David Loewenstein, Janel Mueller

The Cry Of A Stone Medieval And Renaissance Texts And Studies:

The Cambridge History of Early Modern English Literature David Loewenstein, Janel Mueller, 2003-01-16 This 2003 book is a full scale history of early modern English literature offering perspectives on English literature produced in Britain between the Reformation and the Restoration While providing the general coverage and specific information expected of a major history its twenty six chapters address recent methodological and interpretive developments in English literary studies The book has five sections Modes and Means of Literary Production Circulation and Reception The Tudor Era from the Reformation to Elizabeth I The Era of Elizabeth and James VI The Earlier Stuart Era and The Civil War and Commonwealth Era While England is the principal focus literary production in Scotland Ireland and Wales is treated as are other subjects less frequently examined in previous histories including women s writings and the literature of the English Reformation and Revolution This history is an essential resource for specialists and students "I Will Sing the Wondrous Story" David W.

Music, Paul Akers Richardson, 2008 Baptists have a long and rich heritage of congregational song The hymns Baptists have sung and the books from which they have sung them have been shaping forces for Baptist theology worship and piety Baptist authors and composers have provided songs that have made an impact not only among Baptists in America but also across denominational and geographic lines Congregational singing continues to be a key component of Baptist worship in the twenty first century Beginning with an overview of the British background this book is a survey of the history of Baptist hymnody in America from Baptist beginnings in the New World to the present Its intent is to help the reader better understand the background against which current Baptist congregational song practices operate Unlike earlier writings on the subject this book provides both comprehensive coverage and a continuous narrative It gives thorough attention to the major Baptist bodies in America as well as calling attention to the contributions of significant smaller groups The British Baptist background is dealt with in an introductory section The book also includes many texts and tunes as illustrations of the topics being discussed and focuses on some of the contributions of Baptist authors and composers to the repertory of congregational song Book jacket A History of Feminist Literary Criticism Gill Plain, Susan Sellers, 2007-08-30

Feminism has transformed the academic study of literature fundamentally altering the canon of what is taught and setting new agendas for literary analysis In this authoritative history of feminist literary criticism leading scholars chart the development of the practice from the Middle Ages to the present The first section of the book explores protofeminist thought from the Middle Ages onwards and analyses the work of pioneers such as Wollstonecraft and Woolf The second section examines the rise of second wave feminism and maps its interventions across the twentieth century A final section examines the impact of postmodernism on feminist thought and practice This book offers a comprehensive guide to the history and development of feminist literary criticism and a lively reassessment of the main issues and authors in the field It is essential reading for all students and scholars of feminist writing and literary criticism Speaking of God in an Inhumane

World, Volume 2 Christopher Rowland, 2024-10-31 This two volume collection of essays on the Bible and social justice liberation theology and radical Christianity by Christopher Rowland addresses the question raised by Gustavo Gutierrez about how we can speak of God as a loving parent in a world that continues to be so inhumane These essays by an esteemed New Testament scholar represent intellectual interests of a lifetime as he integrated exegesis of the New Testament texts in their first century contexts and located their interpretations within the quests for meaning and significance that exist within contemporary society These essays represent mostly the latter concern exploring Christian Scripture which has informed the lives of men and women down the centuries as they interpret both contexts and in doing so make a significant contribution to contextual theology that should be heard by the inhabitants of both contexts The first volume of Speaking of God in an Inhumane World includes essays on liberation theology and radical Christianity the second volume focuses primarily on radical Christianity and includes reflections on Gerrard Winstanley William Blake William Stringfellow and others The History of British Women's Writing, 1610-1690 M. Suzuki, 2011-01-19 During the seventeenth century in response to political and social upheavals such as the English Civil Wars women produced writings in both manuscript and print This volume represents recent scholarship that has uncovered new texts as well as introduced new paradigms to further our understanding of women's literary history during this period Conspiracy and Virtue Susan Wiseman, 2006-12-14 What was the relationship between woman and politics in 17th century England Responding to this question this work argues that theoretical exclusion of women from the political sphere shaped their relation to it It is a study of gender and cultural politics in the century of revolution The Journal of Medieval and Early Modern Studies, 2001 Political Turmoil: Early Modern British Literature in Transition, 1623-1660: Volume 2 Stephen B. Dobranski, 2019-01-31 The early modern period in Britain was defined by tremendous upheaval the upending of monarchy the unsettling of church doctrine and the pursuit of a new method of inquiry based on an inductive experimental model Political Turmoil Early Modern Literature in Transition 1623 1660 offers an innovative and ambitious re appraisal of seventeenth century British literature and history Each of the contributors attempts to address the how and why of aesthetic change by focusing on political and cultural transformations Instead of forging a grand narrative of continuity the contributors attempt to piece together the often complex web of factors and events that contributed to developments in literary form and matter as well as the social and religious changes that literature sometimes helped to occasion These twenty chapters reading across traditional periodization demonstrate that early modern literary works when they were conceived as they were created and after they circulated were above all involved in various types of transitions The Cambridge Companion to Early Modern Women's Writing Laura Lunger Knoppers, 2009-10-08 Featuring the most frequently taught female writers and texts of the early modern period this Companion introduces the reader to the range complexity historical importance and aesthetic merit of women's writing in Britain from 1500 1700 Presenting key textual historical and methodological information the volume exemplifies new and diverse approaches to the study of women's writing. The book is clearly divided into three sections covering how women learnt to write and how their work was circulated or published; how and what women wrote in the places and spaces in which they lived, worked and worshipped; and the different kinds of writing women produced, from poetry and fiction to letters, diaries and political prose. This structure makes the volume readily adaptable to course usage. The Companion is enhanced by an introduction that lays out crucial framework and critical issues and by chronologies that situate women's writings alongside political and cultural events.

Structures of Feeling in Seventeenth-Century Cultural Expression Susan McClary, 2013-03-04 Between the waning of the Renaissance and the beginning of the Enlightenment, many fundamental aspects of human behaviour, from expressions of gender to the experience of time, underwent radical changes. While some of these transformations were recorded in words, others have survived in non-verbal cultural media, notably the visual arts, poetry, theatre, music and dance. Structures of Feeling in Seventeenth-Century Cultural Expression explores how artists made use of these various cultural forms to grapple with human values in the increasingly heterodox world of the 1600s. Essays from prominent historians, musicologists and art critics examine methods of non-verbal cultural expression through the broad themes of time, motion, the body and global relations. Together they show that seventeenth-century cultural expression was more than just an embryonic stage within Western artistic development. Instead, the contributors argue that this period marks some of the most profound changes in European subjectivities.
