The Modernist City James Holston, 1989-09-08 The utopian design and organization of Brasilia the modernist new capital of Brazil were meant to transform Brazilian society In this sophisticated pioneering study of Brasilia from its inception in 1957 to the present James

Holston analyzes this attempt to change society by building a new kind of city and the ways in which the paradoxes of constructing an imagined future subvert its utopian premises Integrating anthropology with methods of analysis from architecture urban studies social history and critical theory Holston presents a critique of modernism based on a powerfully innovative ethnography of the city

Everyday Life in the Spectacular City Rana AlMutawa, 2024-01-09 Everyday Life in the Spectacular City is a groundbreaking urban ethnography that reveals how middle class citizens and longtime residents of Dubai interact with the city's so called superficial spaces to create meaningful social lives Rana AlMutawa shows that inhabitants adapt themselves to top down development projects from big malls to megaprojects These structures serve residents evolving social needs transforming Dubai's spectacular spaces into personally important cultural sites These practices are significant because they expand our understanding of agency as not only subversive but also adaptive Through extensive fieldwork AlMutawa herself an Emirati native to Dubai finds a more nuanced story of belonging This story does not seek to uncover the real city that lies beneath the veneer of the spectacle but rather to demonstrate that social meanings and forms of belonging take place within the spectacle itself By offering an alternative to the discourse of authenticity and elucidating the dynamics of ambivalent belonging AlMutawa belies stereotypes that portray Dubai's developments as alienating and inherently disempowering Everyday Life in the Spectacular City speaks beyond the Middle East to a globalized phenomenon for Dubai's spectacles are unexceptional in today's changing world

Tantra in Practice David Gordon White, 2018-06-26 As David White explains in the Introduction to Tantra in Practice Tantra is an Asian body of beliefs and practices that seeks to channel the divine energy that grounds the universe in creative and liberating ways The subsequent chapters reflect the wide geographical and temporal scope of Tantra by examining thirty six texts from China India Japan Nepal and Tibet ranging from the seventh century to the present day and representing the full range of Tantric experience Buddhist Hindu Jain and even Islamic Each text has been chosen and translated often for the first time by an international expert in the field who also provides detailed background material Students of Asian religions and general readers alike will find the book rich and informative The book includes plays transcribed interviews poetry parodies inscriptions instructional texts scriptures philosophical conjectures dreams and astronomical speculations each text illustrating one of the diverse traditions and practices of Tantra Thus the nineteenth century Indian Buddhist Garland of Gems a series of songs warns against the illusion of appearance by referring to bees yogurt and the fire of Malaya Mountain while fourteenth century Chinese Buddhist manuscripts detail how to prosper through the Seven Stars of the Northern Dipper by burning incense making offerings to scriptures and chanting incantations In a transcribed conversation a modern Hindu priest in Bengal candidly explains how he serves the black Goddess Kali and feeds temple skulls lentils wine or rice a seventeenth century Nepalese Hindu praise poem hammered into the golden doors to the temple of the Goddess Taleju lists a king's faults and begs her forgiveness and grace An introduction accompanies each text identifying its period and genre discussing the history and influence of the work and identifying points of particular interest or difficulty The first book to bring together texts from the entire range of Tantric phenomena Tantra in Practice continues the Princeton Readings in Religions series The breadth of work included geographic areas spanned and expert scholarship highlighting each piece serve to expand our understanding of what it means to practice Tantra

The Mind's Door Cassandra Morphy, 2021-03-01 Maya San Lucas had been lost in her dreamworld for the better part of five years Desparia was just a fantasy world for her to explore during stretches of boredom at school and at home Going to that world let her have adventures exploring secret locations and searching through towns and cities for loot to come away with The life of a thief was so much more exciting than high school especially with no friends to speak of When she met the three women outside the tavern everything changed While she never seemed to have much control over her daydreamed world her skills had always been there to help her through it But as they gradually faded Maya was forced to tag along with the group as they stormed the fortified home of the emperor Their plan was to kill him but Maya just wanted to make it out of there alive Perhaps with a few items of worth along the way After all what was the point in breaking into a place without coming away with some loot It all started so innocently when Maya had first started going to Desparia All she wanted out of life was not to be lost and alone as she started out in middle school But when her father died unexpectedly and her friends abandoned and ostracized her the only way that she could turn was inward Inward to the world just on the other side of her mind

London in Cinema Charlotte Brunsdon, 2019-07-25 Charlotte Brunsdon s illuminating study explores the variety of cinematic Londons that appear in films made since 1945 Brunsdon traces the familiar ways that film makers establish that a film is set in London by use of recognisable landmarks and the city s shorthand iconography of red buses and black taxis as well as the ways in which these icons are avoided She looks at London weather fog and rain and everyday locations like the pub and the housing estate while also examining the recurring patterns of representation associated with films set in the East and West Ends of London from Spring in Park Lane 1948 to Mona Lisa 1986 and from Night and the City 1950 to From Hell 2001 Brunsdon provides a detailed analysis of a selection of films exploring their contribution to the cinematic geography of London and showing the ways in which feature films have responded to and created changing views of the city She traces London s transformation from imperial capital to global city through the different ways in which the local is imagined in films ranging from Ealing comedies to Pressure 1974 as well as through the shifting imagery of the River Thames and the Docks She addresses the role of cinematic genres such as horror and film noir in the constitution of the cinematic city as well as the recurrence of figures such as the cockney the gangster and the housewife Challenging the view that London is not a particularly cinematic city Brunsdon demonstrates that many London set films offer their own meditation on the complex relationships between the cinema and the city
