Teaching Academic Writing:

Teaching Academic Writing Caroline Coffin, Mary Jane Curry, Sharon Goodman, Ann Hewings, Theresa Lillis, Joan Swann, 2005-07-26 Student academic writing is at the heart of teaching and learning in higher education. Students are assessed largely by what they write and need to learn both general academic conventions as well as disciplinary writing requirements in order to be successful in higher education. Teaching Academic Writing is a toolkit designed to help higher education lecturers and tutors teach writing to their students. Containing a range of diverse teaching strategies, the book offers both practical activities to help students develop their writing abilities and guidelines to help lecturers and tutors think in more depth about the assessment tasks they set and the feedback they give to students. The authors explore a wide variety of text types from essays and reflective diaries to research projects and laboratory reports. The book draws on recent research in the fields of academic literacy, second language learning and linguistics. It is grounded in recent developments such as the increasing diversity of the student body, the use of the Internet, electronic tuition and issues related to distance learning in an era of increasing globalisation. Written by experienced teachers of writing, language and linguistics, Teaching Academic Writing will be of interest to anyone involved in teaching academic writing in higher education.

Teaching Academic ESL Writing Eli Hinkel, 2003-10-17 Teaching Academic ESL Writing: Practical Techniques in Vocabulary and Grammar fills an important gap in teacher professional preparation by focusing on the grammatical and lexical features that are essential for all ESL writing teachers and student writers to know. The fundamental assumption is that before students of English for academic purposes can begin to successfully produce academic writing, they must have the foundations of language in place: the language tools, grammar and vocabulary they need to build a text. This text offers a compendium of techniques for teaching writing, grammar and lexis to second language learners that will help teachers effectively target specific problem areas of students' writing. Based on the findings of current research, including a large scale study of close to 1,500 non-native speakers' essays, this book works with several sets of simple rules that collectively can make a noticeable and important difference in the quality of ESL students' writing. The teaching strategies and techniques are based on a highly practical principle for efficiently and successfully maximizing learners' language gains. Part I provides the background for the text and a sample of course curriculum guidelines to meet the learning needs of second language teachers of writing and second language writers. Parts II and III include the key elements of classroom teaching: what to teach and why, possible ways to teach the material in the classroom, common errors found in student prose and ways to teach students to avoid them, teaching activities and suggestions, and questions for discussion in a teacher training course. Appendices to chapters provide supplementary word and phrase lists, collocations, sentence chunks and diagrams that teachers can use as needed. The book is designed as a text for courses that prepare teachers to work with post-secondary EAP students and as a professional resource for teachers of students in EAP courses.
