Race and the Modern Artist Heather Hathaway, Josef Jarab, Jeffrey Melnick, 2003-01-16 Definitions of modernism have been debated throughout the twentieth century But both during the height of the modernist era and since little to no consideration has been given to the work of minority writers as part of this movement Considering works by writers ranging from B A Botkin T S Eliot Waldo Frank and Jean Toomer to Pedro Pietri and Allen Ginsberg these essays examine the disputed relationships between modernity modernism and American cultural diversity In so doing the collection as a whole adds an important new dimension to our understanding of twentieth century literature

Racial Discourse and Cosmopolitanism in Twentieth-Century African American Writing Tania Friedel, 2010-06-21 This book engages cosmopolitanism a critical mode which moves beyond cultural pluralism by simultaneously privileging difference and commonality in order to examine its particular deployment in the work of several African American writers Deeply influenced and inspired by W E B Du Bois the writers closely examined in this study Jean Toomer Jessie Fauset Langston Hughes and Albert Murray have advanced cosmopolitanism to meet its own theoretical principals in the contested arena of racial discourse while remaining integral figures in a larger tradition of cosmopolitan thought Rather than become mired in fixed categorical distinctions their cosmopolitan perspective values the pluralist belief in the distinctiveness of different cultural groups while allowing for the possibility of inter ethnic subjectivities intercultural affiliations and change in any given mode of identification This study advances cosmopolitanism as a useful model for like minded critics and intellectuals today who struggle with contemporary debates regarding multiculturalism and universalism in a rapidly yet unevenly globalizing world
