My Mother's Poetry, Writings and Musings Shirley Williams-Kirksey Ph.D., 2018-03-09 This is a book for all seasons that describes a mother's love of human nature and God's creatures sometimes humorously and other times philosophically intuitively to encourage the readers to empathize and think quietly about a place or people often not seen.

Letters to and from a Christian Mother and More Silas Dobbs McCaslin, 2011-10-10 Ethics, morals, and society in general have been spiraling downward for more than 50 years. Life simply was different up through the 1940s and the decade that followed. Christian thought today is discredited on the university campus and traditional Christian piety now is viewed by the majority of the public as old-fashioned. Postmodernism has become entrenched. In Christian circles the question often is asked: How does the unbeliever cope? As believing Christians we know that the Word of God provides all of the answers. Perhaps LETTERS TO AND FROM A CHRISTIAN MOTHER AND MORE will be of some assistance to both the believer and the unbeliever who as the parent of a young child or children or of young adult children must advise and counsel that child as they navigate through their religious, social, and academic decisions. Dr. Terry L. Johnson stated that the letters are remarkable and show clearly what a devout and accomplished woman your mother was. They are wise and devotionally rich and may deserve a wider readership. From the Preface Dr. Johnson continued: Their literary quality was outstanding. More importantly, they were filled with sound, shrewd, bold Biblical counsel for her boys, particularly in the years between the beginning of college and the birth of Si and Suzanne's first child. Carey I wanted to read more and became convinced that others, particularly parents, could benefit from hearing the strong counsel of a Christian mother to her beloved sons. From the Foreword.

Affect, Psychoanalysis, and American Poetry John Steen, 2018-07-12 Poetry has often been defined by its closure, its condensation of meaning and value into discrete self-referential textual objects. Affect, Psychoanalysis, and American Poetry challenges the dominant metaphor of poetic containers by turning to recent poetic texts that represent the contagious and uncontainable feelings of anxiety, grief, shame, and rage. From modernists Wallace Stevens to mid-century poets Randall Jarrell, Robert Creeley, and Ted Berrigan, and finally to contemporary practitioners Aaron Kunin and Claudia Rankine, John Steen argues that new poetic techniques arise from the poetic productivity of negative affects and that a new model of poetic value can be found in poems that are instead of containers, permeable social spaces of intimacy, attachment, and withdrawal. Drawing from object relations, psychoanalysis, queer theory, and affect theory, Affect, Psychoanalysis, and American Poetry finds poetry's singularity in its unique capacity to represent anew the transmissible relational and uncontainable valences of feeling that structure and destabilize social life.
