American Art in the 20th Century Brooks Adams, 1993

Latin American Art at The Museum of Modern Art Miriam M. Basilio Gaztambide, 2025-06-13. This book sheds light on an as yet unstudied aspect of The Museum of Modern Art's MoMA preeminent role in establishing the definition of the problematic term Latin American art in the United States from the 1930s to the present through its collection displays. In examining the shifting categorization of Latin American works according to stylistic and geographic taxonomies, we gain a greater understanding of the organization of the Museum's collections as a whole during the 1940s and 1950s. This book is the first to document these institutional precedents crucial for the understanding of the articulation of a Modernist canon and its contested legacy today. The MoMA is widely recognized as the preeminent institution that defined 20th-century art through its collection, shaping our understandings of the history of art with its hierarchies and exclusions as they sediment over time. MoMA's holdings of art from Latin America shed light on a key period when the stylistic categories that have since come to be accepted by many today as the Modernist canon developed. MoMA's collection displays suggest ways in which artists from areas of the world formerly excluded can be incorporated within today's increasingly global museums. MoMA's approach may be compared to initiatives adopted by several museums since the 2000s, creating geographically defined curatorial positions as a way to redress gaps in collecting art from Latin America and other areas of the world. In this book, author Miriam M. Basilio Gaztambide offers a closer study of the history of collection displays as a means to understand canon formation in modern art museums. This work will be of interest to those researching Latin American modern and contemporary art and curatorial and museum studies.

A Fire in His Soul Miles J. Unger, 2025-03-04. The fascinating story of Vincent van Gogh's two groundbreaking years in Paris, where he transformed himself from a provincial unknown into one of the world's great visionary artists. Vincent Van Gogh arrived in the French capital on the last day of February 1886, a month short of his thirty-third birthday. He was a man beaten down by life, half-starved and nearly broken psychologically. He was saved by his brother Theo, who provided him with room, board, and most crucially, emotional support while he attempted to master the difficult craft of painting. Thus far, Vincent's crude scenes of peasant life, rendered in murky shades of brown and gray, were both hackneyed and amateurish. Theo, a successful art dealer at a prestigious Parisian firm dismissed them as gloomy unappealing and worst of all unmarketable By the time Vincent left Paris almost exactly two years later he d transformed himself into one of the most original artists of the age turning out works of hallucinatory intensity in vivid hues and stamped with his own distinctive personality A Fire in His Soul chronicles this remarkable transformation It s a tale filled with tragedy and triumph personal anguish and creative fulfillment as Vincent through sheer force of will reinvents himself as a painter of unparalleled expressive power Along the way the reader will discover an unfamiliar Van Gogh not the solitary genius of the popular imagination shunned by an uncomprehending world and conjuring masterpieces from the depths of his lonely soul In Paris he was at the center of a community of like minded seekers Here Van Gogh was able to engage in a lively dialogue with fellow artists almost as daring as he was expanding his notion of what art could and should be It was in the cafes and studios of Montmartre and in the grand galleries of the Louvre and Luxembourg that Van Gogh received his artistic education a crash course that at first disoriented him but ultimately sparked his creative breakthrough Working alongside such legendary figures as Gauguin Toulouse Lautrec Seurat and Signac he found his voice and launched an artistic revolution
