Ballyn Jenney, 1996      Literature and Sensation Anthony Uhlmann, 2008-12-18 I never travel without my diary One should always have something sensational to read in the train Oscar Wilde Literature has always treated the sensational crime passion violence trauma catastrophe It has frequently caused or been at the centre of scandal censorship and moral outrage But literature is also intricately connected with sensation in ways that are less well understood It mediates between the sensory world perception and cognition through rich modes of thought allied with perceptions and emotions and makes sense of profound questions that transcend the merely rational And at its boundaries literature engages with the uncanny realm in which knowledge presentiment or feeling is prior to articulation in words This book reviews the sensational dimension of literature according to themes that have too often been left to one side Literary theory has often privileged perception over sensation cognition over raw experience in focusing on semantics rather than sense The essays in this volume cover literature and sensation in all its facets drawing upon a range of approaches from evolutionary theory theories of mind perception philosophy and aesthetics The works considered are drawn from various literary periods and genres from the nineteenth century to contemporary prose and poetry including experiments in new media Literature and Sensation offers detailed and subtle readings of literature according to the sensations they represent incite or evoke in us and will be of interest to readers of literary theory ethics and aesthetics and theorists of new media art A Companion to Twentieth-Century Poetry Neil Roberts, 2008-04-15 In the twentieth century more people spoke English and more people wrote poetry than in the whole of previous history and this Companion strives to make sense of this crowded poetical era The original contributions by leading international scholars and practising poets were written as the contributors adjusted to the idea that the possibilities of twentieth century poetry were exhausted and finite However the volume also looks forward to the poetry and readings that the new century will bring The Companion embraces the extraordinary development of poetry over the century in twenty English speaking countries a century which began with a bipolar transatlantic connection in modernism and ended with the decentred heterogeneity of post colonialism Representation of the canonical and the marginal is therefore balanced including the full integration of women poets and feminist approaches and the in depth treatment of post colonial poets from various national traditions Discussion of context intertextualities and formal approaches illustrates the increasing self consciousness and self reflexivity of the period whilst a Readings section offers new readings of key selected texts The volume as a whole offers critical and contextual coverage of the full range of English language poetry in the last century Reader's Guide to Literature in English Mark Hawkins-Dady, 2012-12-06 Reader's Guide Literature in English provides expert guidance to and critical analysis of the vast number of books available within the subject of English literature from Anglo Saxon times to the current American British and Commonwealth scene It is designed to help students teachers and librarians choose the most appropriate books for research and study From New National to World Literature Bruce King, 2016-07-05 From New National to World English Literature offers a personal perspective on the evolution of a major cultural movement that began with decolonization continued with the assertion of African West Indian Commonwealth and other literatures and has evolved through postcolonial to world or international English literature Bruce King one of the pioneers in the study of the new national literatures and still an active literary critic discusses the personalities writers issues and contexts of what he considers the most important change in culture since modernism In this selection of forty five essays and reviews King discusses issues such as the emergence and aesthetics of African literature the question of the existence of a Nigerian literature the place of the new universities in decolonizing culture the contrasting models of American and Irish literatures and the changing nature of exile and diasporas He emphasizes themes such as traditionalism versus modernism the dangers of cultural assertion and the relationships between nationalism and internationalism Special attention is given to Nigerian West Indian Australian Indian and Pakistani literature Les Murray Steven Matthews, 2001 In the only full critical study of Les Murray's work Steven Matthews provides a complete account of the poet's career to date A controversial figure Murray's version of Australian republicanism has caused heated argument about the future direction of his country as it moves away from its colonial past With detailed readings of major poems and literary and cultural contexts surrounding the work Matthews gives an overview of Murray s place in Australian literature and national thought     Cities in exile Thomas W. Shapcott,1998     Span ,1983     The Empire Writes Back Bill Ashcroft,Gareth Griffiths,Helen Tiffin,2003-12-16 The experience of colonization and the challenges of a post colonial world have produced an explosion of new writing in English This diverse and powerful body of literature has established a specific practice of post colonial writing in cultures as various as India Australia the West Indies and Canada and has challenged both the traditional canon and dominant ideas of literature and culture The Empire Writes Back was the first major theoretical account of a wide range of post colonial texts and their relation to the larger issues of post colonial culture and remains one of the most significant works published in this field The authors three leading figures in post colonial studies open up debates about the interrelationships of post colonial literatures investigate the powerful forces acting on language in the post colonial text and show how these texts constitute a radical critique of Eurocentric notions of literature and language This book is brilliant not only for its incisive analysis but for its accessibility for readers new to the field Now with an additional chapter and an updated bibliography The Empire Writes Back is essential for contemporary post colonial studies
