Jewish writing in German was almost unimaginable and then only in reference to the Shoah. Only in the 1980s after a period of mourning silence and processing of the trauma did a new Jewish literature evolve in Germany and Austria. This volume focuses on the re emergence of a lively Jewish cultural scene in the German speaking countries and the various cultural forms of expression that have developed around it. Topics include current debates such as the emergence of a post Waldheim Jewish discourse in Austria and Jewish responses to German unification and the Gulf wars. Other significant themes addressed are the memorialization of the Holocaust in Berlin and Vienna, the uses of Kafka in contemporary German literature and the German and American Jewish dialogue as representative of both the history of exile and the globalization of postmodern civilization. The volume is enhanced by contributions from some of the most significant representatives of German Jewish writing today such as Esther Dischereit, Barbara Honigmann, Jeanette Lander and Doron Rabinovici. The result is a lively dialogue between European and North American scholars and writers that captures the complexity and dynamism of Jewish culture in Germany and Austria at the turn of the twenty first century.

The Jewish Messiahs : From the Galilee to Crown Heights Harris Lenowitz, Professor of Hebrew in the Department of Languages and Literature and the Middle East Center, University of Utah, 1998-10-23. In this book Harris Lenowitz explores the fascinating history of Jewish messianic movements. Looking in detail at all of the Jewish messiahs about whom anything is known, he introduces each of these figures in turn and offers extensive excerpts of the original texts that tell their stories. The messiahs whom we meet in these pages range from the inspiring to the tragic and bizarre. By examining the messianic idea in the tradition which gave birth to it, Lenowitz both sheds new light on this engrossing aspect of Jewish history and provides a firmer basis for understanding contemporary messianic groups.

A Breath of Life Sylvia Barack Fishman, 1995. A vigorous portrayal of the effects of a distinct form of feminism on the spiritual and secular lives of Jewish women.
