History, Plan and Scope of the American Museum of Natural History Henry Fairfield Osborn, 1910 The Rise and Fall of Culture History R. Lee Lyman, Michael J. O'Brien, Robert C. Dunnell, 1997-06-30 This volume presents an insightful critical analysis of the culture history approach to Americanist anthropology Reasons for the acceptance and incorporation of important concepts as well as the paradigm's strengths and weaknesses are discussed in detail The framework for this analysis is founded on the contrast between two metaphysics used by evolutionary biologists in discussing their own discipline materialistic populational thinking and essentialistic typological thinking Employing this framework the authors show not only why the culture history paradigm lost favor in the 1960s but also which of its aspects need to be retained if archaeology is ever to produce a viable theory of culture change Fossil Vertebrates in the American Museum of Natural History American Museum of Natural History. Department of Vertebrate Palaeontology, 1916 Fur Seal Arbitration Bering Sea Tribunal of Arbitration, 1895 Proceedings Paris (France). Tambussi, Federico Degrange, 2012-12-25 Modern birds Neornithes are represented by two big lineages the Palaeognathae Tinamiformes Ratitae and the Neognathae Galloanserae Neoaves Metaves Coronoaves Both clades sum approximately 10 000 species of which 60% are Passeriformes the most diverse clade of terrestrial vertebrates A comparison between the past and the present reveals a complex and hallmarked evolutionary and biogeographic history which would have begun over 65 million years ago For South America SA this includes 1 the presence of taxa with uncertain affinities and the absence of Passeriformes during the Paleogene 2 a progressive and accelerated increase of the species starting at the Neogene Miocene 3 important extinct lineages e.g. Phorusrhacidae Teratornithidae that migrate to North America after the rising of the Panam isthmus 4 groups with major diversification in the Neogene that survives nowadays represented by scarce species endemic of SA Cariamidae or that inhabits mainly in the southern hemisphere Anhimidae 5 very diverse living groups with scarce e.g. Passeriformes or none e.g. Apodiformes fossil record in SA which stem groups are registered in Europe Apparently the changes in diversity of the south American Neornithes have been the result of successive radiation biogeographic connections with North America and in a minor scale some extinctions The opening of the Drake s passage and the occurrence of the circumpolar Antarctic flow are not sufficient causes to explain the highly disparity between the weddelians penguins Sphenisciformes of Antarctica and those of the patagonian Atlantic Ocean Constructing Race Tracy Teslow,2014-07-21 This book explores how physical anthropologists struggled to understand variation in bodies and cultures in the twentieth century how they represented race to professional and lay publics and how their efforts contributed to an American formulation of race that has remained rooted in both bodies and cultures as well as heredity and society Memoirs of the American Museum of Natural History ,1898
