination Development in Tourism Peter Keller, Thomas Bieger, 2008. Real estate is one of the driving factors of destination development. In some destinations, value added from the construction and sales of second homes even surpasses value added created in the traditional tourism sector. This book, edited by Peter Keller and Thomas Bieger, contributes to the deeper understanding of the dynamics of real estate development in destinations: the role, structure, and development of destination real estate markets; evolving real estate business models in destinations; the socio-economic impacts of real estate on destinations; optimizing destination capacity through real estate management strategies; and public-private governance approaches for managing holiday property market development. The book provides a unique database for the important topic of real estate and destination development in tourism, with contributions from 43 researchers and 18 case studies.

International Labour Documentation International Labour Office. Central Library and Documentation Branch, International Labour Organization. Central Library and Documentation Branch, 1970 Oral Tradition in Ancient Israel Robert D. Miller II, OFS, 2011-09-08. Providing a comprehensive study of oral tradition in Israel, this volume unpacks the nature of oral tradition, the form it would have taken in ancient Israel, and the remains of it in the narrative books of the Hebrew Bible. The author presents cases of oral-written interaction that provide the best ethnographic analogies for ancient

Israel and insights from these suggest a model of transmission in oral written societies valid for ancient Israel Miller reconstructs what ancient Israelite oral literature would have been and considers criteria for identifying orally derived material in the narrative books of the Old Testament marking several passages as highly probable oral derivations Using ethnographic data and ancient Near Eastern examples he proposes performance settings for this material The epilogue treats the contentious topic of historicity and shows that orally derived texts are not more historically reliable than other texts in the Bible International Books in Print, 1995 Barbara Hopkinson,[Anonymus AC01401231],1995 Master index
