The Aeta At The Mt Pinatubo Philippines A Minority Group Coping With Disaster:

The Aeta at the Mt. Pinatubo, Philippines Stefan Seitz, 2004 People's Response to Disasters in the Philippines J. Gaillard, 2015-02-18 This book provides a critical perspective on people's response to disasters in the Philippines. It draws upon an array of case studies to discuss people's vulnerability, capacities and resilience in facing a wide range of different hazards.

Philosophies of Appropriated Religions Soraj Hongladarom, Jeremiah Joven Joaquin, Frank J. Hoffman, 2023-12-21 This book brings together different intercultural philosophical points of view discussing the philosophical impact of what we call the appropriated religions of Southeast Asia. Southeast Asia is home to most of the world's religions. Buddhism is predominantly practiced in Thailand, Vietnam, Myanmar, Singapore, Laos, and Cambodia. Islam in Malaysia, Indonesia, and Brunei, and Christianity in the Philippines and Timor-Leste. Historical data show, however, that these world religions are imported cultural products and have been reimagined, assimilated, and appropriated by the culture that embraced them. In this collection, we see that these appropriated religions imply a culturally nuanced worldview which in turn impacts how the traditional problems in the philosophy of religion are framed and answered in particular questions about the existence and nature of the divine, the problem of evil, and the nature of life after death. Themes explored include religious belief and digital transition, Theravada Buddhist philosophy, religious diversity, Buddhism and omniscience, indigenous belief systems, divine apology, and unmerited human suffering, dualism, and the problem of evil. Buddhist philosophy and Spinoza's views on death and immortality, belief and everyday realities in the Philippines, comparative religious philosophy, gendering the Hindu concept of dharma, Christian devotion and salvation during the Spanish colonial period in the Philippines through the writings of Jose Rizal, indigenous Islamic practices in the Philippines, practiced traditions in contemporary Filipino celebrations of Christmas, role of place, aspects in the appropriation of religions in Southeast Asia, and fate and divine omniscience. This book is of interest to scholars and researchers of philosophy of religion, sociology of religion, anthropology of religion, cultural studies, comparative religion, religious studies, and Asian studies.

Culture and the Changing Environment Michael J. Casimir, 2009 Today human ecology has split into many different sub-disciplines such as historical ecology, political ecology, or the New Ecological Anthropology. The latter, in particular, has criticised the predominance of the Western view on different ecosystems, arguing that culture-specific world views and human-environment interactions have been largely neglected. However, these different perspectives only tackle specific facets of a local and global hyper-complex reality. In bringing together a variety of views and theoretical approaches, these especially commissioned essays prove that an interdisciplinary collaboration and understanding of the extreme complexity of the human-environment interface is possible.

Reimagining Development in Southeast Asia Jose Monfred C. Sy, Ananeza P. Aban, 2025-03-15 This volume consolidates chapters from across Southeast Asia as a means of discussing alternative development pathways. It presents radical reimaginings of how development might look, considered alongside the growing disillusionment over mainstream development.

models In suggesting alternative models of development it reframes participatory processes from the developing world discussing practices of decolonization anti capitalism plurality anti racism effacing patriarchy and ecological sustainability designed and executed by grassroot communities and civil society organisations CSOs The grassroots and social movement paradigms highlighted in this collection seek to challenge and change the dominant model of development instituted in ASEAN which have largely failed in meaningfully addressing the issues faced by different sectors That the book project springs from an engagement between scholars and on the ground practitioners means that several chapters combine reflective case based viewpoints To this end the book is relevant to scholars students and practitioners working in areas related to Southeast Asian politics economy and culture Disaster and Human History Benjamin Reilly, 2022-05-13 Human history is periodically punctuated by natural disasters from Vesuvius eruption to the modern day Covid 19 pandemic Volcanoes have buried entire cities earthquakes have reduced structures to smoldering ruins Floods and cyclones have wreaked havoc on river valleys and coastlines and desertification and climate change have weakened society's underpinnings Death tolls are often escalated by starvation and illness which frequently occur in tandem This second edition assesses natural disasters on human society and the effect of strategies developed to reduce their impact This book addresses the interconnectivity of disaster and human responsibility through 23 updated case studies including a new chapter on the 2011 T hoku tsunami and the ensuing Fukushima nuclear disaster Natural Hazards and Disaster Risk Reduction Carina Fearnley, Emily Wilkinson, Catherine J. Tillyard, Stephen J. Edwards, 2016-04-08 Building upon presentations given during the conference on Disaster Risk Reduction for Natural Hazards Putting Research into Practice held at University College London in November 2009 the articles collected in this book examine how natural hazards research is accessed and used by practitioners and decision makers and conversely how policy and practice inform research As with the conference this book successfully brings together views from humanitarian and development agencies academia business government and funding bodies It is rare to engage such a wide range of sectors in a discussion relating to the issues of disaster risk reduction from a natural hazards perspective and the book captures this interaction and the resultant exchange of ideas thus providing an insight into how stakeholders respectively undertake or engage with natural hazards research Collectively the articles highlight the need for greater dialogue understanding and collaboration between all these sectors if research is to be made relevant and generate significant impact on risk reduction policy and practice There is an urgent requirement to better understand the respective needs ways of working project timescales and funding mechanisms for disaster risk reduction as well as the challenges posed by institutional and organizational structures and functions These issues must be overcome to ensure that ultimately and most significantly discussions turn into positive practical actions so that research on natural hazards is relevant and applicable The book represents a step in that journey This book was published as a special issue of Environmental Hazards Beyond the Green Myth Peter G. Sercombe, Bernard Sellato, 2008-03-18 Borneo with its tales of

White Rajahs and tribes of headhunters has long excited the Western imagination Today however there is another green imagination at work Mention of the island is more likely to evoke images of tropical deforestation and concern about the cruel dispossession and displacement of indigenous peoples who once lived in relative harmony with their environment It is perhaps not suprising then that most books dealing with the nomadic hunter gatherers of Borneo have principally been pictorial studies There is indeed a dearth of scholarship regarding these peoples a situation that this first ever comprehensive review of nomadic groups in the Borneo rain forest aims to rectify Presenting a wealth of new research contributed by an international team of scholars the volume covers all of those parts of Borneo where nomads called Penan Punan or by various other names are or were known to exist and provides a comparative historical ecological study of these groups The study is primarily concerned with issues of modernization including the monetary economy formalized institutions centralized power structures contractual relationships and extraction activities and development policies The impact of these policies is analyzed with special regard to the natural environment inhabited by these small scale societies as well as the use of its resources The book has no stiff theoretical orientation but informs ongoing debates about changing forms of ethnicity relations between minorities and the state minorities rights and survival native discourse the sustainability of tropical forest use and the neo romantic environmentalist myth of so called wise traditional peoples

Identity Destabilised Thomas Hylland Eriksen, Elisabeth Schober, 2016-10-20 The world is overheated Too full and too fast out of sync contradiction ridden and unequal It is the age of the Anthropocene of humanity s indelible mark upon the planet In short it is globalisation but not as we know it This collection explores social identities in today s overheated world seen from an anthropological perspective The focus is on contradictions tensions and paradoxes How can an identity be stable if its border is constantly shifting How can a community survive if it is incorporated into a huge entity How does belonging work in new cities And what can indigenous peoples do to retain a sense of self in a fast moving neoliberal world Ethnographically rich and diverse in its scope Identity Destabilised contains chapters from many parts of the world including the Philippines Israel Australia the Cape Verde Islands and Afghanistan The authors investigate how identity changes in response to contemporary forces from rapid industrialisation the enforced return of migrants and the silencing of indigenous groups to sudden population growth in boomtowns and the touristification of local culture
