The Perception And Evocation Of Literature:

The Perception and Evocation of Literature Leland H. Roloff, 1973 African Cultural Production and the Rhetoric of Humanism Jean-Blaise Samou, Lifongo J. Vetinde, 2019-11-29 A broad range of cultural works produced in traditional and modern African communities shows a fundamental preoccupation with the concepts of communal solidarity and hospitality in societies driven by humanistic ideals African Cultural Production and the Rhetoric of Humanism is an inaugural attempt to focus exclusively and extensively on the question of humanism in African art and culture This collection brings together scholars from different disciplines who deftly examine the deployment of various forms of artistic production such as oral and written literatures paintings and cartoons to articulate an Afrocentric humanist discourse The contributors argue that the artists in their representation of civil wars massive corruption poverty abuse of human rights and other dehumanizing features of post independence Africa call for a return to the traditional African vision of humanism that is relentlessly being eroded by the realities of postcolonial nationhood Handbook of Research on Teaching Literacy Through the Communicative and Visual Arts James Flood, Diane Lapp, Shirley Brice Heath, 2004-09-22 In an era characterized by the rapid evolution of the concept of literacy the Handbook of Research on Teaching Literacy Through the Communicative and Visual Arts focuses on multiple ways in which learners gain access to knowledge and skills The handbook explores the possibilities of broadening current conceptualizations of literacy to include the full array of the communicative arts reading writing speaking listening viewing and to focus on the visual arts of drama dance film art video and computer technology The communicative and visual arts encompass everything from novels and theatrical performances to movies and video games In today's world new methods for transmitting information have been developed that include music graphics sound effects smells and animations While these methods have been used by television shows and multimedia products they often represent an unexplored resource in the field of education By broadening our uses of these media formats and genres a greater number of students will be motivated to see themselves as learners In 64 chapters organized in seven sections teachers and other leading authorities in the field of literacy provide direction for the future I Theoretical Bases for Communicative and Visual Arts Teaching Paul Messaris Section Editor II Methods of Inquiry in Communicative and Visual Arts Teaching Donna Alvermann Section Editor III Research on Language Learners in Families Communities and Classrooms Vicki Chou Section Editor IV Research on Language Teachers Conditions and Contexts Dorothy Strickland Section Editor V Expanding Instructional Environments Teaching Learning and Assessing the Communicative and Visual Arts Nancy Roser Section Editor VI Research Perspectives on the Curricular Extracurricular and Policy Perspectives James Squire Section Editor VII Voices from the Field Bernice Cullinan and Lee Galda Section Editors The International Reading Association has compiled in the Handbook of Research on Teaching Literacy Through the Communicative and Visual Arts an indispensable set of papers for educators that will enable them to conceptualize literacy in much broader contexts than ever before The

Oral-Scribal Dimensions of Scripture, Piety, and Practice Werner H. Kelber, Paula A. Sanders, 2016-09-30

In April 2008 a conference was convened at Rice University that brought together experts in the three monotheistic religions of Judaism Christianity and Islam The papers discussed at the conference are presented here revised and updated The thirteen contributions comprise the keynote address by John Miles Foley three essays on Judaism and the Hebrew Bible three on the New Testament three on the Qur'an and two summarizing pieces by the Africanist Ruth Finnegan and the Islamicist William Graham respectively The central thesis of the book states that sacred Scripture was experienced by the three faiths less as a text contained between two covers and a literary genre and far more as an oral phenomenon In developing the performative recitative aspects of the three religions the authors directly or by implication challenge their distinctly textual identities Instead of viewing the three faiths as quintessential religions of the book these writers argue that the religions have been and continue to be appropriated not only as written but also very much as oral authorities with the two media interpenetrating and mutually influencing each other in myriad ways

Distance in Preaching Michael Brothers, 2014-09-22 Based on several years of teaching and careful observation in preaching classes this book by Michael Brothers explores the benefits of distance in preaching and listening to sermons Having noticed that sermon listeners generally want to be given room for their own interpretations and experiences Brothers argues that critical and aesthetic distance as a hermeneutical tool is vital to hearing the gospel today and should be intentionally employed in sermon construction and delivery He explains this distance in the field of homiletics equips teachers and students of preaching to evaluate the function of distance in sermons and encourages preachers to practice the use of distance in their preaching

The Word's Body Alla Renée Bozarth, 1979 Russian Literature and Its Demons Pamela

Davidson, 2000 Merezhkovsky's bold claim that all Russian literature is to a certain degree a struggle with the temptation of demonism is undoubtedly justified. And yet despite its evident centrality to Russian culture the unique and fascinating phenomenon of Russian literary demonism has so far received little critical attention. This substantial collection fills the gap. A comprehensive analytical introduction by the editor is followed by a series of fourteen essays written by eminent scholars in their fields. The first part explores the main shaping contexts of literary demonism: the Russian Orthodox and folk tradition, the demonization of historical figures and views of art as intrinsically demonic. The second part traces the development of a literary tradition of demonism in the works of authors ranging from Pushkin and Lermontov, Gogol and Dostoevsky through to the poets and prose writers of modernism including Blok, Akhmatova, Bely, Sologub, Rozanov, Zamiatin and through to the end of the 20th century.
