The Agile Rabbit Book of Historical and Curious Maps, 2005 Carte Geografiche Storiche E Singolari Pepin van Roojen, 2005 The maps are entirely unannotated except for table of contents at end containing thumbnail images The maps are intended for use as a graphic resource or for inspiration

Literary Invention and the Cartographic Imagination, 2022-10-24 Literary Invention and the Cartographic Imagination Early Modern to Late Modern is a wide ranging inter and transdisciplinary approach grounded in the twin rigors of theory and history which through close readings of authors from Edmund Spenser to Olga Tokarczuk and through considered discussions of the ideologies of walking and mapping in performance art and cultural representation assesses and analyses the significance of maps to literary texts and which examines the ways in which the literary maps imaginary and real worlds Together the essays demonstrate convincingly the close relationship between text map and culture

New Forms of Environmental Writing Timothy C. Baker, 2022-05-19 Surveying a wide range of contemporary poetry fiction and memoir by women writers this book explores our most pressing environmental concerns and shows how these texts find innovative new ways to respond to our environmental crisis Arguing for the centrality of individual encounter and fragmentary form in 21st century literature as well as themes of attention care and loss Baker highlights the ways that fragmentary texts can be seen as a mode of resistance These texts provide new ways to consider the role of individual agency and enmeshment in a more than human world The author proposes a new model of gleaning to encompass ideas of collection assemblage and relinquishment and draws on theoretical perspectives such as ecofeminism new materialism and posthumanism Examining works by writers including Sara Baume Ali Smith Elizabeth Jane Burnett Bhanu Kapil and Kathleen Jamie Baker provides important new insights into understanding our planetary predicament

Map Functions Ewa Krzywicka-Blum, 2016-11-22 This book departs from typical cartography textbooks which tend to focus on the characteristics of the methods and means of expression Instead it offers an explanation of the individual perspective on the map as a specific product of civilization one that constitutes a component of social communication The layout highlights the essential property of cartographic notation namely the way of forming the map s content elements adjusted to its purpose This property is ensured thanks to the dimension of reference units in relation to the observation scale of the objects and by topological consistency between the reference units system and real layout of the objects An exploration of the characteristics of various ways of depicting a map s content elements organized in the reference units dimension is preceded by a general section accentuating the position of cartography among other sciences as well as the definition and general properties of a map The book s closing chapter includes a separate textbook overview of the applications of taxonomic methods in cartography

Unorthodox Ways to Think the City Teresa Stoppani, 2018-12-07 This book argues that architecture and the city and their processes can be better understood by drawing categories from disciplines that exceed the architectural and urban cultural context It performs an open intellectual reading that traverses architecture and architectural theory but also art theory and history cartography philosophy literature and cultural studies to unfold a series of figures that are ambiguously placed between the representation and the construction of space in architecture and the city The paradigm and philosophy the island and the city the map and representation the model and making and the questioning of form performed by dust are explored beyond their definition as processes that differently make space between architecture and the city and are proposed as unorthodox analytic techniques to decipher contemporary spatial complexity The book analyses how these figures have been employed at different times and in different creative disciplines beyond architecture and in relation to changing notions of space and traces the role that they have played in the shift towards the dynamic that has taken place in contemporary theory and design research What emerges is the idea of an architecture of the city that is not only physical but is largely defined by the way in which its physical spaces are regulated lived and perceived but also imagined and projected

Mapping England Simon Foxell,2008 Mapping England brings to light the ways in which ideas about and around England have changed since the very first attempts at mapping the land Charting the nation has helped to define what England is and what it could be developing and maintaining an identity distinct from the nations of Great Britain whilst relating that identity to the British Isles as a whole Through a series of compelling and revealing maps Mapping England illustrates how the country has scrutinised itself and been scrutinised by others all the while recording the ever changing circumstances that have carved out the notion of England as we know it today Organised thematically Mapping England encompasses some of the most important documents in the history of charting the country From maps designed to defend the realm to those recording topographical and geological features to those assisting in transport across the country Mapping England presents a number of creative and compelling interpretations of the country Work from cartographers military strategists government officials and fine artists culminate in a complete look at where mapping England originated and the ways it has evolved over the years in response to changing notions of nationhood security and cultural identity Author Simon Foxell unpicks the historical and political references alive in these fascinating maps telling the story of how England has represented itself in graphic form across different moments in time and through different socio political climates
