The Education Of An Editor:

The Education of an Editor Robert Giroux, 1982 The Education of Black People W. E. B. DuBois, 2001-06 Undoubtedly the most influential black intellectual of the twentieth century and one of America's finest historians W E B DuBois knew that the liberation of the African American people required liberal education and not vocational training He saw education as a process of teaching certain timeless values moderation an avoidance of luxury a concern for courtesy a capacity to endure a nurturing love for beauty At the same time DuBois saw education as fundamentally subversive This was as much a function of the well established role of education from Plato forward as the realities of the social order under which he lived He insistently calls for great energy and initiative for African Americans controlling their own lives and for continued experimentation and innovation while keeping education's fundamentally radical nature in view Though containing speeches written nearly one hundred years ago and on a subject that has seen more stormy debate and demagoguery than almost any other in recent history The Education of Black People approaches education with a timelessness and timeliness at once rooted in classical thought that reflects a remarkably fresh and contemporary relevance
