Language in Cognition Pieter A. M. Seuren, 2009-02-26 Language in Cognition argues that language is based on the human construal of reality Humans refer to and quantify over virtual entities with the same ease as they do over actual entities the natural ontology of language the author argues must therefore comprise both actual and virtual entities and situations He reformulates speech act theory suggesting that the primary function of language is less the transfer of information than the establishing of socially binding commitments or appeals based on the proposition expressed This leads him first to a new analysis of the systems and structures of cognitive language machinery and their ecological embedding and finally to a reformulation of the notion of meaning in which sentence meaning is distinguished from lexical meaning and the vagaries and multifarious applications of lexical meanings may be explained and understood This is the first of a two volume foundational study of language published under the title Language from Within Pieter Seuren discusses and analyses such apparently diverse issues as the ontology underlying the semantics of language speech act theory intensionality phenomena the machinery and ecology of language sentential and lexical meaning the natural logic of language and cognition and the intrinsically context sensitive nature of language and shows them to be intimately linked Throughout his ambitious enterprise he maintains a constant dialogue with established views reflecting on their development from Ancient Greece to the present The resulting synthesis concerns central aspects of research and theory in linguistics philosophy and cognitive science

The Failure of National Rural Policy William Paul Browne, 2001 Modern farm policy emerged in the United States in 1862 leading to an industrialized agriculture that made the farm sector collectively more successful even as many individual farmers failed Ever since a healthy farm economy has been seen as the key to flourishing rural communities and the problems of rural nonfarmers former farmers nonfarm residents and unfarmed regions were ignored by policymakers In The Failure of National Rural Policy William P Browne blends history politics and economics to show that federal government emphasis on farm productivity has failed to meet broader rural needs and actually has increased rural poverty He explains how strong public institutions which developed agrarianism led to narrowed concepts of the public interest Reviewing past efforts to expand farm policy benefits to other rural residents Browne documents the fragmentation of farm policy within the agricultural establishment as farm services grew the evolution of political turf protection and the resultant difficulties of rural advocacy Arguing for an integrated theory of governing institutions and related political interests he maintains that nonfarm rural society can make a realistic claim for public policy assistance Written informally each chapter is followed by comments on the implications of its topics and summaries of key points The book will serve as a stimulating text for students of public policy national affairs rural sociology and community development as well as anyone concerned with the future of agrarian America Carpe Diem Redeemed Os Guinness, 2019-09-24 How do we make the most of the time we have In our harried modern world Os Guinness calls us to consequential living restructuring our notion of history as linear and purposeful not as cyclical or meaningless We can seek to serve God s intentions for our generation and discern our call for this moment in history
