Book in Australia Volume 3 Craig Munro, 2006-07 This new volume in UQP's History of the Book in Australia series explores Australian book production and consumption from 1946 to the present day. In the immediate postwar era most books were imported into a colonial market dominated by British publishers. Paper Empires traces this fascinating and volatile half century using wide ranging research, oral history and memoir to explore the worlds of book publishing, selling and reading. After 1945 Australian publishing went from a handful of fledgling businesses to the billion dollar industry of today with thousands of new titles each year and a vast array of imported books. Publishing's postwar expansion began with the baby boom and the increased demand for school texts with independent houses blossoming during the 1960s and 70s followed by the current era dominated by global conglomerates. All aspects of print culture are explored from authorship and editing to bookselling, libraries and reading habits in the context of today's rapidly changing publishing landscape with its many technological challenges. A wide range of expert contributors including book trade practitioners have produced this lively and indispensable account of our vital cultural industry. Design & Applied Arts Index, 2001

Silent Cinema Paolo Cherchi Usai, 2019-04-04 Paolo Cherchi Usai provides a comprehensive introduction to the study, research and preservation of silent cinema from its heyday in the early 20th century to its present day flourishing. He traces the history of the moving image in its formative years from Edison's and Lumière's first experiments to the dawn of talkies, provides a clear guide to the basics of silent film technology, introduces the technical and creative roles involved in its production and presents silent cinema as a performance event rather than a passive viewing experience. This new greatly expanded edition takes the reader on a new journey exploring silent cinema in the broader context of technology, culture and society from the invention of celluloid film and its related machinery to film studios, laboratories, theatres and audiences. Among the people involved in the creation of a new art form were filmmakers, actors and writers but also engineers, entrepreneurs and projectionists. Their collective efforts and the struggle to preserve their creative work by archives and museums are interwoven in a compelling story covering three centuries of media history from the magic lantern to the reinvention of silent cinema in digital form. The new edition also includes comprehensive resource information for the study, research, preservation and exhibition of silent cinema.
