Implementing a Comprehensive Research Compliance Program Aurali Dade, Lori Olafson, Suzan M. DiBella, 2015-07-01 The senior research compliance administrator has emerged as a critically important position as universities and other research organizations face an increasingly intricate regulatory environment These administrators are tasked with a special challenge ensuring that their institutions conduct safe ethical and compliant research while also helping researchers understand and meet compliance requirements and achieve their research goals These competing responsibilities can make the role of the research administrator complex however those who serve in this role may find that they have limited preparation for the challenges and little or no formal education in the field Thus the goal of this handbook is to provide practical guidance to research administrators who are responsible for a wide variety of compliance programs Previous volumes on these topics have focused primarily on educating research faculty staff and students An assumption in many of these handbooks is that all additional questions related to research ethics and regulations should be directed to the senior research administrator yet the books have limited guidance intended for the senior research administrators themselves This handbook is designed therefore to serve as a detailed program implementation manual for these administrators who are expected to be conversant on a broad range of complex ethical and regulatory topics and to provide guidance to those conducting research as well as upper administration and others interested in safe ethical and compliant research

Imitating Authors Colin Burrow, 2019-05-16 Imitating Authors is a major study of the theory and practice of imitatio the imitation of one author by another from antiquity to the present day It extends from early Greek texts right up to recent fictions about clones and artificial humans and illuminates both the theory and practice of imitation At its centre lie the imitating authors of the English Renaissance including Ben Jonson and the most imitated imitator of them all John Milton Imitating Authors argues that imitation was not simply a matter of borrowing words or of alluding to an earlier author Imitators learnt practices from earlier writers They imitated the structures and forms of earlier writing in ways that enabled them to create a new style which itself could be imitated That made imitation an engine of literary change Imitating Authors also shows how the metaphors used by theorists to explain this complex practice fed into works which were themselves imitations and how those metaphors have come to influence present day anxieties about imitation human beings and artificial forms of intelligence It explores relationships between imitation and authorial style its fraught connections with plagiarism and how emerging ideas of genius and intellectual property changed how imitation was practised In refreshing and jargon free prose Burrow explains not just what imitation was in the past but how it influences the present and what it could be in the future Imitating Authors includes detailed discussion of Plato Roman rhetorical theory Virgil Lucretius Petrarch Cervantes Ben Jonson Milton Pope Wordsworth Mary Shelley and Kazuo Ishiguro

Ian J. H. Duncan, Penny Hawkins, 2009-12-29 Animal welfare is attracting increasing interest worldwide especially in developed countries where the knowledge and resources are available to at least potentially provide better management systems for farm animals as well as companion zoo and laboratory animals The key requirements for adequate food water a suitable environment appropriate companionship and good health are important for animals kept for all of these purposes There has been increased attention given to farm animal welfare in many countries in recent years This derives largely from the fact that the relentless pursuit of financial reward and efficiency to satisfy market demands has led to the development of intensive animal production systems that challenge the conscience of many consumers in those countries In developing countries human survival is still a daily uncertainty so that provision for animal welfare has to be balanced against human needs Animal welfare is usually a priority only if it supports the output of the animal be it food work clothing sport or companionship In principle the welfare needs of both humans and animals can be provided for in both developing and developed countries if resources are properly husbanded In reality however the inequitable division of the world's riches creates physical and psychological poverty for humans and animals alike in many parts of the world Evolutionary
