The Destruction Of A Continent Africa And International Aid:

The Destruction of a Continent Karl Borgin, Kathleen Corbett, 1982 Never Again Emma Etuk, 2008-05 In this book you will learn how Africa is greatly endowed and blessed her contributions to world civilization experiences with colonialism and neo colonialism her need to excel produce or perish the lessons from history and Never Again Competition and Efficiency in International Food Supply Chains John Williams, 2012 Why have food crises seemingly become more frequent in recent years compared to the last few decades This book examines an array of different issues and distortions that are causing food supply chain dysfunction in many countries particularly for staple non perishable foods such as grains oilseeds pulses and sugar It outlines the underlying changes that are currently occurring which will have an influence on the direction of future food supply chains and provides some solutions to current food security problems Based on an analysis of total regulation in the 1950s 60s through to deregulation during the 1980 90s as well as post deregulation it focuses on liberal trade and deregulation as a more successful solution to creating efficiencies in food supply chains and distribution The author highlights a common thread of either farmers using government for vested interest intervention or autocratic governments seeking market and supply chain power The book examines the role of government after 70 years of food supply chain intervention It discusses the role of commercial trade markets and cluster industries and how these can quickly disintegrate when price distortions occur The author studies both food importing and exporting countries and concludes that comingled commoditization of food has led to increased hoarding corruption and dependence on food aid He argues that a competitive food supply chain that has minimum intervention is more likely to provide future food security In conclusion the book emphasizes that adequate rewards competition and striving for supply chain efficiencies are the essences of sustainable food security The Moral Demands of Affluence Garrett Cullity, 2006-09-21 Given that there is a forceful case for thinking that the affluent are morally required to devote a substantial proportion of what they have to helping the poor Garrett Cullity examines refines and defends an argument of this form He then identifies its limits The Revolution in Development Economics James A. Dorn, Steve H. Hanke, Alan A. Walters, 1998-04-01 For decades development economists believed that central planning not economic freedom was the key to economic growth in developing countries In 1956 Gunnar Myrdal winner of the Nobel Prize in economics in 1974 wrote The special advisers to underdeveloped countries who have taken the time and trouble to acquaint themselves with the problem all recommend central planning as the first condition of progress While the argument that socialism is the key to growth in the developing world appears obviously unreasonable today given the collapse of command and control economies around the globe it was when Myrdal wrote the academic consensus Only a few economists doubted such arguments and proposed alternatives Foremost among them was Peter Bauer author of such classics as The Economics of Under Developed Countries and Dissent on Development This book contains 20 essays many of which were originally published in the Cato Journal and a foreword by Vclav Klaus former prime minister of the Czech

Republic Africa Air University (U.S.). Library,1983 Economic Development in Africa Olusola Akinrinade,J. Kurt Barling,2013-11-07 Economic development is one of the key issues that has confronted Africa since the beginning of independence more than a quarter century ago The countries of Africa have not only recognised the need for international assistance but also the need for self help along with various collective efforts in tackling the problems of development The principal concern of Economic Development in Africa is with the contributions of the international environment to the development process in Africa It considers efforts conceived within bilateral multilateral and regional frameworks acting as an introduction to the economic and political dimensions of these approaches This specially commissioned collection brings together a number of scholars working in the field of International Relations with specialist interest in Africa The Failure Of The Centralized State James Wunsch,Dele Olowu,John W Harbeson,Vincent Ostrom,2019-07-11 This book is an outcome of the workshop on Political Theory and Policy Analysis held in Indiana during the 1985 86 It seeks to explain why the centralized African state has failed and discusses the breakdown of social processes indirectly caused by the policies of the centralized state The Morality of Everyday Life Thomas Fleming,2004 Fleming offers an alternative to enlightened liberalism where moral and political problems are looked at from an objective point of view and a decision made from a distant perspective that is both rational and universally applied to all comparable cases He instead places importance on the particular the local and moral complexity advocating a return to premodern traditions for a solution to ethical predicaments In his view liberalism and postmodernism ignore the fact that human beings by their very nature refuse to live in a world of abstractions where the attachments of friends neighbors family and country make no difference Fleming believes that a modern type of casuistry should be applied to moral conflicts using examples from history literature and religion to explain this moral ecology that refuses to divorce organisms from their interactions with each other and with their environment
