String Quartet 14 Op 131 C Min:

String Quartet No. 14 in C-sharp Minor Opus 131 Ludwig van Beethoven, 2004 Beethoven: String Quartet No. 14 in C Sharp Minor, Op. 131; String Quartet No. 16 in F, Op. 135 Wiener Philharmoniker, 2019 Opus 127, 130-133, 135, for 2 violins, viola and cello Ludwig van Beethoven, The Listener's Companion: The Great Composers and their Works Nicolas Slonimsky, 2012-02-22 Renowned for his literary style as well as his musical scholarship Nicolas Slonimsky wrote many program notes and articles for newspapers and other periodicals in addition to his well known books These shorter writings edited by Slonimsky's daughter Electra Yourke are collected for the first time in this excellent introduction to the classical repertoire from Bach to Shostakovich Arranged chronologically by composer the chapters begin with biographical sketches and go on to describe some of each composer's most popular and important works From the Ruins of Enlightenment Richard Kramer, 2022-10-20 This is a book about Vienna in 1815 at the close of the Napoleonic era and the Napoleonic wars and on the verge of the Congress of Vienna which would redraw national boundaries and reconfigure the European community for a full century Beethoven and Schubert were both citizens of Vienna at this time Beethoven half way through his composing career and socially withdrawn because of his almost total deafness Schubert not yet twenty years old and in the middle of one of his most prolific periods with 140 songs and a symphony composed over the course of 1815 alone Seemingly oblivious to the momentous events and deeply immersed in their own world they each seemed to be composing against something in Richard Kramer's compelling reading against the Enlightenment in Beethoven's case for whom only a sense of stripped down nostalgia remained of the optimistic spirit of the 1790s against Beethoven in Schubert's case who felt the looming presence of the older composer even as his own musical imagination bloomed In taking his readers through a carefully chosen selection of works dating from 1815 songs string quartets piano sonatas and more Kramer insightfully unearths previously undetected resonances and associations and illuminates the two composers' lonely and singular journeys through the rich solitude of their music György Ligeti's Cultural Identities Amy Bauer, Márton Kerékfy, 2017-10-02 Since György Ligeti's death in 2006 there has been a growing acknowledgement of how central he was to the late twentieth century cultural landscape This collection is the first book devoted to exploring the composer's life and music within the context of his East European roots revealing his dual identities as both Hungarian national and cosmopolitan modernist Contributors explore the artistic and socio-cultural contexts of Ligeti's early works including composition and music theory the influence of East European folk music notions of home and identity his ambivalent attitude to his Hungarian past and his references to his homeland in his later music Many of the valuable insights offered profit from new research undertaken at the Paul Sacher Foundation Basel while also drawing on the knowledge of long time associates such as the composer's assistant Louise Duchesneau The contributions as a whole reveal Ligeti's thoroughly cosmopolitan milieu and values and illuminate why his music continues to inspire new generations of performers composers and listeners

Music and Belonging Between Revolution and Restoration Naomi Waltham-Smith, 2017-06-20 In what ways is music implicated in the politics of belonging How is the proper at stake in listening What role does the ear play in forming a sense of community Music and Belonging argues that music at the level of style and form produces certain modes of listening that in turn reveal the conditions of belonging Specifically listening shows the intimacy between two senses of belonging belonging to a community is predicated on the possession of a particular property or capacity Somewhat counter intuitively Waltham Smith suggests that this relation between belonging as membership and belonging as ownership manifests itself with particular clarity and rigor at the very heart of the Austro German canon in the instrumental music of Haydn Mozart and Beethoven Music and Belonging provocatively brings recent European philosophy into contact with the renewed music theoretical interest in Formenlehre presenting close analyses to show how we might return to this much discussed repertoire to mine it for fresh insights The book s theoretical landscape offers a radical update to Adornian inspired scholarship working through debates over relationality community and friendship between Derrida Nancy Agamben Badiou and Malabou Borrowing the deconstructive strategies of closely reading canonical texts to the point of their unraveling the book teases out a new politics of listening from processes of repetition and liquidation from harmonic suppressions and even from trills What emerges is the enduring political significance of listening to this music in an era of heightened social exclusion under neoliberalism

Music's Fourth Wall and the Rise of Reflective Listening Mark Evan Bonds, 2025-06-27 Music s Fourth Wall and the Rise of Reflective Listening examines fundamental changes in concert hall listening since the Enlightenment with an emphasis on changing assumptions about the very act of listening itself Author Mark Evan Bonds shows how reflective distanced listening previously limited to professional musicians and connoisseurs ousted the earlier ideal of resonant self forgetful listening And for better or worse it is the ideal of reflective listening that has prevailed ever since

Beethoven Forum Glenn Stanley, Lewis Lockwood, Christopher Reynolds, 1998-01-01 Glenn Stanley opens Beethoven Forum 6 with a consideration of the piano sonata culture of the late eighteenth century and how Beethoven s sonatas influenced this culture Lawrence Kramer explores the Tempest sonata and the way it exemplifies one of the leading intellectual projects of the Enlightenment the project of speculative anthropology or universal history Elaine R Sisman examines the lyrical small scale sonatas of Beethoven s middle period in relation to his renewed preoccupation with the idea of fantasia Nicholas Marston concludes the volume s consideration of the piano sonatas with a study of the development of a musical idea in the Hammerklavier sonata Birgit Lodes examines the relationship between the human and the divine as they are represented in the Gloria of Beethoven s great mass the Missa solemnis In a second article on this late masterpiece Norbert Gertsch describes a subscription copy of the Missa solemnis a copy that Beethoven had corrected and its significance for a future scholarly edition of the work Maynard Solomon offers a commentary transcription and translation of a papal document concerning the marriage of Beethoven s great uncle Cornelius In a review article Nicholas Marston discusses the recent edition of the Landsberg 5 sketchbook and future prospects for sketchbook editions Robert Levin concludes the volume with a review of Performing Beethoven edited by Robin Stowell The String Quartets of Beethoven William Kinderman, 2010-10-01 We do not understand music it understands us This aphorism by Theodor W Adorno expresses the quandary and the fascination many listeners have felt in approaching Beethoven's late quartets No group of compositions occupies a more central position in chamber music yet the meaning of these works continues to stimulate debate William Kinderman's The String Quartets of Beethoven stands as the most detailed and comprehensive exploration of the subject It collects new work by leading international scholars who draw on a variety of historical sources and analytical approaches to offer fresh insights into the aesthetics of the quartets probing expressive and structural features that have hitherto received little attention This volume also includes an appendix with updated information on the chronology and sources of the quartets and a detailed bibliography
