Nolan, 2006-04-30 The Age of Wars of Religion saw navies armies armed merchant companies and mercenaries battle one another and local potentates in many lands and along numerous shores Wars of religion were fought in and between all the major religions and civilizations from Europe to China in Africa and in the isolated Americas mixing motives of knightly idealism mercenary greed and competing claims of divine sanction This unparalleled work traces the extraordinary upheavals of the period in military technology competing theologies and civilizational change that were brought about by or impinged upon military conflict It offers nearly 2 000 discrete but cross referenced entries on cultural military religious and political history as well as geography biography and military literature Close to 2 000 entries offer detailed information on the major events places battles figures technologies and ideas one must know to begin to make sense of the past six centuries of global conflicts Though especially ferocious and intense the Wars of Reformation and Counter Reformation fought by Europeans from the 15th through 17th centuries were hardly unique in world or military history. The Byzantine Empire bastion of Christian Orthodoxy staggered to the tortuous end of its long conflict with the Ottoman Empire the Great Power of the Sunni Muslim world The Ottomans in turn were still engaged in an equally ancient intra Muslim war between Sunnis and Shi ites In India the Hindu Rajputs and Marathas and also the Sikhs organized armies around religious communities to throw off the Muslim Yoke Mughul Empire and also fought against Christian invaders from Europe As for the isolated Americas ideas of divine kingship sustained by powerful priesthoods and religious warfare also prevailed as exemplified by the Inca and Aztec Süleyman the Magnificent and His Age I. gifts When the Safavid dynasty founded in 1501 built a state that championed Iranian identity and Twelver Shi ism it prompted the more established Ottoman Empire to align itself definitively with Sunni legalism The political religious and military conflicts that arose have since been widely studied but little attention has been paid to their diplomatic relationship Sinem Arcak Casale here sets out to explore these two major Muslim empires through a surprising lens gifts Countless treasures such as intricate carpets gilded silver cups and ivory tusk knives flowed from the Safavid to the Ottoman Empire throughout the sixteenth century While only a handful now survive records of these gifts exist in court chronicles treasury records poems epistolary documents ambassadorial reports and travel narratives Tracing this elaborate archive Casale treats gifts as representative of the complicated Ottoman Safavid coexistence demonstrating how their rivalry was shaped as much by culture and aesthetics as it was by religious or military conflict Gifts in the Age of Empire explores how gifts were no mere accessories to diplomacy but functioned as a mechanism of competitive interaction between these early modern Muslim Islamic Visual Culture, 1100-1800 Oleg Grabar, 2024-08-01 Islamic Visual Culture 1100 1800 is the second in a set of four volumes of studies on Islamic art by Oleg Grabar Between them they bring together more than eighty articles studies and essays work spanning half a century by a master of the field Each volume takes a particular section of the topic the three other volumes being entitled Early Islamic Art 650 1100 Islamic Art and Beyond and Jerusalem Reflecting the many incidents of a long academic life they illustrate one scholar's attempt at making order and sense of 1400 years of artistic growth They deal with architecture painting objects iconography theories of art aesthetics and ornament and they seek to integrate our knowledge of Islamic art with Islamic culture and history as well as with the global concerns of the History of Art In addition to the articles selected each volume contains an introduction which describes often in highly personal ways the context in which Grabar's scholarship developed and the people who directed and mentored his efforts The focus of the present volume is on the key centuries the eleventh through fourteenth during which the main directions of traditional Islamic art were created and developed and for which classical approaches of the History of Art were adopted Manuscript illustrations and the arts of objects dominate the selection of articles but there are also forays into later times like Mughal India and into definitions of area and period styles as with the Mamluks in Egypt and the Ottomans or into parallels between Islamic and Christian medieval arts "The Turk and Islam in the Western Eye, 1450?750" James G. Harper, 2017-07-05 Unprecedented in its range extending from Venice to the New World and from the Holy Roman Empire to the Ottoman Empire this collection probes the place that the Ottoman Turks occupied in the Western imaginaire and the ways in which this occupation expressed itself in the visual arts Individual essays in this volume examine specific images or groups of images problematizing the truths they present and analyzing the contexts that shape the presentation of Ottoman or Islamic subject matter in European art The contributors trace the transmission of early modern images and representations across national boundaries and across centuries to show how through processes of translation that often involved multiple stages the figure of the Turk and by extension that of the Muslim underwent a multiplicity of interpretations that reflect and reveal Western needs anxieties and agendas The essays reveal how anachronisms and inaccuracies mingled with careful detail to produce a Turk a figure which became a presence to reckon with in painting sculpture tapestry and printmaking
