The Middle Ages, 1989. Describes the lives and times of William the Conqueror, Richard I, and King John.

The Christos Grail. Averill Nicole Richardson, 2025-03-21. What would you do if you were personally offered a psycho-spiritual destiny? The author claims this happened to her in 1994. The invitation came in the form of a channelled psychic message when she consulted a New Age healer about her husband's ill health. She was asked if she would like to become a teacher of teachers. Interpreting this to mean a career move into a university or some other august institution of higher learning, the author replied, "Yes, I'd like that." Little did she understand what she'd agreed to. The Christos Grail is an autobiographical account of the adventure which followed her husband's death. She received regular channelled psychic feedback and clues from her Guiding Angel and late husband through many different human mediums. Her search for answers led her to Sophia, the Grail Goddess, and the energy source of the Christos. She concluded that Christ consciousness is another way of describing divine self-awareness, which is available to all who genuinely seek it.

International Medievalisms. Mary Boyle, 2023. Identifies and investigates international medievalism through three distinct strands: Internationally, Nationalist, and Someone Else's Past and Activist Medievalism. Medievalism, the reception of the Middle Ages, often invokes a set of tropes generally considered medieval rather than consciously engaging with medieval cultures and societies. International medievalism offers an additional interpretative layer by juxtaposing two or more national cultures, at least one of which is medieval. National can be aspirational; it might refer to the area within agreed borders or to the people who live there, but it might also describe the people who understand or imagine themselves to constitute a nation. And once medieval becomes simply a collection of ideas, it can be reformed as desired, cast as more geographically than historically specific, or function as a gateway to an even more nebulous past. This collection explores medievalist media from the textual to the architectural. Subjects range from The Green Children of Woolpit to Refugee Tales and from Viking metal to Joan of Arc. As the contributors to each section make clear, for centuries the medieval has provided material for countless competing causes and cannot be contained within historical, political, or national borders. The essays show how the medieval is repeatedly co-opted and recreated, formed as much as
