

SOAP NOTES

S

Subjective: This section should reflect the information received from the client. Client feedback typically consists of things like their problem, how they're currently feeling, the symptoms they might be experiencing, medical or family history, and so on. It may be helpful to record direct quotes from the client here.

O

Objective: This section records factual information such as a client's appearance, observable symptoms, test results, and diagnosis. It could also include a review of inputs from other health professionals.

A

Assessment: Here, record your observations and interpretation of the behaviours and the feedback of the client. In other words, you should account for subjective as well as objective information to provide an overview of a client's condition and progress.

P

Plan: Based on the assessment, this is where you lay out the next steps for client treatment. When a client has more than one condition, it's best to detail an action plan for each condition.

College of Education Series University of Iowa. College of Education, 1926 Reading Sounds Sean Zdenek, 2015-12-23

The work of writing closed captions for television and DVD is not simply transcribing dialogue as one might assume at first but consists largely of making rhetorical choices For Sean Zdenek when captioners describe a sound they are interpreting and creating contexts they are assigning significance they are creating meaning that doesn't necessarily exist in the soundtrack or the script And in nine chapters he analyzes the numerous complex rhetorical choices captioners make from abbreviating dialogue so it will fit on the screen and keep pace with the editing to whether and how to describe background sounds accents or slurred speech to nonlinguistic forms of sound communication such as sighing screaming or laughing to describing music captioned silences as when a continuous noise suddenly stops and sarcasm surprise and other forms of meaning associated with vocal tone Throughout he also looks at closed captioning style manuals and draws on interviews with professional captioners and hearing impaired viewers Threading through all this is the novel argument that closed captions can be viewed as texts worthy of rhetorical analysis and that this analysis can lead the entertainment industry to better standards and practices for closed captioning thereby better serve the needs of hearing impaired viewers The author also looks ahead to the work yet to be done in bringing better captioning practices to videos on the Internet where captioning can take on additional functions such as enhancing searchability While scholarly work has been done on captioning from a legal perspective from a historical perspective and from a technical perspective no one has ever done what Zdenek does here and the original analytical models he offers are richly interdisciplinary drawing on work from the fields of technical communication rhetoric media studies and disability studies Making Candles and Soaps For Dummies Kelly Ewing, 2010-03-11 Make floating candles herbal soaps and even a home spa Discover the secrets of color shape and scent the fun and easy way Whether you're a beginner or seasoned craftperson this fun book offers everything you need to make beautiful professional looking candles and soaps at home You get practical tips on dyeing and scenting wax using unusual molds adding embellishments to candles working with soap ingredients and even turning your hobby into a business Discover How To Stock a safe efficient work area Work with all types of wax Add color and scent to your projects Make melt and pour soaps Turn a hobby into a business Soap Gazette and Perfumer, 1903 The Technics and Evaluation of a Supervisory Program in Work Reading in the Minneapolis Public Schools Minneapolis Public Schools, Prudence Cutright, 1927
