St Johns Wood Regents Park:

Servicing the Middle Classes Nicky Gregson, Michelle Lowe, 2005-08-03 Servicing the Middle Classes investigates the recent rise in demand by middle class families for waged domestic labour and the consequent growth of a new servant class. Examining the position of nannies and cleaners the authors explore the national socio economic trends which have led to this new phenomenon and the profound changes this reflects in our concepts of motherhood and class and gender relations.

No other city has held such a dominant national position for so long. This new study by the doyen of London historians describes London's diverse past from its origins as a Roman settlement at the first bridging of the Thames to the world class metropolis it is today. It provides a vivid account of a city which was the deere sweete place which Chaucer loved more than any other city on earth which was for Dickens his magic lantern and to Keats a great sea howling for more wrecks. It is also a story of much contrast and remarkable resilience through great fires and pestilence, civil war and the Blitz. London has rebuilt and reinvented itself for each generation. London Gothic Lawrence Phillips, Anne Witchard, 2010-11-25 Johburg to London a Journey Jack Chernin, 2007-02-01 This is an account of growing up in the Bertrams and Doornfontien districts of Johannesburg during the nineteen forties, an area that been settled mainly by Jewish immigrants from Eastern Europe. Living in close proximity in the equivalent of council houses were groups of White Afrikaners. Among the Afrikaners were many Nazi sympathisers hence within the district there was a triangle of racialism between the Afrikaners, the Blacks and the Jews. Post school years were spent working on farms in the Eastern Transvaal. The second part is a description of living in London from 1954 until 1960 followed by a description of a hitch hiking trip across Europe and a visit to Israel. London Herbert Fry, 1887 *Collins' Illustrated Guide to London and Neighbourhood ...
