From the Introduction The present essay provides an introduction to the treatment of human existence and individuality in Marxist thought The work will be primarily concerned with two related topics the evaluation by Marxists of individual emancipation and their assessment of subjective factors in social theory By taking up these taking up these topics within a systematic and historical framework I hope to generate some fresh light on several familiar issues First I pursue a reading of Marx focused on his treatment of subjectivity individuation and related methodological and practical matters second I apply this interpretation to analyzing the dispute between Marxist orthodoxy and heterodoxy over such matters as class consciousness and the philosophy of materialism finally I employ this historical context to clarify the significance of existential Marxism Maurice Merleau Ponty's and Jean Paul Sartre's contribution to Marxist thought This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1979

From the Introduction The present essay provides an introduction to the treatment of human existence and individuality in Marxist thought The work will be primarily concerned with two related topics the evaluation by Marxists of individual emancipation      The Blackwell Dictionary of Western Philosophy Nicholas Bunnin, Jiyuan Yu, 2009-01-27 The Blackwell Dictionary of Western Philosophy The Blackwell Dictionary of Western Philosophy The style is fresh and engaging and it gives a broad and accurate picture of the western philosophical tradition It is a pleasure to browse in even if one is not looking for an answer to a particular question David Pears Its entries manage to avoid the obscurities of an exaggerated brevity without stretching themselves out as if seeking to embody whole miniature essays In short it presents itself as a model of clarity and clarification Alan Montefiore      Mirrors of Madness Bruce Luske, 2017-09-29 Mirrors of Madness depicts the social psychological processes and institutional consequences of psychiatric staffs experience of closet insanity private worries about their own social and psychological competence and reverse role modeling identification with their labeled psychotic clients public behavior The book shows how in attempting to ward off the threat involved in these processes staffs tend to be more vigilant of their own behavior while redirecting their insecurities toward their clients in the form of derogatory humor in psychiatric evaluations These and other activities are shown to be inhibiting factors in the rehabilitative function of social control agencies      Anthropology Stanley Diamond, 2011-06-03 No detailed description available for Anthropology      How Film Histories Were Made Malte Hagener, Yvonne Zimmermann, 2025-10-01 This book is specifically dedicated to film history's own history. It provides insights into the fabrication of film histories and the discourses on their materials and methods in the past in order to better understand and reconsider film history today. The interventions unpack unspoken assumptions and hidden agendas that determine film historiography until today, also with the aim to act as a critical reflection on the potential future orientation of the field. The edited volume proposes a transnational, entangled, and culturally diverse approach towards an archaeology of film history while paying specific attention to persons, objects, infrastructures, regions, institutional fields, and events hitherto overlooked. It explores past and ongoing processes of doing, undoing, and redoing film history. Thereby, in a self-reflective gesture, it also draws attention to our own work as film historians.

The Uncertain Sciences Bruce Mazlish, 2017-07-28 This sweeping inquiry into the present condition of the human sciences addresses the central questions: What sort of knowledge do the human sciences claim to be offering? To what extent can that knowledge be called scientific? and What do we mean by scientific in such a context? In this wide-ranging book, one of the most esteemed cultural historians of our time turns his attention to major questions about human experience and various attempts to understand it scientifically. Mazlish considers the achievements, failings, and possibilities of the human sciences, a domain that he broadly defines to include the social sciences, literature, psychology, and hermeneutic studies. In a rich and original synthesis built upon the work of earlier philosophers and historians, Mazlish constructs a new view of the nature and meaning of the human sciences. Starting with the remote human past and moving through the Age of Discovery to the present day, Mazlish discusses the sort of knowledge the human sciences claim to offer. He looks closely at the positivistic aspirations of the human sciences, which are modeled after the natural sciences, and at their interpretive tendencies. In an analysis of scientific method and scientific community, he explores the roles they can or should assume in the human sciences. His approach is genuinely interdisciplinary, drawing upon an array of topics from civil society to globalization to the interactions of humans and machines.

The Rhetoric of Empiricism Jules David Law, 1993 Empiricism favors the visual over the verbal, the literal over the rhetorical, the static over the temporal. This is the standard charge leveled by literary theorists and writers. It is Jules David Law who demonstrates remarkably misguided. His ambitious and challenging book explores the interplay of language and visual perception at the heart of empiricism. A re-evaluation of the British empiricist tradition from the perspective of contemporary literary theory, it also offers a sustained challenge to theory itself. In failing to grasp the issues confronting early empiricist writers or to be fully aware of their rhetorical strategies, Law says theory has defined itself needlessly in opposition to empiricism. The Spirit of Socialism Joseph Kellner, 2025-06-15 The Spirit of Socialism is a cultural history of the Soviet collapse. It examines the millions of Soviet people who, during the cascading crises of the collapse and the post-Soviet transition, embarked on a spirited and highly visible search for new meaning. Amid profound disorientation, these seekers found direction in their horoscopes or behind gurus in saffron robes or apocalyptic preachers or by turning from the most basic premises of official science and history to orient themselves anew The beliefs they seized on and even more the questions that guided their search reveal the essence of late Soviet culture and its legacy in post Soviet Russia To skeptical outsiders the seekers appeared eccentric deviant and above all un Soviet Yet they came to their ideas by Soviet sources and Soviet premises As Joseph Kellner demonstrates their motley beliefs reflect modern values that formed the spiritual core of Soviet ideology among them a high regard for science an informed and generous internationalism and a confidence in humanity to chart its own course Soviet ideology failed however to unite these values in an overarching vision that could withstand historical change And so as The Spirit of Socialism shows the seekers asked questions raised but not resolved by the Russian Revolution and subsequent Soviet order questions of epistemic authority of cultural identity and of history's ultimate meaning Although the Soviet collapse was not the end of history it was a rupture of epochal significance whose fissures extend into our own uncertain era Auguste

Comte: Volume 1 Mary Pickering, 1993-11-26 The first volume of a two volume intellectual biography of Auguste Comte the founder of modern sociology and positivism Questions on Wittgenstein (Routledge Revivals) Rudolf

Haller, 2014-05-01 Wittgenstein possibly the most influential philosopher of the twentieth century is often labelled a Neopositivist a New Kantian even a Sceptic Questions on Wittgenstein first published in 1988 presents a selection of nine essays investigating a matter of vital philosophical importance Wittgenstein's relationship to his Austrian predecessors and peers The intention throughout is to determine the precise contours of Wittgenstein's own thought by situating it within its formative context Although it remains of particular interest to Anglo Saxon philosophers special familiarity with Austrian philosophy is required to appreciate the subtle and profound influence which this cultural and philosophical setting had on Wittgenstein's intellectual development Professor Haller has spent his career exploring these themes and is one of the foremost authorities on both Wittgenstein and contemporary Austrian philosophy Questions on Wittgenstein thus offers a unique insight into the twentieth century tradition of Austrian philosophy and its importance for Wittgenstein's thought

The Politics of Truth and Other Untimely Essays Ellis Sandoz, 1999 This volume explores the historical and theoretical underpinnings of personal liberty and free government and provides an analysis of the crisis of civic consciousness endangering both International Relations Theories Timothy Dunne, Milja Kurki, Steve Smith, 2013-01-03 Drawing on a wealth of expertise from an international team of contributors the second edition of International Relations Theories presents a diverse selection of theoretical positions Arguing that theory is central to explaining the dynamics of world politics editors Tim Dunne Milja Kurki and Steve Smith cover a wide variety of theoretical positions from the historically dominant traditions to powerful critical voices since the 1980s The editors have brought together a team of international contributors each specializing in a different theory The contributors explain the theoretical background to their positions before showing how and why their theories matter The book opens up space for analysis and debate allowing students to decide which theories they find most useful in explaining and understanding international relations      After Parmenides Tom Rockmore, 2021-10-07 Engages with one of the oldest philosophical problems the relationship between thought and being and offers a fresh perspective with which to approach the long history of this puzzle In After Parmenides Tom Rockmore takes us all the way back to the beginning of Western philosophy when Parmenides asserted that thought and being are the same This idea created a division between what the mind constructs as knowable entities and the idea that there is also a mind independent real which we can know or fail to know Rockmore argues that we need to give up on the idea of knowing the real as it is and instead focus on the objects of cognition that our mind constructs Though we cannot know mind independent objects as they really are we can and do know objects as they appear to us After Parmenides charts the continual engagement with these ideas of the real and the knowable throughout philosophical history from Plato and Aristotle to Descartes Kant Fichte Hegel Schopenhauer Marx and others This ambitious book shows how new connections can be made in the history of philosophy when it is reread through a new lens      Historical Turns Nicholas Baer, 2024-07-30 Historical Turns reassesses Weimar cinema in light of the crisis of historicism widely diagnosed by German philosophers in the early twentieth century Through bold new analyses of five legendary works of German silent cinema The Cabinet of Dr Caligari Destiny Rhythm 21 The Holy Mountain and Metropolis Nicholas Baer argues that films of the Weimar Republic lent vivid expression to the crisis of historical thinking With their experiments in cinematic form and style these modernist films revealed the capacity of the medium to engage with fundamental questions about the philosophy of history Reconstructing the debates over historicism that unfolded during the initial decades of moving image culture Historical Turns proposes a more reflexive mode of historiography and expands the field of film and media philosophy The book excavates a rich archive of ideas that illuminate our own moment of rapid media transformation and political economic and environmental crises around the globe      There is a Garden in the Mind Paul A. Lee, 2013 A recount of the serendipitous meeting with English gardener Alan Chadwick in Santa Cruz in the 1960s and the work that developed the UC Santa Cruz Chadwick Garden the first organic and biointensive garden at a U S university
