The Environment As I See It Science Is Not Enough:

We Don't Get It! Frank Regan, 2005-09-21 Environmental collapse I hold is going to be the result of our present collective attitudes Regardless of what we believe only when humanity gets an accurate model of reality can we have a sustainable future We Don't Get It uses a collection of short essays that get to the heart of this major dilemma My purpose in writing this book is to clarify some of the most compelling reasons for protecting our environment and to challenge some of our deepest assumptions about our way of life and its effect on our environment in a way that most authors on this subject have not The intended audience for this book is the public as well as both the politicians and the scientists responsible for environmental policy It is a thoughtful examination of our wholesale relationship to our environment and our seeming lack of respect for its absolute primacy Designed to be easily read piecemeal by both the professional and the public I believe this book by its unique and frank approach will appeal to any one who cares about our future The Environment Bruce Wallace, 1998 S. 159, a Bill to Elevate the Environmental Protection Agency to a Cabinet-level Department United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Governmental Affairs, 2002 Review of the National Academy of Science Report United States. Congress. House. Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries. Subcommittee on Panama Canal/Outer Continental Shelf, 1990 Shades of Green Alan Frizzell, 1997-05-15 Is there a real community of interest on the state of the environment that transcends national boundaries An answer to this vital question will ultimately determine the success or failure of initiatives where international co operation and co ordination are essential such as atmospheric or water pollution controls Shades of Green volume two of the ISSP International Social Survey Programme series analyzes data from identical surveys conducted in 22 countries and tackles a wide range of attitudes and priorities Expectations of government in terms of environmental protection a comparison of Canada U S results the level of knowledge on environmental issues from country to country the perceived role for science in solving ecological problems and attitudinal differences between the West and states of the former Soviet Union these issues have serious implications for the environmental movement and government policies worldwide Investigating the oceans Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Science and Technology Committee, Great Britain.
