Christian Faith, Formation and Education Ros Stuart-Buttle, John Shortt, 2017-11-13 This book discusses the relationship between faith formation and education Rooted in a variety of discourses the book offers original insights into the education and formation of the human person both theoretical and practical Issues are considered within a context of contemporary tensions generated by an increasingly pluralist society with antipathy to religious faith and debated from interdenominational Christian perspectives Including chapters by an international team of experts the volume demonstrates how Christian faith holds significance for educational practice and human development It argues against the common assumption that there can be a neutral approach to education whilst at the same time advocating a critical dimension to faith education It brings fresh thinking about faith and formation which demands attention given the fast changing political educational and socio cultural forces of today It will appeal to students and researchers involved in Christian educational practice

Religion and Worldviews L. Philip Barnes, 2022-09-21 Religion and Worldviews The Triumph of the Secular in Religious Education provides the first serious analysis and review of the Commission on Religious Education's proposed worldviews framework for the subject. It argues that religious education has an important contribution to make to the aims of liberal education and examines whether the shift to a worldview framework is capable of overcoming current weaknesses and initiating a new positive direction for the future. Chapters explore the role of worldviews in Religious Education covering key debates including: Whether there is need for new legislation on RE. The nature of professionalism and the role of experts. The extent to which there is educational value in study of the personal worldviews of students. The role of the religious voice in RE. The relation of religions to religious worldviews. The aims of RE. The relationship between the state and religion. Consideration of the nature of a worldview. The personal reflections of a member of the Commission on its proposals. The chapters provide all that is necessary to understand and to evaluate the current debate on the appropriateness of a worldviews approach to RE. Bringing together leading names in the field, this is essential reading for trainee and practising teachers of Religious Education, RE advisers and schools leaders responsible for curriculum development.

Debates in Primary Education Virginia Bower, 2020-10-19. This powerful text encourages both pre-service and established teachers as well as teacher educators to engage with contemporary debates in primary education. Promoting a critical approach, the chapters explore a wide range of key themes including the importance of values in primary education and the imperative for a curriculum which embraces the whole range of available subjects. At the same time, the chapters are underpinned by a belief that children should be at the heart of all the decisions we make and that primary education should inspire a love of learning for life. The book aims to support practitioners to make informed judgements and feel confident to argue their point of view with deeper theoretical knowledge and understanding, thus increasing teacher agency and confidence in responding to complex educational and social dilemmas such as literacy levels and rising mental health concerns. Chapters encompass both the macro aspects of primary education and more specialised debates on key topics such as reading, mathematics, languages, early years education and the use of technology. With annotated further reading and reflective questions, this key text is essential reading for all those wanting to develop a better understanding of the issues that shape their practice, including student teachers at both undergraduate and postgraduate level, practising teachers engaged in continuing professional development and teacher educators.
