Reclaiming African American Students: Legacies, Lessons, and Prescriptions Mildred L. Rice Jordan, 2017-05-09 This book gives an intimate look into the history of an African American National Historic Site that was located in Bordentown New Jersey It was known by many names Manual Training and Industrial School for Colored Youth M T I S or the Tuskegee of the North Most commonly however it was called just the Bordentown School Bordentown was founded in 1886 by an ex slave Walter Allen Simpson Rice Afer serving in the Civil War Rice came north and became affiliated with the African Methodist Episcopal Church A M E Seeing great promise in him the church sent him to seminary to become a minister Rice dreamed of uplifting his people but had limited resources with which to make his dreams a reality However he did have great faith in God and his faith inspired him to start a boarding school With only eight colored students he began his school in an old frame house He did not live to see this school become one of the nest institutions of learning for colored high school youth in the northeast However Reverend Rice and the principals who followed him have legacy behind a legacy which has invaluable lessons and great potential for developing educational prescriptions which will at their foundation give all black students a culturally affirming culturally relevant education This book clearly states that no matter how complicated and technologically sophisticated our Society becomes the Bordentown Schools philosophy policies and practices can still be a model which can be adapted for Reclaiming African American Students in the 21st Century The Impact of 9/11 on

Psychology and Education M. Morgan, 2009-11-23 The Impact of 9 11 on Psychology and Education is the fifth volume of the six volume series The Day that Changed Everything edited by Matthew J Morgan It features forewords by Robert Sternberg and Philip Zimbardo Class Counts Allan Ornstein, 2007-03-09 Class counts Class differences and class warfare have existed since the beginning of western civilization but the gap in income and wealth between the rich top 10 percent and the rest has increased steadily in the last twenty five years The U S is heading for a financial oligarchy much worse than the aristocratic old world that our Founding Fathers feared and tried to avoid The middle class is struggling and shrinking the Medicare and Social Security trusts are drying up and education is no longer the great equalizer A moral society one that is fair and just sets limits on the accumulation of wealth and inherited privilege and also guarantees a safety net for the less fortunate This book describes the need for a redistribution of wealth in order to make U S society more democratic fair and just and outlines the ways in which we can begin to make these very necessary changes This is a timely and powerful book one that should be read by anyone interested in preserving the social fabric of American life

Teaching and Schooling in America Allan C. Ornstein, 2004-12 Teaching and Schooling Prior to and Post September 11 examines 2 500 years of historical philosophical and educational thought forcing the reader to think and rethink the issues of schooling and society This book is concerned with life and death peace and war good and evil miseducation and education achievement and aptitude and equality and inequality It begins with the ancient Greeks and Romans and ends with a post September 11 society including American Chinese Indian and Arabic cultures At the level of society specific topics deal with religion morality justice colonialism global poverty the horrors of the 20th century war death camps and racial ethnic hatred and now the new century with terrorism and cloning At the educational level the focus is on race gender class social stratification school finance black white achievement gaps affirmative action quotas reparations computers satellite communications and global education and understanding The nature of the subject matter is controversial and the prose written in a critical honest and passionate style For anyone interested in education

Comparative Education, Terrorism and Human Security W. Nelles, 2003-12-18 Policy decisions in education have changed drastically as a result of the recent threats to our international and national security In this timely and compelling collection authors discuss the significance of policy decisions on education systems and argue that all forms of violence including terrorism are often reproduced through education Authors incorporate case studies from a broad spectrum of countries to make a case for peace building alternatives and non military security cooperation Comparative Education Terrorism and Human Security will highlight education systems around the globe that sustain violence will bring together human security and preventive diplomacy research to predict future trends will explore foreign policy implications that could lead to non violent interventions abroad and will provide teachers and policymakers with relevant reflections on reform This book arrives at a time when many of us are wondering what education systems can do to eliminate perpetuate violence and will be the only one of its kind to address these questions on a global scale

Race and Arab Americans Before and After 9/11 Amaney Jamal, Nadine Naber, 2008-02-27 Bringing the rich terrain of Arab American histories to bear on conceptualizations of race in the United States this groundbreaking volume fills a critical gap in the field of U S racial and ethnic studies The articles collected here highlight emergent discourses on the distinct ways that race matters to the study of Arab American histories and experiences and asks essential questions What is the relationship between U S imperialism in Arab homelands and anti Arab racism in the United States In what ways have the axes of nation religion class and gender intersected with Arab American racial formations What is the significance of whiteness studies to Arab American studies Transcending multiculturalist discourses that have simply added on the category Arab American to the landscape of U S racial and ethnic studies after the attacks of September 11 2001 this volume locates September 11 as a turning point rather than as a beginning in Arab Americans

Politics and the Mediatization of School Educational Policy Grant Rodwell, 2020-04-07 Despite increasing prevalence over the past three decades and a clear impact on school education policy and practice education's connection to dog whistle journalism and politics has not yet been fully explored Addressing this gap Politics and the Mediatization of School Educational Policy examines the emergence and current impact of dog whistle politics and journalism on education in Australia the US and the UK questioning what is at stake when this political dog whistle is directed at school educational policy and practice Exploring common targets for dog whistling such as teaching standards teacher quality and specific curriculum areas such as history sex and health education the book considers the broader social issues of xenophobia and racism as well as the decline of print media and rise of digital news sources in its place with each chapter including an in depth discussion using peer reviewed literature on the subject Following the trail of dog whistles impacting in school educational policy and practice across these three countries this book explores To what extent is the dog whistle dynamic embedded in school educational policy and practice To what extent does the dog whistle dynamic affect our understanding of school educational policy and practice How might we explain the continued flurry of dog whistles impacting school educational policy and practice As the phenomenon of the dog whistle intensifies both nationally and internationally this timely and thought provoking book is necessary reading for academics postgraduate researchers and all members of school communities

A History of Islamic Schooling in North America Nadeem A. Memon, 2019-09-24 This insightful text challenges popular belief that faith based Islamic schools isolate Muslim learners impose dogmatic religious views and disregard academic excellence This book attempts to paint a starkly different picture Grounded in the premise that not all Islamic schools are the same the historical narratives illustrate varied visions and approaches to Islamic schooling that showcase a richness of educational thought and aspiration A History of Islamic Schooling in North America traces the growth and evolution of elementary and secondary private Islamic schools in Canada and the United States Intersecting narratives between schools established by indigenous African American Muslims as early as the 1930s with those established by immigrant Muslim communities in the 1970s demonstrate how and why Islamic Education is in a constant ongoing process of evolution renewal and adaptation Drawing on the voices perspectives and narratives of pioneers and visionaries who established the earliest Islamic schools chapters articulate why Islamic schools were established what distinguishes them from one another and why they continue to be important This book will be of great interest to graduate and postgraduate students researchers academics teaching professionals in the fields of Islamic education religious studies multicultural education curriculum studies and faith based teacher education

What's Next for Student Veterans? David DiRamio,2017-12-21 With the passage of the Post 9 11 GI Bill in 2008 more than 1 4 million service members and their families became eligible for higher education benefits and veterans from the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan enrolled in colleges and universities in record numbers The first wave of research about these new student veterans focused primarily on describing their characteristics and the transition from military service to civilian life and the college campus This new edited collection presents findings from the second wave of research about student veterans with a focus on data driven evidence of academic success factors including persistence retention degree completion and employment after college An invaluable resource for educators poised to enter the next phase of supporting military connected college students

Religious Minority Students in Higher Education Yoruba T. Mutakabbir,Tariqah A. Nuriddin,2016-01-29 The most recent addition to the Key Issues on Diverse College Students series bridges theory to practice in order to help student affairs and higher education professionals understand the needs and experiences of religious minorities on college campuses Religious Minority Students in Higher Education explores existing literature and research on religious minorities on American college campuses discusses the challenges and needs of religious minorities on campus and provides best practices and recommendations Providing a foundational nuanced approach to religious minorities in the American college context this important resource will help educators at colleges and universities promote religious pluralism and tolerance to support student learning outcomes and campus inclusion among students of diverse religious backgrounds
