The Of Shai:

The Monthly Magazine ,1817 Acts of the Seventh International Conference of Demotic Studies Kim Ryholt,2002
This book contains contributions from K T Zauzich H S Smith B Porten U Kaplony Heckel R K Ritner S Allam M Chauveau and D Devauchelle The Migrant Cocoa-farmers of Southern Ghana Polly Hill,1997 The economic and social organisation of Ghanaian cocoa farming is very complex reflecting differences in population density land tenure accessibility soil fertility and other factors The small peasant with his two or three acre farms is one type of farmer and it has always been supposed that it was he who created the world s largest cocoa growing industry The migration of southern Ghanaian cocoa farmers which has been proceeding since the 1890s was not known to have occurred and this study shows that it was the migrant not the peasant who was the real innovator This migrant has scarcely been mentioned in the literature Author Polly Hill now gives a full account of his migration one of the great events in the recent economic history of Africa south of the Sahara The migrant farmer who rather resembles a capitalist than a peasant buys land or inherits it from those who bought before him and conventionally uses the proceeds from one cocoa land to purchase others It is now possible with the aid of farm maps to study the whole migratory process with its changing pattern of land ownership over more than half a century The results are revealing The conventional notion that it was only recently that West Africans began to engage in large scale economic enterprises is shown to be false One of the main contentions of this book is that the migrant farmer has been remarkably responsive to economic ends It is further shown that there is no incompatibility between this kind of enterprise and the continuance of traditional forms of social organisation nor is there evidence that the enterprising individual found himself hampered by the demands made on him by members of his lineage In analysing and recording the details of the migratory process Dr Hill has made an important contribution to the economic history of West Africa Besides the economists and economic historians for whom the book is primarily intended it should be studied by lawyers geographers social anthropologists and all concerned with problems of underdevelopment A Philosophical and Mathematical Dictionary Containing...
