Teaching and Assessing Writing Edward M. White, 1994-03-18 PQ White's new edition of Teaching and Assessing Writing retains its place as the best one source examination of issues and techniques. Sensible, thorough, even handed, it is useful for both the novice teacher and the experienced administrator in designing writing classes and programs that can serve many kinds of students fairly. PQS Richard Lloyd Jones, professor of English, University of Iowa. In this thoroughly revised and completely reorganized second edition, White offers the latest theoretical and practical materials that instructors in English and across the disciplines will need in order to help students build strong writing skills. Teaching and Assessing Writing Edward M. White, 1994-03-01 Teaching Writing Christina Russell McDonald, Robert L. McDonald, 2002 Teaching Writing Landmarks and Horizons edited by Christina Russell McDonald and Robert L. McDonald is designed to present an overview of some of the major developments in the establishment of composition studies as a field during the past thirty five years. The essays are theoretically grounded but are focused on pedagogy as well. Divided into two parts, the first presents nine landmark essays selected and introduced by distinguished composition scholars and the second brings together eight new essays by emerging scholars. Handbook of Research on Assessment Technologies, Methods, and Applications in Higher Education Schreiner, Christopher S., 2009-05-31 This research publication accommodates in depth studies that elucidate both the prospects and problems of learning assessment in higher education. Provided by publisher. Handbook of Second and Foreign Language Writing Rosa M. Manchón, Paul Kei Matsuda, 2016-09-12 The Handbook of Second and Foreign Language Writing is an authoritative reference compendium of the theory and research on second and foreign language writing that can be of value to researchers, professionals and graduate students. It is intended both as a retrospective critical reflection that can situate research on L2 writing in its historical context and provide a state of the art view of past achievements and as a prospective critical analysis of what lies ahead in terms of theory, research and applications. Accordingly, the Handbook aims to provide: i) foundational information on the emergence and subsequent evolution of the field; ii) state of the art surveys of available theoretical and research, basic and applied insights; iii) overviews of research methods in L2 writing research; iv) critical reflections on future developments; and v) explorations of existing and emerging disciplinary interfaces with other fields of inquiry. The NPEC sourcebook on assessment, The NPEC Sourcebook on Assessment: Definitions and assessment methods for critical thinking, problem solving, and writing T. Dary Erwin, 2000. Volume 1 of this sourcebook is a compendium of information about tests used to assess critical thinking, problem solving and writing. It serves as a tool for people who want comparative data about the policy relevance of specific student outcomes measured in these areas. An interactive version of Volume 1 allows users to specify their areas of interest and create a customized search of assessment measures in the three domain areas. The tests described in Volume 1 are those that are designed to measure cognitive variables for traditional students The compendium does not describe less traditional methods such as portfolios and competencies In addition the evaluations of the tests are based on the way test developers represent them in their materials and in some cases in information from third part reviews Volume 2 is a companion volume that provides eight case studies of institutions that have addressed related issues through the use of assessment methods in Volume 1 Volume 1 contains the following sections 1 General and Specific Issues in Selecting Assessments 2 Critical Thinking and Problem Solving 3 Templates Critical Thinking and Problem Solving 4 Writing 5 Templates Writing Commercially Developed Tests and 6 Templates Writing Locally Developed Tests Volume 2 discusses the eight case studies and contains four appendixes providing details about the methodology Volume 1 contains 10 tables and 150 references SLD

Teaching and Evaluating Writing in the Age of Computers and High-Stakes Testing Carl Whithaus,2005-04-27 This book takes on a daunting task How do writing teachers continue to work toward preparing students for academic and real world communication situations while faced with the increasing use of standardized high stakes testing Teachers need both the technical ability to deal with this reality and the ideological means to critique the information technologies and assessment methods that are transforming the writing classroom Teaching and Evaluating Writing in the Age of Computers and High Stakes Testing serves this dual need by offering a theoretical framework actual case studies and practical methods for evaluating student writing By examining issues in writing assessment ranging from the development of electronic portfolios to the impact of state wide standards based assessment methods on secondary and post secondary courses this book discovers four situated techniques of authentic assessment that are already in use at a number of locales throughout the United States These techniques stress interacting with students as communicators using synchronous and asynchronous environments describing the processes and products of student learning rather than enumerating deficits situating pedagogy and evaluation within systems that incorporate rather than exclude local variables and distributing assessment among diverse audiences By advocating for a flexible system of communication based assessment in computer mediated writing instruction this book validates teachers and students experiences with writing and also acknowledges the real world weight of the new writing components on the SAT and ACT as well as on state mandated standardized writing and proficiency exams

Gender and Fair Assessment Warren W. Willingham,Nancy S. Cole,2013-12-16 There have been many important changes in the participation of women and men in American society over the past quarter century Tests play a role in those changes by providing evidence of the diverse achievement and proficiency of women and men They aid the learning process and reflect inequalities in opportunity to learn and participate In addition they provide useful information in considering what alternatives in education and work make most sense for individuals and influence views about groups of students educational programs and a wide range of issues For all of these reasons it is important that tests assess fairly and reflect accurately the ways young people are and are not achieving as well as desired The test performance of women and men is a research topic of historical interest and has received much attention in recent years Because of this increased interest there is a great deal of new research and data available The purpose of the study presented in this volume was to review this new information with two objectives in mind to clarify patterns of gender difference and similarity in test performance and related achievements and to see what implications those findings might have for fair assessment and as a corollary examine the assessment process as a possible source of gender differences This study is interested in tests used in education to assess developed knowledge and skill In order to gain a broader view of gender similarity and difference the contributors looked at other types of measures and other characteristics of young women and men Their hope is to contribute to a firmer basis for insuring fairness in tests an objective which is particularly important as the field moves increasingly to new forms of assessment in which there is less experience

Landmark Essays on Writing Program Administration Kelly Ritter, MELISSA IANETTA, 2024-11-01 Leading with the provocative observation that writing programs administration lacks an established set of texts that provides a baseline of shared knowledge in which to root our ongoing conversations and with which to welcome newcomers Landmark Essays on Writing Program Administration focuses on WPA identity to propose one such grouping of texts This Landmark volume is the cornerstone resource for new Writing

Program Administrators and graduate students seeking an ever important overview of the literature on Writing Program Administration Drawing broadly across scholarship in writing programs and writing centers Ritter and Ianetta work to historicize theorize and problematize the ever shifting answers offered to the question Who or what is a WPA Writing from the Margins Carolyn Ericksen Hill,1990 Teaching Business Ethics for Effective Learning Ronald R. Sims,2002-05-30

The key to teaching business ethics successfully says Sims is to start with clear goals and a sensible expectation of outcomes and with a true knowledge and appreciation of how people actually learn Seems obvious enough he says but the surprise is that so few understand this Thus the teaching of business ethics is often an unproductive frustrating exercise in futility Sims hopes to change that Proceeding with the conviction that open communications between teacher and student before during and after the teaching experience is vital Sims identifies key teaching processes gives practical advice on designing and planning the curriculum and offers guidance on how to develop a climate conducive to effective learning He highlights the importance of creating a classroom climate that encourages open dialogue good moral conversation and conversational learning And throughout he emphasizes that learning styles and experiential learning theory are cornerstones of teaching business ethics thus taking an approach unlike any in the literature An important guide for those who are new to teaching this essential subject Sims book will also be helpful for more experienced teachers who are wondering why their own methods do not always work or do not work as well as they believe they should Sims identifies important processes that must be managed if business ethics is to be taught and learned successfully processes such as creating stakeholder commitment to the goals purposes and outcomes of the teaching effort and curriculum design and planning that are attuned to individual differences in learning styles motivation and values Also included in Sims processes are the development of individual school outcomes and expectations and the assessment procedures that can measure them He discusses the importance of incorporating debriefing into an experiential learning exercise or discussion and goes on to give an in depth discussion of the pedagogical approaches that allow teachers to teach the practical and theoretical components of the subject simultaneously Well illustrated with examples such as an interdisciplinary approach to teaching and a way to institutionalize outcomes assessment by means of total quality management Sims book returns constantly to his major theme that to teach business ethics effectively the teacher must first create a climate of trust and sharing within and between students and between students and teacher and that the teacher must have a concrete way to measure the impact of the teaching effort s results
