Legal Order in a Violent World Richard A. Falk, 2019-03-12 Professor Myres S McDougal of the Yale Law School calls this examination of the relation of law and violence in contemporary international society a profound perceptive and eloquent contribution to the most important problem of our time Professor Falk places great emphasis on two distinctive challenges to world order nuclear weapons and civil strife While developing the implication that even the most powerful states are vulnerable to destruction through nuclear attack he also points out that there is no very firm hope that military power can be managed so as to reduce the predominance of the sovereign state in world politics Richard A Falk is Milbank Professor of International Law and Practice Princeton University Published for the Center of International Studies Princeton University Originally published in 1968 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again

Atlantic Crescent Alaina M. Morgan, 2025-06-02

In the period between the twentieth century's two world wars, Black and Muslim people from the United States, South Asia, and the Caribbean collided across an expansive diasporic geography. As these people and their ideas came into contact, they reignited the practice of Islam among people of African descent living in the United States and the Anglophone Caribbean and prompted them to adopt new understandings of their place in the world. As the freedom dreams of these diasporic communities met the realities and limitations of colonialism and race in the Atlantic world, Islam presented new strategies for combating oppression and introduced new allies in the struggle. Envisioning the geography and significance of this encounter within what she calls the Atlantic Crescent, Alaina M. Morgan draws on an expansive archive to show how Black and Muslim people imagined, understood, and acted on their religious and racial identities. Morgan reveals how her subjects' overlapping diasporic encounters with Islam led to varied local adaptation as well as common ground to pursue liberation from racial subjugation and white supremacy.

Russian-Arab Worlds Eileen M. Kane, Masha Kirasirova, Margaret Litvin, 2023

When the Cold War ended, the long history of Russian and then Soviet engagement with Arab countries was largely forgotten, so the dominant role of Vladimir Putin's Russia in the region appeared to come out of nowhere. The thirty-four expertly introduced primary sources in this book recover a complex history of Russian-Arab ties and illuminate some of its most fascinating aspects: Russian Orthodox missionaries in Palestine; Arab communists traveling to the USSR; and more surprising Arabic legal documents written by Russian Muslims, Russian Jewish migrants to Palestine decades before Zionism, and 1940s Armenians repatriated from Arab countries to the USSR.
