Under the Adorned Dome, Four Essays on the Arts of Iran and India Yves Porter, 2023-09-29 These essays are the revised and updated version of four lectures given in the Yarshater Lecture Series at SOAS in London in 2013 They concern some aspects of the arts from pre modern Iran and India namely the making of Persian illustrated manuscripts the iconography of Kashan wares the use and re use of luster tiles in Ilkhanid Iran and the glazed tiles made in three Indian sultanates Delhi Bengal and Malwa These four topics share concepts of influence and impact although inflected on different modes The productions they embody represent many poles of influence even if working on different scales from the extensive diffusion of products techniques and systems to almost isolated productions

Is Architecture Art? John Macarthur, 2024-10-31 Is architecture an art like literature or music Or is it more akin to science or engineering Can buildings be artworks just like paintings and sculptures or does their fundamentally functional nature mean they cannot be considered pure works of art Questions of architecture art and aesthetics do not allow for simple answers But by asking such questions we can usefully reveal the ways in which the concepts and meanings of architecture have changed over the centuries and how they continue to change in the contemporary era Is Architecture Art explores the key conceptual questions about the aesthetic appreciation of architecture and its persistently contested status as an artform It engages the work of thinkers ranging from Hume and Kant to Adorno Tafuri and Ranci re and draws on accessible and thought provoking accounts of historical and contemporary architectural and art theory Taking novel approaches to issues that will be familiar to the practising architect it shows how aesthetics and art theory can open up and illuminate architectural theory issue by issue Is Architecture Art will provoke discussion and debate among architects and architectural theorists and force a new understanding of the purpose of architectural practice in the contemporary era as the concepts of art the arts and of the creative economy have shifted and blurred as never before

Langford Warren 1857 1917 was an important link in the chain of individuals who contributed to the architectural practice theories of design and the teaching of architectural history in the United States at the turn of the twentieth century Best known in the Boston area Warren first worked under the renowned architect Henry Hobson Richardson before establishing his own practice Friends and colleagues during this period included Charles Eliot Norton the noted art historian and Harvard s Charles Herbert Moore a leading Ruskinian painter Hired by Harvard University in 1893 Warren developed its architectural curriculum In 1897 he helped found Boston s Society of Arts and Crafts At the time of his death in 1917 Warren was Dean of the School of Architecture at Harvard and President of the Society of Arts and Crafts At the turn of the century Warren s philosophical vision offered a conservative and ethnocentric perspective attractive to many Bostonians and to a significant segment of Americans nationwide According to this view English culture was the basis of American culture Through his work at Harvard and in the Arts and Crafts movement he articulated and promoted an aesthetic guided by an attachment to the past and he encouraged his students at Harvard to revive and reinterpret English and Anglo American models Another characteristic of Warren s aesthetic was restraint a quality generally attributed to the region s Puritan settlers Restraint also meant a rejection of both the lavish ornamentation of the Ecole des Beaux Arts in Paris and the more original styles such as Art Nouveau that were emerging at the turn of the century Following the ideals of John Ruskin William Morris and later leaders of the English Arts and Crafts movement Warren and his architect colleagues promoted a close collaboration with the craftsmen who enhanced their buildings The resulting building designs represent a significant contribution to the development of American Arts and Crafts architecture complementing the proto modern work of designers such as Frank Lloyd Wright In fact Arts and Crafts architecture in North America was extremely diverse Meister examines the greater complexity of this architecture by exploring the eclectic historicism of Warren a key figure in the movement that was centered in Boston

Grief Made Marble Seth Estrin,2023-01-01 A groundbreaking account of ancient Greek funerary sculpture and its emotional effects In this lyrically written and beautifully illustrated study Seth Estrin probes the emotional effects of one of the largest and most important categories of Greek sculpture the funerary monuments of Classical Athens Instead of simply documenting experiences of bereavement he demonstrates that funerary monuments played a vital role in giving grief visual and material presence employing the subtle effects of relief sculpture to make private experiences of loss socially meaningful to others By identifying the deaths they marked as worthy of grief funerary monuments mobilized fundamental questions about sculptural form and pictorial recognition to political ends instrumentalizing the emotional dimensions of sculpture as a means to construct and uphold social hierarchies Grounded in careful study of numerous monuments new readings of their accompanying epigrams and ancient literary sources and close consideration of both ancient and modern theories of emotion Grief Made Marble makes a landmark contribution not only to the study of Greek sculpture but to our broader understanding of the relationship between art and emotion in antiquity

Douglas Sirk, Aesthetic Modernism and the Culture of Modernity Victoria L. Evans, 2017-05-24 The first truly interdisciplinary analysis to link Douglas Sirk's striking visual aesthetic to key movements in twentieth century art and architecture this book reveals how the exaggerated artifice of Sirk's formal style emerged from his detailed understanding of the artistic debates that raged in 1920s Europe and the post war United States With detailed case studies of Final Chord and All That Heaven Allows Victoria Evans demonstrates how Sirk attempted to dissolve the boundaries of cinema by assimilating elements of avant garde art architecture and design into the colour composition and setting of many of his most well known films Treating Sirk's oeuvre as a continuum between his German and American periods Evans argues that his mise en scene was the result of an interdisciplinary transnational dialogue and illuminates the broader cultural context in which his films appeared by establishing links between archival documents Modernist manifestos and the philosophical writings of his peers

Art Book News Annual, volume 4: 2008 , Art Book News Annual, volume 4: 2008 , Towards a Dialogical History of Modern Architecture Jorge Francisco Liernur, 2024-07-15 The book challenges three perspectives on the modern architectural canon explanations that disregard impacts and effects beyond the North Atlantic monologic superficial modifications that simply add Other figures to the canon and views that reject the canon itself. Instead it recognizes the canon's significance in comprehending architecture while seeking to uncover its presumed Western-centric integrity through a shift from a monological to a dialogical approach. This approach integrates concepts of identity and Otherness as dialectically articulated and mutually interrelated. In essence the book's main thesis contends that the canon's historiographic construction overlooked the existence of Otherness specifically neglecting the world beyond the North Atlantic nucleus of the West. By examining a global context to comprehend the canon formation the book proposes a more accurate understanding of the history of modern architecture. Recognizing that this task cannot emanate from a single hegemonic center it presents the prospect of a coral type architectural history. This narrative should and could encompass voices from diverse cultures to explore the particular circumstances of the world intertwined with each piece or figure transiently integrated into that canon. As a result the ideal readers of this book position themselves within multiple settings keen on engaging in a critical global conversation about modern architectural discourse. It will be of interest to researchers and students of architecture architectural history and cultural studies. The Sublime Timothy M. Costelloe, 2012-07-30. This volume offers readers a unique and comprehensive overview of different theoretical and interdisciplinary perspectives on the sublime.
