Global Finance 2000 Robert J. Lambrix, Surendra S. Singhvi, 1996

Reinventing Accounting and Finance Education Atul Shah, 2017-10-03 There is a growing acknowledgement of the role played by finance theory and experts in the 2008 global banking crash and their ongoing contributions to risks in the financial system Some argue that finance theory is deeply ideological and the academy has been captured and corrupted by financial institutions and conservative journal editors and their unrealistic influence Its language and terminology have been self referential enabling disciplinary closure but generating widening gaps with reality and lived experience In particular in spite of its deeply cultural and ethical nature finance education has been stripped of any wider discussion of ethics and culture and replaced by a particular neo liberal greed and materialistic ethic In an era of financialisation some have called finance a curse on modernity The devastation this has caused and continues to cause is making the world highly unequal risky and unsustainable Serious and radical reforms are required in the teaching and research of finance This book charts out the possible solutions for such reform Redefining Corporate Social Responsibility David Crowther, Shahla Seifi, 2018-09-05 Through a series of studies of aspects of CSR from around the world this book re-examines the topic through the lenses of various disciplines and cultures. It shows that the subject is much wider than is generally perceived and that CSR is evolving in a way which has not been generally recognized within the academic community.

Reinventing the Organization Arthur Yeung, Dave Ulrich, 2019-09-24 Your Company Isn't Fast Enough Here's How to Change That. The traditional hierarchical organization is dead but what replaces it? Numerous new models: the agile organization, the networked organization, and holacracy to name a few have emerged but leaders need to know what really works. How do you build an organization that is responsive to fast-changing markets? What kind of organization delivers both speed and scale and how do you lead it? Arthur Yeung and Dave Ulrich provide leaders with a much-needed blueprint for reinventing the organization. Based on their in-depth research at leading Chinese, US, and European firms such as Alibaba, Amazon, DiDi, Facebook, Google, Huawei, Supercell, and Tencent and drawing from their synthesis of the latest organization research and practice, Yeung and Ulrich explain how to build a new kind of organization: a market-oriented ecosystem that responds to changing market opportunities with speed and scale. While other books address individual pieces of the puzzle, Reinventing the Organization offers a practical, integrated six-step framework and looks at all the decisions leaders need to make: choosing the right strategies, capabilities, structure, culture, management tools, and leadership to deliver radically greater value in fast-moving markets. For any leader eager to build a stronger, more responsive organization and for all those in HR, organizational development, and consulting who will shape and deliver it, this book provides a much-needed roadmap for reinvention.

Rethinking Empowerment Jane L. Parpart, Shirin M. Rai, Kathleen A. Staudt, 2003-08-29 Rethinking Empowerment looks at the changing role of women in developing countries and calls for a new approach to empowerment. An approach that adopts a more nuanced feminist interpretation of power and empowerment recognizes that local empowerment is always embedded in regional, national, and global contexts; pays attention to institutional structures and politics; and acknowledges that empowerment is both a process and an outcome. Moreover, the book warns that an obsession with measurement rather than process can undermine efforts to foster transformative and empowering outcomes. It concludes that power must be restored as the centerpiece of empowerment. Only then will the term and its advocates provide meaningful ammunition for dealing with the challenges of an increasingly unequal and often sexist global/local world.
