The Emerging Woman Coring V. Cruz,1985      The Emerging Woman Ma. Socorro Villamayor-Cruz,1985

Emerging Women Julie Keene,Ione Jenson,1997-04-01 Interviews with more than 50 emerging women with a strong feminine spirit that delineate the distinguishing traits of emerging women and provide clear cut steps for unfolding your own potential      The Emerging Woman Martha Stuart,William Thomas Liu,1970      The Emerging Woman Tawana Collins,2018-04-04 The Emerging Woman describes who the female was created to be in the eyes of God Discovering your purpose will help you in your every day lives Stop feeling inadequate or defeated and step into the realm of authority and power that you possess      The Emerging Lesbian Tze-Lan D. Sang,2003-01-15 In early twentieth century China age old traditions of homosocial and homoerotic relationships between women suddenly became an issue of widespread public concern Discussed formerly in terms of friendship and sisterhood these relationships came to be associated with feminism on the one hand and psychobiological perversion on the other a radical shift whose origins have long been unclear In this first ever book length study of Chinese lesbians Tze lan D Sang convincingly ties the debate over female same sex love in China to the emergence of Chinese modernity As women s participation in social economic and political affairs grew Sang argues so too did the societal significance of their romantic and sexual relations Focusing especially on literature by or about women preferring women Sang traces the history of female same sex relations in China from the late imperial period 1600 1911 through the Republican era 1912 1949 She ends by examining the reemergence of public debate on lesbians in China after Mao and in Taiwan after martial law including the important roles played by globalization and identity politics      The Emerging Woman ,1974 Uses original photographs historical footage and drawings in order to trace woman s role in American society from the 18th century to the present day      Redefining the New Woman, 1920-1963 Angela Howard-Zophy,Sasha Ranae Adams Tarrant,2019-06-04 2 Redefining the New Woman 1920 1963 Despite the fact that women s suffrage did not produce the catastrophic consequences predicted mainstream opposition to the feminist movement refused to die as exemplified in commentaries by industrialist Henry Ford renowned literary figures D H Lawrence and Norman Mailer and even presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson all represented in this volume The other selections first focus on sources published during the interwar years and indicate that the legacy of progressive social feminism exacerbated reactionary attitudes toward women in the context of postwar political fundamentalism the Great Depression and the New Deal The second part contains literature that appeared between 1941 and 1963 and reflects the ambivalence and backlash toward wives and mothers in the workforce and the public sphere driven by the social political and economic conservatism of the Cold War Era      The Emerging Woman Phyllis M. Palmer,Joan Skolnick,1983      Understanding the Emerging Woman Philip Robert Harris,1966      The New Japanese Woman Barbara Sato,2003-04-16 A study of the modern woman in Japan before World War II      The Emerging Monoculture Eric Kramer,2003-02-28 Kramer brings together experts from a variety of minority backgrounds and from around the world to give their perspectives on the most pervasive ideology today globalism The basic premise is that a developed country is different from a developed community They need not be mutually exclusive but neither is it assumed that they are necessarily consonant The various essays offer answers to such vital questions as What does it mean to become a global citizen and What does it mean to be a model minority in a global economy The process of becoming a mainstream person involves being first marginalized with the implication that something is inadequate about one's self The process of assimilationism is manifested as various forms of enforced and or rewarded acculturation With the vast human migration currently underway the notion of assimilation has become a global phenomenon What is occurring Kramer and his colleagues demonstrate is a worldwide shift from the village milieu to the city lifestyle This migration is seen as a polycentric and global phenomenon whereby the promised land is nowhere in particular but instead a way of life and mindset an urban lifestyle This process is far more than a simple change in geography Moving from the village to the cityscape involves a mutation in worldview and self identity Additional questions asked throughout the collection are What set of persuasive assumptions are leading the world in this direction and What might be lost in the process A provocative collection for scholars students and other researchers involved with development studies multiculturalism and urbanization

Bollywood's New Woman Megha Anwer, Anupama Arora, 2021-06-18 Bollywood's New Woman examines Bollywood's construction and presentation of the Indian Woman since the 1990s The groundbreaking collection illuminates the contexts and contours of this contemporary figure that has been identified in sociological and historical discourses as the New Woman On the one hand this figure is a variant of the fin de siècle phenomenon of the New Woman in the United Kingdom and the United States In the Indian context the New Woman is a distinct articulation resulting from the nation's tryst with neoliberal reform consolidation of the middle class and the ascendancy of aggressive Hindu Right politics

The New Woman's Film Hilary Radner, 2017-01-20 With the chick flick arguably in decline film scholars may well ask what has become of the woman's film Little attention has been paid to the proliferation of films often from the independent sector that do not sit comfortably in either the category of popular culture or that of high art films that are perhaps the corollary of the middle brow novel or smart chick flicks This book seeks to fill this void by focusing on the steady stream of films about and for women that emerge out of independent American and European cinema and that are designed to address an international female audience The new woman's film as a genre includes narratives with strong ties to the woman's film of classical Hollywood while constituting a new distinctive cycle of female centered films that in many ways continue the project of second wave feminism albeit in a modified form Topics addressed include The Bridges of Madison County Clint Eastwood 1995 the feature length films of Nicole Holofcener 1996 2013 the film roles of Tilda Swinton Rachel Getting Married Jonathan Demme 2008 Blue Jasmine Woody Allen 2013 Frances Ha Noah Baumbach 2012 Belle Amma Asante 2013 Fifty Shades of Grey Sam Taylor Johnson 2015 and Jane Campion's Top of the Lake Sundance Channel 2013

Religious Experience and the New Woman Joanna Dean, 2007-01-10 In Religious Experience and the New Woman Joanna Dean traces the development of liberal spirituality in the early 20th century through the life and work of Lily Dougall 1858-1923 a New Woman novelist who became known as a religious essayist and Anglican modernist Dean examines the connections between Dougall's marginal position as a woman intellectual and her experiential combatively iconoclastic theology and demonstrates that through her writing and mentoring Dougall contributed to the shaping of modern spirituality Lily Dougall described religious experience the sense of the presence of God as the rock of her theology Dean observes the protean nature of this rock as Dougall moved from a submissive holiness faith to a mystical Mauricean sense of the Kingdom of God to the relational theology of personal idealism and reveals how psychology which appeared to provide scientific support for her religious beliefs eventually threatened to undermine her experiential faith The New Woman and Other Emancipated Woman Plays Jean Chothia, 1998 Female emancipation and the much derided New Woman was a subject of immense fascination in the English Theatre of the 1890s Associated issues of women's education freedom of thought the sexual double standard and the right to self-determination feature in play after play of the period However the advent of the New Drama after the turn of the century marked a change of emphasis and figures previously demonized were now heroized This collection includes two plays from the 1890s Sidney Grundy's The New Woman 1894 and Arthur Wing Pinero's The Notorious Mrs Ebbsmith 1895 both much mentioned in recent criticism but neither available until now and two of the liveliest examples of the New Drama Elizabeth Robins's Votes for Women 1907 and St John Hankin's The Last of the De Mullins 1908

The New Woman Student in Fact and Fiction, 1880-1914 Laura Rotunno, 2025-09-30 This book explores the representation of the first generations of women who studied at Oxford and Cambridge in popular fiction of the late nineteenth and early twentieth century Familiarly termed Girton Girls these women were depicted as intent on overthrowing the ancient universities and by extension English society This study argues that the powerful and influential vision of the Oxbridge woman was both exploited and expanded in novels of the time. It shows that this fiction offers not only an informed critical view of this simultaneously anxiety ridden and intermittently hopeful period of English life between 1880 and 1914 but also reveals popular fiction's underexplored contribution to the move towards Modernist themes and literary techniques. The book posits that the Girton Girl was not simply a bit part in the sub genre of the university novel or even within the confines of the New Woman fiction but rather her character was rich and malleable enough to animate a variety of plots that respond to readers' burgeoning demands for the women who would inhabit their fiction.
