Arthur Schlesinger Jr. Notes for a New Mind William Dell, 2005. What is known about the split brain is reviewed in a historical context as a paradigm for a new mind. The poetry of William Wordsworth is examined as a precursor to this mentality. The possibility of a new mind and its new myth, the deconstruction emerging from the split brain in the modern world, is set forth. The last issue of consciousness perhaps is not the resolution of duality but is the multiform periphery. The question is: am I more than my brain?

Death Valley Discovery Gary Morris, 2019-12-10. At 4:12 a.m. on August 27, 1983, Gary Morris began a nonstop run from Badwater at 283 feet below sea level in Death Valley. At seventy-eight hours and thirty-six minutes later, he reached the top of Mt. Whitney, 14,495 feet above sea level, the fourth person in history to do so. At mile 118, his crew shared the following inspiring poem. On December nights when the rain we needed months ago is still far off and the wind gropes through the desert in search of any tree to hold it, those who live here all year round listen to the irresistible voice of loneliness and want only to be left alone. Local knowledge is to live in a place and know the place, however barren. Some kinds of damage provide their own defense, and we who stay in the ruins are secure against enemies and friends. If you should see one of us in the distance as your caravan passes and if he is ragged and gesturing, do not be mistaken. He is not gesturing for rescue; he is shouting, "Go away!" From that moment until today, these words spoke volumes to this lone runner beside an empty road in the desert as he continues his quest for local knowledge to make and share an impact on our environment.
