Teaching The Holocaust Educational Dimensions Principles And Practice:

Teaching the Holocaust Ian Davies, 2000-04-01 Offers a comprehensive treatment of Holocaust education blending introductory material broad perspectives and practical teaching case studies This work shows how and why pupils should learn about the Holocaust

Teaching the Holocaust in School History Lucy Russell, 2006-08-17 If we expose students to a study of human suffering we have a responsibility to guide them through it But is this the role of school history This issue is the rationale behind teaching the Holocaust primarily historical moral or social Is the Holocaust to be taught as a historical event with a view to developing students critical historical skills or as a tool to combat continuing prejudice and discrimination These profound questions lie at the heart of Lucy Russell's fascinating analysis of teaching the Holocaust in school history She considers how the topic of the Holocaust is currently being taught in schools in the UK and overseas Drawing on interviews with educationalists academics and teachers she discovers that there is in fact a surprising lack of consensus regarding the purpose of and approaches to teaching the Holocaust in history Indeed the majority view is distinctly non historical there is a tendency to teach the Holocaust from a social and moral perspective and not as history This book attempts to explain and debate this phenomenon

Teaching the Holocaust Michael Gray, 2015-05-15 Teaching the Holocaust is an important but often challenging task for those involved in modern Holocaust education What content should be included and what should be left out How can film and literature be integrated into the curriculum What is the best way to respond to students who resist the idea of learning about it This book drawing upon the latest research in the field offers practical help and advice on delivering inclusive and engaging lessons along with guidance on how to navigate through the many controversies and considerations when planning preparing and delivering Holocaust education Whether teaching the subject in History Religious Education English or even in a school assembly there is a wealth of wisdom which will make the task easier for you and make the learning experience more beneficial for the student Chapters include The aims of Holocaust education Ethical issues to consider when teaching the Holocaust Using film and documentaries in the classroom Teaching the Holocaust through literature The role of online learning and social media The benefits and practicalities of visiting memorial sites With lesson plans resources and schemes of work which can be used across a range of different subjects this book is essential reading for those that want to deepen their understanding and deliver effective thought provoking Holocaust education

Holocaust Education in Primary Schools in the Twenty-First Century Claus-Christian W. Szejnmann, Paula Cowan, James Griffiths, 2018-07-09 This collection is the first of its kind bringing together Holocaust educational researchers as well as school and museum educators from across the globe to discuss the potentials of Holocaust education in relation to primary school children Its contributors are from countries that have a unique relationship with the Holocaust such as Germany Israel neutral Switzerland and Allied countries outside the UK Their research provides new insight into the diverse ways in which primary aged students engage with Holocaust education

Chapters explore the impact of teaching the Holocaust to this age group school and museum teaching pedagogies and primary students perspectives of the Holocaust This book will appeal to school and museum educators of primary aged students whose work requires them to teach the Holocaust Citizenship or Civics or Human Rights Education Since the turn of the twenty first century there has been a transformation in school and museum based Holocaust education This book clearly demonstrates that primary education has been included in this transformation

Testimony, Tensions, and Tikkun

Myrna Goldenberg, Rochelle L. Millen, 2011-10-01 The Holocaust was a cataclysmic upheaval in politics culture society ethics and theology The very fact of its occurrence has been forcing scholars for more than sixty years to assess its impact on their disciplines Educators whose work is represented in this volume ask their students to grapple with one of the grand horrors of the twentieth century and to accept the responsibility of building a more just peaceful world tikkun olam They acknowledge that their task as teachers of the Holocaust is both imperative and impossible they must teach something that cannot be taught as one contributor puts it and they recognize the formidable limits of language thought imagination and comprehension that thwart and obscure the story they seek to tell Yet they are united in their keen sense of pursuing an effort that is pivotal to our understanding of the past and to whatever prospects we may have for a more decent and humane future A Holocaust course refers to an instructional offering that may focus entirely on the Holocaust may serve as a touchstone in a larger program devoted to genocide studies or may constitute a unit within a wider curriculum including art literature ethics history religious studies jurisprudence philosophy theology film studies Jewish studies German studies composition urban studies or architecture It may also constitute a main thread that runs through an interdisciplinary course The first section of Testimony Tensions and Tikkun can be read as an injunction to teach and act in a manner consistent with a profound cautionary message that there can be no tolerance for moral neutrality about the Holocaust and that there is no subject in the humanities or social sciences where its shadow has not reached The second section is devoted to the process and nature of students learning These chapters describe efforts to guide students through terrain that hides cognitive and emotional land mines The authors examine their responsibility to foster students personal connection with the events of the Holocaust but in such a way that they not instill hopelessness about the future The third and final section moves the subject of the Holocaust out of the classroom and into broader institutional settings universities and community colleges and their surrounding communities along with museums and memorial sites For the educators represented here teaching itself is testimony The story of the Holocaust is one that the world will fail to master at its own peril The editors of this volume and many of its contributors are members of the Pastora Goldner Holocaust Symposium Led since its founding in 1996 by Leonard Grob and Henry F Knight the symposium s scholars a group that is interfaith international interdisciplinary and intergenerational meet biennially in Oxfordshire England

Teaching Controversial Issues in the Classroom

Paula Cowan, Henry Maitles, 2012-02-16 A thorough exploration of the issues in teaching controversial issues in classroom drawing on international case studies sharing teachers and pupils experiences Teaching and Learning Through the Holocaust

Anthony Pellegrino, Jeffrey Parker, 2022-12-16 This book serves as a critical resource for educators across various roles and contexts who are interested in Holocaust education that is both historically sound and practically relevant As a collection it pulls together a diverse group of scholars to share their research and experiences The volume endeavors to address topics including the nature and purpose of Holocaust education how our understanding of the Holocaust has changed and resources we can use with learners These themes are consistent across the chapters making for a comprehensive exploration of learning through the Holocaust today and in the future Teaching a Dark Chapter Daniela R. P. Weiner, 2024-07-15

Teaching a Dark Chapter explores how textbook narratives about the Fascist Nazi past in Italy East Germany and West Germany followed relatively calm undisturbed paths of little change until isolated flashpoints catalyzed the educational infrastructure into periods of rapid transformation Though these flashpoints varied among Italy and the Germanys they all roughly conformed to a chronological scheme and permanently changed how each dark past was represented Historians have often neglected textbooks as sources in their engagement with the reconstruction of postfascist states and the development of postwar memory culture But as Teaching a Dark Chapter demonstrates textbooks yield new insights and suggest a new chronology of the changes in postwar memory culture that other sources overlook Employing a methodological and temporal rethinking of the narratives surrounding the development of European Holocaust memory Daniela R P Weiner reveals how long before 1968 textbooks in these three countries served as important tools to influence public memory about Nazi Fascist atrocities As Fascism had been spread through education then education must play a key role in undoing the damage Thus to repair and shape postwar societies textbooks became an avenue to inculcate youths with desirable democratic and socialist values Teaching a Dark Chapter weds the historical study of public memory with the educational study of textbooks to ask how and why the textbooks were created what they said and how they affected the society around them Holocaust and the Moving Image Toby Haggith, Joanna Newman, 2005 Based on an event held at the Imperial War Museum in 2001 this book is a blend of voices and perspectives archivists curators filmmakers scholars and Holocaust survivors Each section examines films and how they have contributed to wider awareness and understanding of the Holocaust since the war

Becoming a Holocaust Educator Jennifer Lemberg, Alexander Pope, 2021 Experienced educators share how they conceive of Holocaust education as based in writing and inquiry This book offers reflections on how professional development helps guide teacher growth and success and examinations of the ways professional organizations and networks can support teachers trying to teach challenging content Hard Questions Judith L. Pace, 2021-02-15 Teaching controversial issues in the classroom is now more urgent and fraught than ever as we face up to rising authoritarianism racial and economic injustice and looming environmental disaster Despite evidence that teaching controversy is critical educators often avoid it How then can we prepare and support teachers to undertake this essential but difficult work Hard Questions Learning to

Teach Controversial Issues based on a cross national qualitative study examines teacher educators efforts to prepare preservice teachers for teaching controversial issues that matter for democracy justice and human rights It presents four detailed cases of teacher preparation in three politically divided societies Northern Ireland England and the United States The book traces graduate students learning from university coursework into the classrooms where they work to put what they have learned into practice It explores their application of pedagogical tools and the factors that facilitated or hindered their efforts to teach controversy The book s cross national perspective is compelling to a broad and diverse audience raising critical questions about teaching controversial issues and providing educators researchers and policymakers tools to help them fulfill this essential democratic mission of education Cases on Historical Thinking and Gamification in Social Studies and Humanities Education Martínez-Hita, María, Carrasco, Cosme Jesús Gómez, Miralles-Martínez, Pedro, 2022-06-30

Research on history education and historical thinking is becoming increasingly relevant internationally The need for a renewal of history education is not only justified by the epistemology of history itself but also by the demand for a methodological change in education in general making students active protagonists in the construction of their learning and based on the development of competencies Further study on the potential use of gamification within social studies and humanities education is required to understand its benefits and challenges Cases on Historical Thinking and Gamification in Social Studies and Humanities Education proposes and analyzes gamification as a pedagogical innovation that can enable the renewal of the teaching and learning process of history facilitating the active learning of historical thinking concepts while influencing students conceptions of history as a discipline and as a school subject Covering key topics such as historical thinking social sciences video games and mobile learning this reference work is ideal for historians policymakers researchers scholars academicians practitioners instructors and students Sensitive Pasts Carla van Boxtel, Maria Grever, Stephan Klein, 2016-12-01 Heritage as an area of research and learning often deals with difficult historical questions due to the strong emotions and political commitments that are often at stake In this it poses particular challenges for teachers museum educators and the publics they serve Guided by a shared focus on these sensitive pasts the contributors to this volume draw on new theoretical and empirical research to provide valuable insights into heritage pedagogy Together they demonstrate the potential of heritage as a historical educational domain that transcends myopic patriotism parochialism and simplistic relativism helping to enhance critical and sophisticated historical thinking Diversities and Interculturality in

Textbooks Kaisa Hahl, Rita Johnson Longfor, Pia-Maria Niemi, 2015-04-01 Textbooks are crucial in shaping today s global and diverse world They can contribute to making it both better and more intercultural but also on occasion create limited and biased ideas about the Other This collected volume undertakes multidisciplinary research into textbooks taking one of the best education systems in the world Finland as an example The authors investigate the issue of diversities in textbooks from multiple perspectives disciplines school levels and content areas Together the chapters provide examples of hidden ideologies neo stereotyping and othering when looking beneath the surface of texts and illustrations The authors also present concrete tools that can be used for analysing diversities and interculturality in textbooks In addition the chapters will serve to develop teachers and students abilities to encounter diversities and similarities in ways that enhance their sensitivity self reflexivity and criticality This volume will be of interest for students in educational sciences pre service teachers and in service teachers of various school subjects teacher educators and researchers in the areas of subject didactics multicultural and intercultural education language education educational leadership curriculum and policy Forewords and Commentary by Jari Lavonen Karen Risager Adrian Holliday and Julie S Byrd Clark Contemporary Responses to the Holocaust Konrad Kwiet,Jürgen Matthäus,2004-11-30 The murder of six million Jews during the Holocaust is a crime that has had a lasting and massive impact on our time Despite the immense ever increasing body of Holocaust literature and representation no single interpretation can provide definitive answers Shaped by different historical experiences political and national interests our approximations of the Holocaust remain elusive Holocaust responses past present and future reflect our changing understanding of history and the shifting landscapes of memory This book takes stock of the attempts within and across nations to come to terms with the murders Volume editors establish the thematic and conceptual framework within which the various Holocaust responses are being analyzed Specific chapters cover responses in Germany and in Eastern Europe the Holocaust industry Jewish ultra Orthodox reflections and the Jewish intellectuals search for a new Jewish identity Experts comment upon the changes in Christian Jewish relations since the Holocaust the issue of restitution and post 1945 responses to genocide Other topics include Holocaust education Holocaust films and the national memorial landscapes in Germany Poland Israel and the United States Slavery, Memory and Identity Douglas Hamilton,Kate Hodgson,Joel Quirk,2015-10-06 This is the first book to explore national representations of slavery in an international comparative perspective Contributions span a wide geographical range covering Europe North America West and South Africa the Indian Ocean and Asia

Citizenship Through Secondary History James Arthur,Ian Davies,David Kerr,Andrew Wrenn,2003-12-16 Citizenship through Secondary History reveals the potential of history to engage with citizenship education and includes a review of the links between citizenship education and the teaching and learning of history an analysis of how citizenship education is characterised raising key issues about what could and should be achieved a critique of the discipline and the pitfalls to avoid in teaching citizenship through history case studies offering practical teaching suggestions History teaching is at the vanguard of citizenship education the past is the springboard from which citizens learn to think and act This book offers positive and direct ways to get involved in the thinking that must underpin any worthwhile citizenship education for all professional teachers student teachers in history policy makers heads of department and principals An Education in 'Evil' Cathryn van Kessel,2019-04-15 This book asserts that engaging with divergent understandings about the nature of evil and how it functions can help those interested in education think through issues in curriculum pedagogy and beyond The author provokes thinking about and through the concept of evil in the spirit of thoughtful education as opposed to thoughtless schooling toward how we might live together in less harmful ways Although thinking about evil can be uncomfortable and troubling such inquiries help us explore what sort of relations we want to have with others Analyzing our role in evil as humans as well as our responsibilities to counter the processes of evil present in our everyday lives opens up a potential to foster radical thought in and out of the classroom

The International status of education about the Holocaust

Carrier, Peter, Fuchs, Eckhardt, Messinger, Torben, Georg Eckert Institute for International Textbook Research (Germany), 2015-01-14 How do schools worldwide treat the Holocaust as a subject In which countries does the Holocaust form part of classroom teaching Are representations of the Holocaust always accurate balanced and unprejudiced in curricula and textbooks This study carried out by UNESCO and the Georg Eckert Institute for International Textbook Research compares for the first time representations of the Holocaust in school textbooks and national curricula Drawing on data which includes countries in which there exists no or little information about representations of the Holocaust the study shows where the Holocaust is established in official guidelines and contains a close textbook study focusing on the comprehensiveness and accuracy of representations and historical narratives The book highlights evolving practices worldwide and thus provides education stakeholders with comprehensive documentation about current trends in curricula directives and textbook representations of the Holocaust It further formulates recommendations that will help policy makers provide the educational means by which pupils may develop Holocaust literacy

The Oxford Handbook of Holocaust Studies Peter Hayes, John K. Roth, 2012-11-22 Few scholarly fields have developed in recent decades as rapidly and vigorously as Holocaust Studies At the start of the twenty first century the persecution and murder perpetrated by the Nazi regime have become the subjects of an enormous literature in multiple academic disciplines and a touchstone of public and intellectual discourse in such diverse fields as politics ethics and religion Forward looking and multi disciplinary this handbook draws on the work of an international team of forty seven outstanding scholars The handbook is thematically divided into five broad sections Part One Enablers concentrates on the broad and necessary contextual conditions for the Holocaust Part Two Protagonists concentrates on the principal persons and groups involved in the Holocaust and attempts to disaggregate the conventional interpretive categories of perpetrator victim and bystander It examines the agency of the Nazi leaders and killers and of those involved in resisting and surviving the assault Part Three Settings concentrates on the particular places sites and physical circumstances where the actions of the Holocaust s protagonists and the forms of persecution were literally grounded Part Four Representations engages complex questions about how the Holocaust can and should be grasped and what meaning or lack of meaning might be attributed to events through historical analysis interpretation of texts artistic creation and criticism and philosophical and religious reflection Part Five Aftereffects explores the Holocaust s impact on politics and ethics education and religion national identities and international relations the
