Teaching In Wartime China A Photo Memoir 1937 1939:

Teaching in Wartime China Edward Vose Gulick, 1995 After graduating from Yale in 1937 Gulick spent two years in China's Hunan province teaching English at a mission school for Chinese boys During this time he travelled widely in the area and kept journals of his travels He draws on both journals and photographs to create this memoir Imperial Japan's World War Two Werner Gruhl, 2017-07-12 Gruhl's narrative makes clear why Japan's World War II aggression still touches deep emotions with East Asians and Western ex prisoners of war and why there is justifiable sensitivity to the way modern Japan has dealt with this legacy Knowledge of the enormity of Japan's total war is also necessary to assess the United States and her allies policies toward Japan and their reactions to its actions extending from Manchuria in 1931 to Hiroshima in 1945 Gruhl takes the view that World War II started in 1931 when Japan crowded and poor in raw materials but with a sense of military invincibility saw empire as her salvation and invaded China Japan's imperial regime had volatile ambitions but limited resources thus encouraging them to unleash a particularly brutal offensive against the peoples of Asia and surrounding ocean islands Their 1931 to 1945 invasions and policies further added to Asia's pre war woes particularly in China by badly disrupting marginal economies leading to famines and epidemics Altogether the victims of Japan's World War Two aggression took many forms and were massive in number Gruhl offers a survey and synthesis of the historical literature and documentation statistical data as well as personal interviews and first hand accounts to provide a comprehensive overview analysis The sequence of diplomatic and military events leading to Pearl Harbor as well as those leading to the U S decision to drop the atom bomb are explored here as well as Japan's war crimes and postwar revisionist apologist views regarding them This book will be of intense interest to Asian specialists and those concerned with human rights issues in a historical context The Making of a Family Saga Jin Feng, 2010-07-02 The institutional history of Ginling College is arguably a family history Ginling a Christian women's college in Nanjing founded by Western missionaries saw itself as a family The school's leaders built on the Confucian ideal to envision a feminized Christian family one that would spread Christianity and uplift the family that was the Chinese nation Exploring the various incarnations of the trope of the Ginling family Jin Feng takes a microscopic view by emphasizing personal subjective perspectives from the written and oral records of the Chinese and American women who created and sustained the school Even when using more seemingly ordinary official documents Feng seeks to shed light on the motives and dynamic interactions that created them and the impact they had on individual lives Using this perspective Feng questions the standard characterization of missionary higher education as simply Western cultural imperialism to show a process of influence and cultural exchange Wuhan, 1938 Stephen R. MacKinnon, 2008-05-21 MacKinnon's study of Wuhan during its service as China's wartime capital not only fills an important gap in the history of China's war with Japan but enriches this history through an artful combination of military political social and cultural perspectives Edward McCord author of The Power of the Gun The Emergence of Chinese Warlordism China

1945 Richard Bernstein, 2015-10-27 At the beginning of 1945 relations between America and the Chinese Communists couldn't have been closer Chinese leaders talked of America helping to lift China out of poverty Mao Zedong himself held friendly meetings with U S emissaries By year's end Chinese Communist soldiers were setting ambushes for American marines official cordiality had been replaced by chilly hostility and distrust a pattern which would continue for a quarter century with the devastating wars in Korea and Vietnam among the consequences In China 1945 Richard Bernstein tells the incredible story of the sea change that took place during that year brilliantly analyzing its far reaching components and colorful characters from diplomats John Paton Davies and John Stewart Service to Time journalist Henry Luce in addition to Mao and his intractable counterpart Chiang Kai shek and the indispensable Zhou Enlai A tour de force of narrative history China 1945 examines American power coming face to face with a formidable Asian revolutionary movement and challenges familiar assumptions about the origins of modern Sino American relations Developing Mission Joseph W. Ho, 2022-01-15 In Developing Mission Joseph W Ho offers a transnational cultural history of US and Chinese communities framed by missionary lenses through time and space tracing the lives and afterlives of images cameras and visual imaginations from before the Second Sino Japanese War through the first years of the People's Republic of China When American Protestant and Catholic missionaries entered interwar China they did so with cameras in hand Missions principally aimed at the conversion of souls and the modernization of East Asia became by virtue of the still and moving images recorded quasi anthropological ventures that shaped popular understandings of and formal foreign policy toward China Portable photographic technologies changed the very nature of missionary experience while images that missionaries circulated between China and the United States affected cross cultural encounters in times of peace and war Ho illuminates the centrality of visual practices in the American missionary enterprise in modern China even as intersecting modernities and changing Sino US relations radically transformed lives behind and in front of those lenses In doing so Developing Mission reconstructs the almost lost histories of transnational image makers subjects and viewers across twentieth century China and the United States The Maryknoll Sisters in Hong Kong, 1921-1969 C. Chu, 2004-11-26 This book describes the adaptation of American women to cross cultural situations in Hong Kong from 1921 to 1969 The Maryknoll Sisters were first American Catholic community of women founded for overseas missionary work and were the first American sisters in Hong Kong Maryknollers were independent outgoing and joyful women who were highly educated and acted in professional capacities as teachers social workers and medical personnel The assertion of this book is that the mission provided Maryknollers what they had long desired equal employment opportunities which were only later emphasized in the women's liberation movement of the 1960s The Yale-China Association Nancy E. Chapman, Jessica C. Plumb, 2001 The Yale China Association's long legacy of work in China places it among the premier American organizations engaged in international service Founded in 1901 Yale China built on a long tradition of Yale's graduates founding churches schools and colleges in far flung places In time the organization evolved into a bicultural educational enterprise reflecting a spirit of intellectual tolerance and openness that adapted itself to China's changing conditions and needs. From its earliest years at the close of the Qing dynasty through wars, revolutions and the modern era of reform, Yale China's history was interwoven with China's own turbulent journey to find its place in the modern world. At certain points in its history, Yale China was ahead of its time; at others, the organization was overwhelmed by social and political forces beyond its control or comprehension. Yale China's history thus provides intriguing insights into the vagaries and complexities of America's interaction with China in the twentieth century as well as the profound ambivalence with which many Chinese viewed the United States, its representatives, educational models and intentions toward China in this period.

The Time is Now Edward Vose Gulick, 1999-01-01. Although the Cold War may be over, the new weaponry of mass destruction remains in many different forms and in many different hands. If unchanged, argues Edward Gulick, the present international system with its older framework and newer capabilities virtually guarantees global desolation and nuclear winter. Our chances of survival hinge on substantial changes in the system itself. Gulick looks at major events of the twentieth century and draws from his thirty-year experience as professor and scholar of history to propose a series of common-sense alterations to the structure of our present world system, including major acts of global statesmanship leading to minimal but sufficient world governance. Scholars of world history, international relations and global issues will be especially interested in this book.
