institutions state society relations the nature of bureaucracy fiscal structures and patterns of economic intervention He then links these institutions to economic outcomes through a bargaining model to explain why countries such as Korea and Taiwan have more effectively overcome the collective dilemmas that plague economic development than have others such as Turkey and Syria The latter countries he shows lack institutional solutions to the problems that surround productivity growth The first book to compare political and economic development in these two regions State Building and Late Development draws on and contributes to arguments from political sociology and political economy Based on a rigorous research design the work offers both a finely drawn comparison of development and a compellingly argued analysis of the character and consequences of precocious Keynesianism the implementation of Keynesian demand stimulus policies in largely pre industrial economies
