Rhetoric in Human Rights Advocacy Richard K. Ghore, 2015-04-22 This book examines the rhetoric of various exemplars who advocate for causes and actions pertaining to human rights in particular contexts Although some of these exemplars champion human rights others are human rights antagonists Simply put the argument here is that concern for how particular individuals advocate for human rights causes as well as how antagonists obstruct such initiatives adds significant value to understanding the successes and failures of human rights efforts in particular cultural and national contexts On one hand we can grasp how specific international organizations and actors function to develop norms for example the rights of the child and how rights are subsequently articulated in universal declarations and formal codes But on the other it becomes apparent that the actual meaning of those rights mutate when accepted within particular cultures A complementary facet of this argument relates to the centrality of rhetoric in observing how rights advocates function in practice specifically rhetoric focuses upon the art of argumentation and the various strategies and techniques enlisted therein In that much of the reality surrounding human rights from the standpoints of advocates and antagonists alike is fundamentally interpretive rhetorical or argumentative skill is of vital importance for advocates as competent pragma dialecticians in presenting the case that a rights ideal can enhance life in a culture predisposed to reject that ideal This book includes case studies focusing on the rhetoric of the following individuals or groups as either human rights advocates or antagonists Mary B Anderson Rwandan hate radio broadcasters politicians and military officials connected with the Kent State University and Tiananmen Square student protest tragedies Iqbal Masih Pussy Riot Lyndon Johnson Julian Assange Geert Wilders Daniel Barenboim Joe Arpaio and Lucius Banda Teaching Ethics and Values in Public Administration Programs James S. Stazyk, H. George Frederickson, 2018-10-26 Currently public administration as art and science ponders a challenging and uncertain future Thus no better time exists to take stock and ponder the practical and theoretical value of its topical coverage to date Stazyk and Frederickson have assembled an eclectic and impressive group of senior and junior scholars to join them in this intellectual exercise Collectively the contributors offer a stiletto like dissection of where and how the field's energy has been expended what knowledge it has produced what its limitations are and where future energies might best be expended Kudos to all Robert F Durant American University US This forward thinking Handbook draws on the expertise of established and emerging scholars to provide a comprehensive review of the current state and future direction of theory and practice in US public administration Chapters offer a cross disciplinary holistic review of the field pulling together leaders from subfields such as public administration public and nonprofit management finance human resource management networks nonprofits policy and politics Chapter authors conclude that the field is intellectually rich and highly nuanced but also identify numerous opportunities for growth and expansion in the coming years The Handbook charts an agenda for future research in the field The Handbook of American Public Administration is geared toward academics researchers and advanced graduate students As an authoritative text on the history and state of US public administration it proves equally suitable for national and international audiences Practitioners who may be looking for background information or state of the art knowledge about practice will also benefit from this Handbook Contributors include G Arnold G A Brewer B J Cook R S Davis L DeHart Davis M D Farnworth P S Federman S Fernandez H G Frederickson H Getha Taylor R K Ghore D Hatmaker K Hendren C J

Counties as Service Delivery Agents J. Edwin Benton, 2002-07-30 Counties generally fulfill three service roles traditional or state mandated local or municipal and regional or urban Benton has written the first scholarly treatment of county governments as providers of all three of these types of services dispelling the notion that counties are mere providers of services they are mandated to perform by their state governments County governments in the United States have become increasingly important as service providers over the past several decades vis a vis municipalities and townships These services change over time and vary from region to region Variations in the roles that county governments play in the provision of traditional local and regional service are explained Therefore in addition to examining multiple indicators of service roles for all 3 043 counties in the United States the analysis is extended to investigate the influence of political state constitutions statutes and financial aid population growth patterns metropolitan non metropolitan status and form of government
