Language, Culture, Art and Politics in the Changing World Muhlise COŞGUN ÖGEYİK, Kutay UZUN, 2024-02-20 Life in the 21st century has already been marked by a changing world in many aspects The Internet has reached virtually the whole world neoliberal marketing policies have become more aggressive than ever and alternative economies such as cryptocurrencies have emerged within the first quarter of this century Adding to the equation the ever increasing population of the world and the much increased connectedness of its residents novel definitions of what have already been known have emerged reflecting the changing life in our time The changes to life as observed in our century has also made it explicit that the concepts we tend to define continually are far from being stable and static Instead the current status of the world we live in prove time and again that those changes are instable dynamic non linear and coadaptive signifying the difficulty of achieving predictability In a world that is best defined as dynamic and unpredictable management becomes a key term for the harmony in life that every person tends to strive for Efficiency in managing harmony among people cities industries politics education arts organizations or countries stands out as the utmost necessity regardless of the context one might be in Without the endeavor to manage efficiently the harmony that we all look for would become even more difficult to achieve Such a harmony through efficient management perhaps naturally necessitates the coadaptation of academic disciplines just as it does the same in other fields in life For this reason multidisciplinary academic studies are now more important than ever because the instable non linear and dynamic nature of life and its changes are highly unlikely to be explained by a single discipline in isolation The efficient management of the planet earth undoubtedly requires the efficient coexistence of societies industries education politics and countries All those structures forming human life in the world should coexist and academic studies are no exception to ensure a proper scientific understanding of the worldly phenomena In that respect this book aims to present multidisciplinary perspectives in respect of the management of the societies politics arts industries international relations and education We hope that the chapters within distinguished works of the mentioned disciplines will inform the readers regarding the interplay among various branches of science and contribute to the knowledge base of the world regarding language culture arts and politics in an ever changing world

Rudel,2023-09-05 Forests offer a natural solution to the climate crisis Conserving and expanding them not only removes carbon from the atmosphere but also protects and fosters biodiversity Yet the results of elite driven reforestation initiatives have been disappointing and in many world regions deforestation continues relentlessly Thomas K Rudel examines a wide range of conservation and reforestation efforts to shed new light on the social factors that lead to success He details effective coalition building strategies and organizational models that have protected restored and expanded forests around the world Rudel argues that successful reforestation projects bring together diverse groups of people with a stake in the land and a commitment to collective decision making They give voice to different economic and social interests including small farmers Indigenous peoples loggers ranchers government officials NGO personnel international donors and climate activists These varied coalition members each make commitments to promote forests Farmers limit the extent of lands under cultivation governments protect land tenure for smallholders and wealthy donors make payments for environmental protections Timely and accessible Reforesting the Earth offers a guide to scaling up local efforts to sequester carbon and makes a powerful case for a global reforestation movement
