Oyebade, 2010-07-01 This book provides an extensive examination of the major conflicts in the extremely volatile region of sub Saharan Africa and their ramifications throughout the continent and beyond

Conflict has been a critical factor in the making of contemporary Africa and its study is key to understanding the continent's tortuous history. Hot Spot Sub-Saharan Africa analyzes the area's major post-independence conflicts intense enough to threaten national, regional or international security. This work defines conflict broadly to encompass political instability and state failure, ethno-religious tensions, government and political corruption, economic mismanagement and poverty, cult violence and youth gangsterism. Thematically organized chapters examine the origins and development of explosive hot spots including Sudan, Somalia, Rwanda and Democratic Republic of Congo in West Africa; Nigeria, Southern Africa, the Horn of Africa and Central Africa and the Great Lakes region. The book also explores outside factors that have impacted African conflicts such as superpower Cold War manipulation and foreign influence and intervention.

Traders and Trade in Colonial Ovamboland Gregor Dobler, 2014-07-31 Taking the history of trade and of traders as its subject matter, this book offers the first economic history of northern Namibia during the twentieth century. It traces Namibia's way from a rural, largely self-relying society into a globalised economy of consumption. This transformation built on colonial economic activities but it was crucially shaped by local traders, a new social elite emerging during the 1950s and 1960s. Becoming a trader was one of the few possibilities for black Namibians to gain monetary income at home. It was a pathway out of migrant labour to new status in the local society and often to prosperity. Politically, most traders occupied a middle ground: content of their own social position but intent on political emancipation from colonial rule. Economically, their energy and business acumen transformed northern Namibia into an increasingly urban consumer society. The development path they chose, however, depended too much on the colonial reserve economy to remain sustainable after 1990. Their legacy still shapes spatial and social structures in northern Namibia, but most traders' businesses have today closed down. By telling the history of the rise and decline of traders and trade in northern Namibia, this book is thus also a reflection on the conundrums of economic development under conditions of structural inequality.

Apartheid's Black Soldiers Lennart Bolliger, 2021-10-01 New oral histories from Black Namibian and Angolan troops who fought in apartheid South Africa's security forces reveal their involvement and its impact on their lives to be far more complicated than most historical scholarship has acknowledged. In anticolonial struggles across the African continent, tens of thousands of African soldiers served in the militaries of colonial and settler states. In southern Africa, they often made up the bulk of these militaries and in some contexts far outnumbered those who fought in the liberation movements' armed wings. Despite these soldiers' significant impact on the region's military and political history, this dimension of southern Africa's anticolonial struggles has been almost entirely ignored in previous scholarship. Black troops from Namibia and Angola spearheaded apartheid South Africa's military intervention in their countries' respective anticolonial war and postindependence civil war. Drawing from oral history interviews and archival sources, Lennart Bolliger challenges the common framing of these wars as struggles of national liberation fought by and for Africans against White colonial and settler state armies. Focusing on three case studies of predominantly Black units commanded by White officers Bolliger investigates how and why these soldiers participated in South Africa's security forces and considers the legacies of that involvement In tackling these questions he rejects the common tendency to categorize the soldiers as collaborators and traitors and reveals the un national facets of anticolonial struggles Finally the book's unique analysis of apartheid military culture shows how South Africa's military units were far from monolithic and instead developed distinctive institutional practices mythologies and concepts of militarized masculinity annual purchase Theatres Of Violence Philip Dwyer, Lyndall Ryan, 2012-04-01 Massacres and mass killings have always marked if not shaped the history of the world and as such are subjects of increasing interest among historians The premise underlying this collection is that massacres were an integral if not accepted part until quite recently of warfare and that they were often fundamental to the colonizing process in the early modern and modern worlds Making a deliberate distinction between massacre and genocide the editors call for an entirely separate and new subject under the rubric of Massacre Studies dealing with mass killings that are not genocidal in intent This volume offers a reflection on the nature of mass killings and extreme violence across regions and across centuries and brings together a wide range of approaches and case studies Charlatans, Spirits and Rebels in Africa Tim Kelsall, 2022-09-01 When Stephen Ellis died in July 2015 African Studies lost one of its most prolific provocative and celebrated scholars Given the scale and uniqueness of his contribution it is perhaps surprising that a collection of his writings did not appear during his lifetime It is now possible to bring such a volume to the public With an introduction by Tim Kelsall and an afterword by Jean François Bayart this collection aims to provide scholars and students with an introduction to the main themes in Ellis work These revolved around the roles of religion criminality and violence in African society and politics preoccupations that also informed his interpretation of African rebellions and resistance movements The volume spans more than three decades of scholarship case studies from six countries highly cited and lesser known articles and a sampling of works intended for public engagement as well as an academic audience It will serve as a reader for African Politics and History and as an invitation to students to delve deeper into Stephen Ellis oeuvre In the Twilight of the Revolution Kwandiwe Kondlo, 2009 This book is a long overdue history of the Pan Africanist Congress of Azania PAC and the rise of the Africanist ideology in South Africa From its formation in 1959 the PAC underground inside South Africa and in exile shaped the dynamics of the anti apartheid movement and liberation struggle by framing alternative ideologies Kwandiwe Kondlo analyses the radical traditions the structural contradictions and the internal conflicts of this rival to the African National Congress ANC South Africa s dominant liberation organisation The contributions of some of the PAC leaders including Robert Sobukhwe Potlako Kitchener Leballo Vusumzi Make and John Nyathi Pokela are reconstructed as are the PAC s experiences in exile and the strategies pursued by its military wing the Azanian People s Liberation Party APLA The role of the PAC in the power sharing negotiations leading to the historic 1994 elections in South Africa round off the narrative The PAC story is a highly controversial one as the perspectives are wide and various This book seeks to present a balanced picture which includes diverse views in a comprehensive narrative The Africana World Mammo Muchie, Sanya Osha, 2012-05-22 It is 127 years since the Scramble for Africa divided up the continent imposing borders that have led to conflict rather than peace and stability It is 100 years since the African National Congress ANC was founded as the first African liberation movement with pan African roots It is nearly 50 years since the Organization of African Unity OAU was founded in May 1963 and ten years since the African Union AU was born with a vision that seeks the actualisation of human dignity development and prosperity for the entire African people anchored on a vision of an integrated prosperous and peaceful Africa driven and managed by its own citizens and representing a dynamic force in the international arena The achievement of the AU vision is predicated on colonialism being dead However it has actually been replaced by neocolonialism which requires extra vigilance from Africa and its diaspora in order for the unity and renaissance dreamed of to become a reality The chapters in Africana World From Fragmentation to Unity and Renaissance address colonial and postcolonial African realities with a view to present a holistic and transcontinental appraisal of questions issues and challenges that confront the continent Contributors are drawn from different parts of the world Africa Europe and the Americas and it is this eclectic range of scholarly views that lends a rich historicity to the meaning of Africanity The book contains multidisciplinary and transdisciplinary engagements with Africas rich cultural heritage its lingering contemporary challenges its multifaceted systems of knowledge and its future in the exciting context of the twenty first century Africana World From Fragmentation to Unity and Renaissance is put together in order to help develop the study and knowledge of African liberation across the continent and the diaspora This first volume launches a new book series following the Scramble for Africa conferences held every May to commemorate the founding of the OAU which will be published annually to support the scholarly study of African unity and renaissance in order to replace the lingering imagery of colonialism in Africa with a fully liberated African consciousness
