Excerpt from The Development of Marriage and Kinship In the preface to The Evolution of Morality published in 1878 reasons were given for dealing only incidentally in that work with sexual morality The justification for the course then pursued is to be found in the present volume which could not then have been written although the second edition of Dr J F M Lennan s Primitive Marriage had appeared in 1876 with certain additions under the title of Studies in Ancient History and in 1877 had been published Dr Lewis H Morgan s Ancient Society which severely criticised Dr M Lennan s views It was not until the appearance in 1880 of the result of the enquiries made by the Rev Lorimer Fison and Mr A W Howitt into the system of marriage and relationship in use among the aborigines of Australia under the title of Kamilaroi and Kurnai that a serious attempt to deal with the whole subject of sexual morality was possible Such an attempt is made by the present work during the preparation of which I have had the advantage of corresponding with Mr Fison with reference to the Australian system and I have to thank him and Mr Howitt for their ready consent to my making use of information received from them If Dr J F M Lennan had lived however this work might not have appeared About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

The Development of the Family and Marriage in Europe Jack Goody, 1983-07-07 Around 300 A D European patterns of marriage and kinship were turned on their head What had previously been the norm marriage to close kin became the new taboo The same applied to adoption the obligation of a man to marry his brother s widow and a number of other central practices With these changes Christian Europe broke radically from its own past and established practices which diverged markedly from those of the Middle East North Africa and Asia In this highly original and far reaching work Jack Goody argues that from the fourth century there developed in the northern Mediterranean a distinctive but not undifferentiated kinship system whose growth can be attributed to the role of the Church in acquiring property formerly held by domestic groups He suggests that the early Church faced with the need to provide for people who had left their kin to devote themselves to the life of the Church regulated the rules of marriage so that wealth could be channelled away from the family and into the Church Thus the Church became an interitor acquiring vast tracts of property through the alienation of familial rights At the same time the structure of domestic life was changed dramatically the Church placing more emphasis on individual wishes on conjugality and on spiritual rather than natural kinship Tracing the consequences of this change through to the present day Jack Goody challenges some fundamental assumptions about the making of western society and provides an alternative focus for future study of the European family kinship structures and marriage patterns The questions he raises will provoke much interest and discussion amongst anthropologists sociologists and historians

Marriage in the Age of Enlightenment Edward Behrend-Martínez, 2021-11-18 Could an institution as sacred and traditional as marriage undergo a revolution Some people living during the so called Age of Enlightenment thought so By marrying for that selfish personal emotion of love rather than to serve religious or family interests to serve political demands or the demands of the pocketbook a few but growing number of people revolutionized matrimony around the end of the eighteenth century Marriage went from being a sacred state instituted by the Church and involving everyone to for a few intrepid people a secular contract a deal struck between two individuals based entirely on their mutual love and affection Few would claim today that love is not the cornerstone of modern marriage The easiest argument in favor of any marriage today no matter how star crossed the individuals is that the couple is deeply and hopelessly in love with one another But that was not always so clear Before the eighteenth century very few couples united simply because they shared a mutual attraction and affection for one another Yet only a century later most people would come to believe that mutual love and even attraction were necessary for any marriage to succeed A Cultural History of Marriage in the Age of Enlightenment explores the ways that new ideas cultural ideals and economic changes big and small reshaped matrimony into the institution that it is today allowing love to become the ultimate essential ingredient for modern marriages A Cultural History of Marriage in the Age of Enlightenment presents an overview of the period with essays on Courtship and Ritual Religion State and Law Kinship and Social Networks the Family Economy Love and Sex the Breaking of Vows and Representations of Marriage Dictionary of Concepts in Cultural Anthropology Robert H.
