Stress And Resilience The Social Context Of Reproduction In Central Harlem:

Stress and Resilience Leith Mullings, Alaka Wali, 2001-09-30 This volume describes how women's experience of race ethnicity and gender translates into experiences that in turn provide the settings and exposures that influence health and disease in Central Harlem Back cover

Feminist Ethnography Dána-Ain Davis, Christa Craven, 2022-03-01 Feminist Ethnography Second Edition is an interdisciplinary and cross cultural introduction to the methods challenges and possibilities of feminist ethnography Dána-Ain Davis and Christa Craven use a problem based approach focused on inquiry and investigation to present a feminist framework for thinking critically about how we document everyday experiences The book begins with an introduction to feminist perspectives their meanings over time and a brief history of feminist ethnography Then the authors examine feminist methodologies answering the question how does one do feminist ethnography and investigates common challenges such as ethical dilemmas and logistical constraints faced during fieldwork Finally Davis and Craven discuss what it means to be a feminist activist ethnographer including advocacy efforts and engagement with public policy and ask students to consider what is your vision for the future of feminist ethnography New to this Edition Six new interviews with feminist ethnographers include reflections on the intersections of trans studies disability studies and the Cite Black Women movement New section on safety accessibility and fieldwork to address the risks all ethnographers face but in particular those who challenge long held assumptions that ethnographers are all white Western able bodied well funded cisgender and usually male Enhanced discussion of virtual ethnography in the wake of COVID 19 Added content on transgender nonbinary experiences and disability studies

For the Public Good Patricia Antoniello, 2020-11-15 For the Public Good details the role of the Comprehensive Rural Health Project CRHP a groundbreaking internationally recognized primary health care model that uses local solutions to solve intractable global health problems Emphasizing equity and community participation this grassroots approach recruits local women to be educated as village based health workers In turn women village health workers collaborate to overcome the dominant double prejudices in local villages caste and gender inequality In one generation village health workers have progressed from child brides and sequestered wives to knowledgeable health practitioners valued teachers and community leaders Through collective efforts CRHP has reduced infant and maternal mortality eliminated some endemic health problems and advanced economic well being in villages with women's cooperative lending groups This book describes how the recognition and elimination of embedded inequalities in this case caste discrimination gender subordination and class injustice promote health and well being and collaboratively establish the public good

Prayers for the People Rebecca Louise Carter, 2019-07-05 Grieve well and you grow stronger Anthropologist Rebecca Louise Carter heard this wisdom over and over while living in post Katrina New Orleans where everyday violence disproportionately affects Black communities What does it mean to grieve well How does mourning strengthen survivors in the face of ongoing threats to Black life Inspired by ministers and guided by grieving mothers who hold birthday parties for their deceased sons Prayers for the People traces the emergence of a powerful new African American religious ideal at the intersection of urban life death and social and spiritual change Carter frames this sensitive ethnography within the complex history of structural violence in America from the legacies of slavery to free but unequal citizenship from mass incarceration and overpolicing to social abandonment and the unequal distribution of goods and services And yet Carter offers a vision of restorative kinship by which communities of faith work against the denial of Black personhood as well as the violent severing of social and familial bonds A timely directive for human relations during a contentious time in America s history Prayers for the People is also a hopeful vision of what an inclusive nonviolent and just urban society could be

Handbook of Methods in Cultural Anthropology H. Russell Bernard, Clarence C. Gravlee, 2014-07-08 The Handbook of Methods in Cultural Anthropology now in its second edition maintains a strong benchmark for understanding the scope of contemporary anthropological field methods Avoiding divisive debates over science and humanism the contributors draw upon both traditions to explore fieldwork in practice The second edition also reflects major developments of the past decade including the rising prominence of mixed methods the emergence of new technologies and evolving views on ethnographic writing Spanning the chain of research from designing a project through methods of data collection and interpretive analysis the Handbook features new chapters on ethnography of online communities social survey research and network and geospatial analysis Considered discussion of ethics epistemology and the presentation of research results to diverse audiences round out the volume The result is an essential guide for all scholars professionals and advanced students who employ fieldwork

Nighttime Breastfeeding Cecília Tomori, 2025-01-01 New parents in the United States are caught between responding to infant needs for closeness and breastfeeding and cultural and medical norms that emphasize solitary sleep This anthropological investigation shows that nighttime closeness and breastfeeding are the evolutionary and cross cultural norm but recent sociocultural shifts produced novel ideals of separation The book uncovers how breastfeeding parents rework these cultural ideals In this new edition the author describes shifting medical guidance that increasingly supports breastfeeding yet remains largely separated from infant sleep guidance The volume also provides a path towards more equitable approaches to nighttime infant care grounded in reproductive justice

New Black Renaissance Manning Marable, Adina Popescu, Khary Jones, Patricia Lespinasse, 2015-12-03 Against a backdrop of multiculturalism and Afrocentricity in the intellectual traditions of African American studies this book sets new standards and directions for the future It is the first book to systematically address the many themes that have changed the political and social landscape for African Americans Among these changes are new transnational processes of globalization the devastating impact of neoliberal public policies upon urban minority communities increasing imprisonment and attendant loss of voting rights especially among black males the surging of Hispanic population and widening class differences as deindustrialization crack cocaine and gentrification entered urban communities Marable and a cast of influential contributors suggest that a new beginning is needed for African American scholarship. They explain why Black Studies needs to break its conceptual and thematic limitations, exploring blackness in new ways and in different geographic sites. They outline the major intersectionalities that should shape a new Black Studies, the complex relationships between race, gender, sexuality, class, and youth. They argue that African American Studies scholarship must help shape and redirect public policies that affect black communities, working with government foundations and other private institutions on such issues as housing, health care, and criminal justice.

Invisible Visits Tina K. Sacks, 2019. Invisible Visits analyzes why Black middle class women continue to face inequities in securing fair, equitable, and high quality healthcare. Unlike other works on health disparities, it integrates social science, public health, and the humanities to better understand why Black women do not receive a proper standard of care at the doctor.

Styles for Flourishing Gabriel Alejandro Torres Colón, 2024-11-05. Racial experiences vary widely in everyday life and in different social contexts. They range from damaging to fulfilling, spanning discrimination, unquestioned assumptions, and political solidarity. Drawing on years of cross-cultural ethnographic research, Gabriel Alejandro Torres Colón develops an innovative theory to grasp racial experiences in their full sociocultural complexity, with vital implications for both social science and antiracist politics. This book demonstrates how people draw from their experiences to fashion styles for flourishing, embodied strategies for survival in racialized societies that can both reproduce and contest racial orders. In performing their styles, individuals embrace their racialized selves and communities, helping them flourish in broader social worlds. They are able to creatively reconfigure racialized existence into desires for recognition, expressions of resistance, and aspirations for alternative political orders. Torres Colón explores how styles develop within racial niches through nuanced considerations of a boxing gym in the U.S. Rust Belt, Afro-Puerto Rican community organizing in an ancestral mangrove forest, and Muslim political activism in the Spanish enclave of Ceuta in North Africa. Each case highlights nuanced dimensions of racial experience to question how local efforts are seen in political ideologies and governance. Bringing together humanistic, social scientific, and biological approaches with compelling ethnographic detail, this interdisciplinary book provides generative theoretical insights regarding race and a critical new perspective on racial inequality in liberal democracies.

Political Life in the Wake of the Plantation Deborah A. Thomas, 2019-11-08. In 2010, Jamaican police and military forces entered the West Kingston community of Tivoli Gardens to apprehend Christopher "Dudus" Coke, who had been ordered for extradition to the United States on gun and drug running charges. By the time Coke was detained, somewhere between seventy-five and two hundred civilians had been killed. In Political Life in the Wake of the Plantation, Deborah A. Thomas uses the incursion as a point of departure for theorizing the roots of contemporary state violence in Jamaica and in post-plantation societies in general. Drawing on visual, oral, historical, and colonial archives, Thomas traces the long-term legacies of the plantation system and how its governing logics continue to shape and replicate forms of violence. She places affect at the center of sovereignty to destabilize disembodied narratives of liberalism and progress and to raise questions about recognition repair and accountability In tying theories of politics colonialism race and affect together with Jamaica s history Thomas presents a robust framework for understanding what it means to be human in the plantation s wake
