J. Hobsbawm, 2000-11 Age of Capital 1848-1875 B Pbp E. J. Hobsbawm, 1988-01-01 Chicago in the Age of Capital John B. Jentz, Richard Schneirov, 2012-04-15 In this sweeping interpretive history of mid nineteenth century Chicago historians John B Jentz and Richard Schneirov boldly trace the evolution of a modern social order Combining a mastery of historical and political detail with a sophisticated theoretical frame Jentz and Schneirov examine the dramatic capitalist transition in Chicago during the critical decades from the 1850s through the 1870s a period that saw the rise of a permanent wage worker class and the formation of an industrial upper class Jentz and Schneirov demonstrate how a new political economy based on wage labor and capital accumulation in manufacturing superseded an older mercantile economy that relied on speculative trading and artisan production The city's leading business interests were unable to stabilize their new system without the participation of the new working class a German and Irish ethnic mix that included radical ideas transplanted from Europe Jentz and Schneirov examine how debates over slave labor were transformed into debates over free labor as the city's wage earning working class developed a distinctive culture and politics The new social movements that arose in this era labor socialism urban populism businessmen's municipal reform Protestant revivalism and women's activism constituted the substance of a new post bellum democratic politics that took shape in the 1860s and 70s When the Depression of 1873 brought increased crime and financial panic Chicago's new upper class developed municipal reform in an attempt to reassert its leadership Setting local detail against a national canvas of partisan ideology and the seismic structural shifts of Reconstruction Chicago in the Age of Capital vividly depicts the upheavals integral to building capitalism Age of Revolution, 1789-1848 Eric J. Hobsbawm, 2000 Between 1789 and 1848 the world was transformed by both the French and Industrial Revolutions creating the modern world as we know it This book traces the transformation brought about in every sphere of European life by these two revolutions The Age Of Extremes Eric Hobsbawm, 2020-02-06 THE AGE OF

EXTREMES is eminent historian Eric Hobsbawm's personal vision of the twentieth century. Remarkable in its scope and breathtaking in its depth of knowledge, this immensely rewarding book reviews the uniquely destructive and creative nature of the troubled twentieth century and makes challenging predictions for the future. Talk on the Wilde Side Ed Cohen, 1993. First Published in 1993. Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis, an informal company. Americana James Dunkerley, 2000-11-17. Dunkerley's majestic and unorthodox look at the Americas of the 1850s from an Atlanticist perspective is a re-appraisal illuminated by court cases of the first steps in American modernity. A Cultural History of Race in the Age of Empire and Nation State Marina B. Mogilner, 2023-06-01. This volume covers the cultural history of race in the long 19th century, the age of empire and nation state, a transformative period during which a modern world had been forged and complex and hierarchical imperial formations were challenged by the emerging national norm. The concept of race emerged as a dominant epistemology in the context of the conflicting entanglement of empire and nation as two alternative but quite compatible forms of social imaginary. It penetrated all spheres of life under the novel conditions of the emerging mass culture and mass society and with the sanction of anthropocentric and positivistic science. Allegedly primeval and parasocial race was seen as a uniquely stable constant in a society in flux amid transforming institutions, economies, and political regimes. But contrary to this perception, there was nothing stable or natural about race. The spread of racializing social and political imagination only reinforced the need for constant renegotiation and readjustment of racial boundaries. Therefore, avoiding any structuralist simplifications, this volume looks at specific imperial, nationalizing, and hybrid contexts framing the semantics and politics of race in the course of the long 19th century. In different parts of the globalizing world, various actors were applying their own notions of race to others and to themselves, embracing it simultaneously as a language of othering and personal subjectivity. Consequently, the cultural history of race as told in this volume unfolds on many levels in multiple loci and in different genres, thus reflecting the qualities of race as an omnipresent and all-embracing discourse of the time.

The First Age of Industrial Globalization Maartje Abbenhuis, Gordon Morrell, 2019-10-17. This book offers an accessible and lively survey of the global history of the age of industrialization and globalization that arose in the wake of the Napoleonic Wars and collapsed in the maelstrom of the First World War. Through a combination of industrialization, technological innovation, and imperial expansion, the industrializing powers of the world helped to create an interconnected global space that left few regions untouched. In ten concise chapters, this book relays the major shifts in global power, economics, and society, outlining the interconnections of global industrial, imperial, and economic change for local and regional experiences, identities, and politics. It finishes with an exposé on the catastrophic impact of the First World War on this global system. The First Age of Industrial Globalization weaves together the histories of industrialization, world economy, imperialism, international law, diplomacy, and war, which historians usually treat as separate developments, and integrates them to offer a new analysis of an era of fundamental historical change. It shows that the revolutionary changes in politics, society, and international affairs experienced in the 19th century were inter connected developments It is essential reading for any student of modern global history

The Age Of Revolution Tom Stammers, Patrick Glen, 2017-07-05 In The Age of Revolution Eric Hobsbawm focuses on the tumultuous late 18th and early 19th centuries He argues that the dual revolutions of the time the French Revolution and the British Industrial Revolution changed the way the whole world thought about politics and power and fundamentally shaped the modern era

Technologies of Seeing Brian Winston, 2019-07-25 This text examines the complex forces pushing and constraining technological developments in cinema It contests the view that technological advance is simply the result of scientific progress Rather the author argues that social forces control the media technology agenda at every stage

Defensive Nationalism B. S. Rabinowitz, 2023-05-09 In Defensive Nationalism B S Rabinowitz looks at the rise of nativism and populism today by using the works of two great theoreticians Karl Polanyi and Joseph Schumpeter She combines Polanyi s concept of the double movement away from markets and toward social protection with Schumpeter s theory of innovation Rabinowitz argues turn of the century transportation and communications revolutions in both eras produced toxic political upheavals and reframes nationalism as a three part process creative consolidating and defensive Skillfully combining theory and history the author produces a stunningly comprehensive account of why populism and fascism are on the rise in the early 21st century

The Longman Companion to European Nationalism 1789-1920 Raymond Pearson, 2014-09-25 A highly topical analysis of European Nationalism from the French Revolution through to the aftermath of the First World War when the nationalist issues and problems that dominate the political landscape of our own time were already fully established Covering an enormous range of peoples from the Icelanders to the Gypsies from Brittany to Wallachia the book presents a wealth of historical geopolitical information unavailable elsewhere Essential as a reference work it also provides a unique opportunity to survey systematically a crucial but fragmented subject in its full European context For historians political scientists departments of European studies and general readers

The Age of Lincoln Orville Vernon Burton, 2008-07-08 Stunning in its breadth and conclusions The Age of Lincoln is a fiercely original history of the five decades that pivoted around the presidency of Abraham Lincoln Abolishing slavery the age s most extraordinary accomplishment was not its most profound The enduring legacy of the age of Lincoln was inscribing personal liberty into the nation s millennial aspirations America has always perceived providence in its progress but in the 1840s and 1850s pessimism accompanied marked extremism as Millerites predicted the Second Coming utopianists planned perfection Southerners made slavery an inviolable honor and Northerners conflated Manifest Destiny with free market opportunity Even amid historic political compromises the middle ground collapsed In a remarkable reappraisal of Lincoln the distinguished historian Orville Vernon Burton shows how the president s authentic Southernness empowered him to conduct a civil war that redefined freedom as a personal right to be expanded to all Americans In the violent decades to follow the extent of that freedom would be contested but not its central place in what defined the country

Presenting a fresh conceptualization of the defining decades of modern America The Age of Lincoln is narrative history of the highest order

Professional Historians in Public Berber Bevernage, Lutz Raphael, 2023-07-24 The past decades public interest in history is booming This creates new opportunities but also challenges for professional historians This book asks how historians deal with changing public demands for history and how these affect their professional practices values and identities The volume offers a great variety of detailed studies of cases where historians have applied their expertise outside the academic sphere With contributions focusing on Latin America Africa Asia the Pacific and Europe the book has a broad geographical scope Subdivided in five sections the book starts with a critical look back on some historians who broke with mainstream academic positions by combining their professional activities with an explicit political partisanship or social engagement The second section focusses on the challenges historians are confronted with when entering the court room or more generally exposing their expertise to legal frameworks The third section focuses on the effects of policy driven demands as well as direct political interventions and regulations on the historical profession A fourth section looks at the challenges and opportunities related to the rise of new digital media Finally several authors offer their view on normative standards that may help to better respond to new demands and to define role models for publicly engaged historians This book aims at historians and other academics interested in public uses of history
