The African American Experience Through Reconstruction:

The African American Experience Joe William Trotter, Jr., Thomas C. Holt, 2000-12-01 This work is a narrative text covering the African American experience in United States history with particular emphasis on work and community and on recurring discrimination

The African American Experience Arvarh E. Strickland, Robert E. Weems Jr., 2000-11-30 Compared to the early decades of the 20th century when scholarly writing on African Americans was limited to a few titles on slavery Reconstruction and African American migration the last thirty years have witnessed an explosion of works on the African American experience With the Civil Rights and Black Power movements of the 1960s came an increasing demand for the study and teaching of African American history followed by the publication of increasing numbers of titles on African American life and history This volume provides a comprehensive bibliographical and analytical guide to this growing body of literature as well as an analysis of how the study of African Americans has changed

The African American Experience in Texas Bruce A. Glasrud, James Smallwood, 2007 The African American Experience in Texas collects for the first time the finest historical research and writing on African Americans in Texas Covering the time period between 1820 and the late 1970s the selections highlight the significant role that black Texans played in the development of the state Topics include politics slavery religion military experience segregation and discrimination civil rights women education and recreation This anthology provides new insights into a previously neglected part of American history and is essential reading for anyone interested in the history of black Texans

The Black Church in the African American Experience C. Eric Lincoln, Lawrence H. Mamiya, 1990-11-07 Black churches in America have long been recognized as the most independent stable and dominant institutions in black communities In The Black Church in the African American Experience based on a ten year study is the largest nongovernmental study of urban and rural churches ever undertaken and the first major field study on the subject since the 1930s Drawing on interviews with more than 1 800 black clergy in both urban and rural settings combined with a comprehensive historical overview of seven mainline black denominations C Eric Lincoln and Lawrence H Mamiya present an analysis of the Black Church as it relates to the history of African Americans and to contemporary black culture In examining both the internal structure of the Church and the reactions of the Church to external societal changes the authors provide important insights into the Church s relationship to politics economics women youth and music Among other topics Lincoln and Mamiya discuss the attitude of the clergy toward women pastors the reaction of the Church to the civil rights movement the attempts of the Church to involve young people the impact of the black consciousness movement and Black Liberation Theology and clergy and trends that will define the Black Church well into the next century This study is complete with a comprehensive bibliography of literature on the black experience in religion Funding for the ten year survey was made possible by the Lilly Endowment and the Ford Foundation

Black Reconstruction in America (The Oxford W. E. B. Du Bois) W. E. B. Du Bois, 2014-02-01 Black Reconstruction in America interprets the twenty years of Reconstruction from the point of view of newly liberated African Americans Though lambasted by critics at the time of its publication in 1935 Black Reconstruction has only grown in historical and literary importance In the 1960s it joined the canon of the most influential revisionist historical works Its greatest achievement is weaving a credible lyrical historical narrative of the hostile and politically fraught years of 1860 1880 with a powerful critical analysis of the harmful effects of democracy including Jim Crow laws and other injustices

African American History Reconsidered Pero Gaglo Dagbovie, 2010 This volume establishes new perspectives on African American history The author discusses a wide range of issues and themes for understanding and analyzing African American history the 20th century African American historical enterprise and the teaching of African American history for the 21st century

African-American Poetry of the Nineteenth Century Joan R. Sherman, 1992 Afro Americans of the nineteenth century are the invisible poets of our national literature This anthology brings together 171 poems by 35 poets from the best known to the unknown in one volume

Interpreting National History Terrie Epstein, 2010-04-02 How do students racial identities work with and against teachers pedagogies to shape their understandings of history and contemporary society Based on a long term ethnographic study Interpreting National History examines the startling differences in black and white students interpretations of U S history in classroom and community settings Interviews with children and teens compare and contrast the historical interpretations students bring with them to the classroom with those they leave with after a year of teacher s instruction Firmly grounded in history and social studies education theory and practice this powerful book Illuminates how textbooks pedagogies and contemporary learning standards are often disconnected from students cultural identities Explores how students and parents interpret history and society in home and community settings Successfully analyzes examples of the challenges and possibilities facing teachers of history and social studies Provides alternative approaches for those who want to examine their own views toward teaching national history and aspire to engage in more culturally responsive pedagogy Gendering Knowledge in Africa and the African Diaspora Toyin Falola, Olajumoke Jacob-Haliso, 2017-07-14 Gendering Knowledge in Africa and the African Diaspora addresses the question of to what extent the history of gender in Africa is appropriately inscribed in narratives of power patriarchy migration identity and women and men's subjection emasculation and empowerment The book weaves together compelling narratives about women men and gender relations in Africa and the African Diaspora from multidisciplinary perspectives with a view to advancing original ways of understanding these subjects The chapters achieve three things first they deliberately target long held but erroneous notions about patriarchy power gender migration and masculinity in Africa and of the African Diaspora vigorously contesting these and debunking them second they unearth previously marginalized and little known histories depicting the dynamics of gender and power in places ranging from Angola to Arabia to America and in different time periods decidedly gendering the previously male dominated discourse and third they ultimately aim to re write the stories of women and gender relations in Africa and in the African Diaspora As such this work is an important read for scholars of African history gender and the African Diaspora This book will be of interest to students and scholars of African Studies Diaspora Studies Gender and History Encyclopedia of Social History Peter N. Stearns, 1993-12-21 A reference surveying the major concerns findings and terms of social history The coverage includes major categories within social history family demographic transition multiculturalism industrialization nationalism major aspects of life for which social history has provided a crucial part Forging Freedom in W. E. B. Du Bois's Twilight Years Phillip Luke Sinitiere, 2023-06-23 Contributions by Murali Balaji Charisse Burden Stelly Christopher Cameron Carlton Dwayne Floyd Robert Greene II Andre E Johnson Werner Lange Lisa J McLeod Jodi Melamed Tyler Monson Eric Porter Reiland Rabaka Thomas Ehrlich Reifer Camesha Scruggs and Phillip Luke Sinitiere Although the career of W E B Du Bois was remarkable in its entirety a large majority of scholarship focuses on the first five or six decades Overlooked and understudied the closing three decades of Du Bois's career reflect a generative period of his life in terms of teaching travel activism and publications Forging Freedom in W E B Du Bois's Twilight Years No Deed but Memory proposes to narrate the political social and cultural significance of Du Bois's career during the controversial closing three decades of his life Du Bois's twilight years were tremendously controversial his persistent criticism of the collusion between capitalism and racism and his choice to join the Communist Party in late 1961 raised the ire of many At the time Du Bois's strident advocacy of socialism and turn to communism during the Cold War oriented most scholars away from delving into his late career While only a few scholars have engaged the productivity of Du Bois's later years the fact is that an anticommunist antiradical animus has followed Du Bois in the half century since his death As a result Du Bois scholarship remains impoverished to the extent that academics neglect his later years The essays in Forging Freedom in W E B Du Bois's Twilight Years detail selected aspects of Du Bois's later decades and their particular connection to American social political and cultural history between the 1930s and the 1960s While international concerns and a global perspective also fundamentally defined Du Bois's latter years chronicling his final decades in a US context presents fresh insight into his twilight years Du Bois's commitment to freedom's flourishing during this period animated the Black freedom struggle's war against white supremacy Ultimately this book demonstrates that the durability of Du Bois's intellectual achievements remains relevant to the twenty first century
