The Accounting Education Change Commission Grant Experience Richard E. Flaherty,1998 The Accounting Education Change Commission Gary L. Sundem,1999 The Routledge Companion to Accounting Education Richard M.S. Wilson,2014-04-29 Many enquiries into the state of accounting education training undertaken in several countries over the past 40 years have warned that it must change if it is to be made more relevant to students to the accounting profession and to stakeholders in the wider community This book s over riding aim is to provide a comprehensive and authoritative source of reference which defines the domain of accounting education training and which provides a critical overview of the state of this domain including emerging and cutting edge issues as a foundation for facilitating improved accounting education training scholarship and research in order to enhance the educational base of accounting practice The Routledge Companion to Accounting Education highlights the key drivers of change whether in the field of practice on the one hand e g increased regulation globalisation risk and complexity or from developments in the academy on the other e g pressures to embed technology within the classroom or to meet accreditation criteria on the other Thirty chapters written by leading scholars from around the world are grouped into seven themed sections which focus on different facets of their respective themes including student curriculum pedagogic and assessment considerations The Interface of Accounting Education and Professional Training Elaine Evans,Roger Juchau,Richard M.S. Wilson,2014-07-16 Over many decades the global development of professional accounting education programmes has been undertaken by higher education institutions professional accounting bodies and employers These institutions have sometimes co operated and sometimes been in conflict over the education and or training of future accounting professionals These ongoing problems of linkage and closure between academic accounting education and professional training have new currency because of pressures from students and employers to move accounting preparation onto a more efficient economic and practical basis The Interface of Accounting Education and Professional Training explores current elements of the interface between the academic education and professional training of accountants in Australia New Zealand South Africa and the UK It argues for a reassessment of the considerations and requirements for developing professional accounting programs which can make a student capable of being an accountant the academy ready to be an accountant the workplace and professional in being an accountant the professional bodies This book was originally published as a special issue of Accounting Education An International Journal Sustainability Accounting Ataur Belal,Stuart Cooper,Sophie Giordano-Spring,Jonathan Maurice,Charles H. Lattuca,Joan S. Stark,2009-08-17 Shaping the College Curriculum focuses on curriculum development as an important decision making process in colleges and universities The authors define curriculum as an academic plan developed in a historical social and political context They identify eight curricular elements that are addressed intentionally or unintentionally in developing all college courses and programs By exploring the interaction of these elements in context they use the academic plan model to clarify the processes of course and program planning enabling instructors and administrators to ask crucial questions about improving teaching and optimizing student learning This revised edition continues to stress research based educational practices The new edition consolidates and focuses discussion of institutional and sociocultural factors that influence curricular decisions All chapters have been updated with recent research findings relevant to curriculum leadership accreditation assessment and the influence of academic fields while two new chapters focus directly on learning research and its implications for instructional practice A new chapter drawn from research on organizational change provides practical guidance to assist faculty members and administrators who are engaged in extensive program improvements Streamlined yet still comprehensive and detailed this revised volume will continue to serve as an invaluable resource for individuals and groups whose work includes planning designing delivering evaluating and studying curricula in higher education This is an extraordinary book that offers not a particular curriculum or structure but a comprehensive approach for thinking about the curriculum ensuring that important considerations are not overlooked in its revision or development and increasing the likelihood that students will learn and develop in ways institutions hope they will The book brings coherence and intention to what is typically an unstructured haphazard and only partially rational process guided more by beliefs than by empirically grounded substantive information Lattuca and Stark present their material in ways that are accessible and applicable across planning levels course program department and institution local settings and academic disciplines It s an admirable and informative marriage of scholarship and practice and an insightful guide to both Anyone who cares seriously about how we can make our colleges and universities more educationally effective should read this book Patrick T Terenzini distinguished professor and senior scientist Center for the Study of Higher Education The Pennsylvania State University International Handbook of Accounting Education and Certification Kwabena Anyane-Ntow,2018-03-05
