Dialogue in Organizations M. Reitz, 2015-04-14 In politics business and society better leadership and dialogue are seen as antidotes to the paradoxical issues of the modern world This book illustrates how the compulsion for busyness the assumptions about who leaders are and the adherence to implicitly held cultural norms threaten the possibility of effective dialogue in organizations

Learning in the Making Jackie Gerstein, 2019-08-27 Making is a dynamic and hands on learning experience that directly connects with long established theories of how learning occurs Although it hasn't been a focus of traditional education or had a prominent place in the classroom teachers find it an accessible exciting option for their students The maker movement brings together diverse communities dedicated to creating things through hands on projects Makers represent a growing community of builders and creators engineers scientists artists DIYers and hobbyists of all ages interests and skill levels who engage in experimentation and cooperation Transferring this innovative collaborative and creative mindset to the classroom is the goal of maker education A makerspace isn't about the latest tools and equipment Rather it's about the learning experiences and opportunities provided to students Maker education spaces can be as large as a school workshop with high tech tools e.g. 3D printers and laser cutters or as small and low tech as the corner of a classroom with bins of craft supplies Ultimately it's about the mindset not the stuff In Learning in the Making Jackie Gerstein helps you plan execute facilitate and reflect on maker experiences so both you and your students understand how the knowledge skills and attitudes of maker education transfer to real world settings She also shows how to seamlessly integrate these activities into your curriculum with intention and a clearly defined purpose

Research and Discussions in Critical Discourses and Remedies in Global Health Education Ashti A. Doobay-Persaud, Tracy L. Rabin, Tomlin Paul, Jessica Evert, Benedicta Ayiedu Mensah, 2024-10-01 Global Health a field of study research and practice defined in 2009 with precursors in international health and development is currently reckoning with itself The field has well intended goals emphasizing collaboration and dialogue between population health public health clinical care and other disciplines to address socioeconomic determinants of health and employing interdisciplinary approaches to address health inequities wherever they exist Despite these lofty ideals there are concerns that the field itself has historically served to reinforce rather than deconstruct colonialism and power imbalances At this point in time the field has evolved toward a vision of a community of practice between institutions across the income spectrum HIC LMIC LIC working in bidirectional and multidirectional ways to develop staff staff space systems and strategies to eliminate health disparities However with deeply rooted colonial assumptions racism elitism and other forms of bias underlying institutions and individuals initiatives operating under the auspices of Global Health are all too often antithetical to the pursuit itself

Handbook of Research on Applying Universal Design for Learning Across Disciplines: Concepts, Case Studies, and Practical Implementation Fovet,

Frederic,2021-01-22 Universal design for learning UDL has been hailed for over a decade as a revolutionary lens that allows campuses to shift their efforts to create inclusive environments In recent years UDL has gone beyond the field of disability and been explored with regards to international and indigenous students There is now a sizable body of literature that details the benefits of implementing UDL in higher education as well as a number of emerging studies examining the strategic challenges of developing UDL across institutions There is however still a relative paucity of research discussing the transformation of instruction or assessment in concrete terms Therefore there is a necessity for research and information on UDL that has already been implemented in classrooms and the practical examples of what this process of transformation looks like The Handbook of Research on Applying Universal Design for Learning Across Disciplines Concepts Case Studies and Practical Implementation offers practical examples of UDL having successfully been embedded in courses within various disciplines and classroom formats as well as across the undergraduate and graduate sectors The chapters provide case studies and concrete examples of what the UDL reflection on practice might look like in specific faculties and departments While highlighting UDL in areas such as educational technology student engagement assignment design and inclusive education this book is ideally intended for inservice and preservice teachers administrators teacher educators higher education professors and leaders practitioners researchers academicians and students interested in the integration of UDL into strategic academic plans

Foundations Constructing and Criticising Workshop held at The Australian National University in Canberra from 16-17 July 2004. The focus of the workshop was as for the first in the series the foundations of Information Systems as an academic discipline. The particular emphasis was on the adequacy and completeness of theoretical underpinnings and the research methods employed.

Clinical Supervision in Practice Veronica Bishop, 2017-09-16. This practice focused new edition of Clinical Supervision has been brought into the Essentials of Nursing Management series. It helps the reader to understand the importance of clinical supervision to the individual, to the patient/client and to the organization of health care and then to implement this knowledge in practice.

Diversity, Fear and Religions Gennaro Gervasio, Maria Chiara Giorda, Paola Perucchini, 2025-07-30. This book investigates ways the Other can be both a cause of and an answer to religious and cultural fears. The multi-layered question of cultural and religious diversity has received some attention recently both in academic and policy circles. The authors of this work address this issue by focusing on fears and phobias and the ways they are historically and sociologically produced and reproduced in a Global Era. The volume presents examples of fears related to different cultures and religions from a multidisciplinary perspective. Some of these have been provoked or sublimated by religious fundamentalisms and a double ignorance that is ignorance of and about fundamentalisms which have helped feed these collective concerns. Through a sample of stereotypes, mystifications and simplifications the authors look at Islam as a focal lens for showing the current power of globalized collective fears. The collection also explores possible cultural antidotes to these phobias such as the need for awareness and familiarity with diversities based on an education accepting of interculturality and plural citizenship. The book will be essential reading for academics, researchers and policy makers working in the areas of Intercultural Pedagogy, History, Anthropology and Sociology of Religions, Law and Religion, Contemporary Islam, Migration Studies, Interreligious Dialogue and Ethnography.
