Soviet Military Doctrine Harriet Fast Scott, William F. Scott, 2019-06-21 The purpose of this book is to document from basic Soviet sources the development of Soviet military doctrine and its impact upon the Soviet Armed Forces Soviet military doctrine is defined as the military policy of the Communist Party In one way or another this policy affects the lives of all of us as a possible threat to free institutions and political processes as well as to our economic life and well being Generally we approach Soviet military policy in terms of military balances and weapons comparisons in the number of men under arms the speed of aircraft of the Soviet bloc versus that of NATO aircraft the number of ballistic missiles and their throw weights Studying such balances is of critical importance in defining to some degree existing forces But it is only through a deep and thorough study of the military policy of the Communist Party which translates directly into military doctrine that we can obtain the background that might aid in negotiating with the Soviets on arms control matters or in making decisions that will enable those nations outside of the Soviet bloc to deter future Kremlin military moves American Military History Daniel K. Blewett, 2008-12-30 In this companion volume to his 1995 bibliography of the same title Daniel Blewett continues his foray into the vast literature of military studies As did its predecessor it covers land air and naval forces primarily but not exclusively from a U S perspective with the welcome emergence of small wars from publishing obscurity In addition to identifying relevant organizations and associations Blewett has gathered together the very best in chronologies bibliographies biographical dictionaries indexes journals abstracts glossaries and encyclopedias each accompanied by a brief descriptive annotation This work remains a pertinent addition to the general reference collections of public and academic libraries as well as special libraries government documents collections military and intelligence agency libraries and historical societies and museums Bibliotheca Orientalis Luzac & co, 1916 The Publisher, 1911 British Books, 1912 Modernising the People's Liberation Army James Char, 2024-06-03 This volume examines the progress made by the Chinese military the People's Liberation Army PLA as it strives to meet its commander in chief's directive to transform itself into a more capable fighting force The book tracks the reforms undertaken by the PLA in meeting its commander in chief's grand objectives set at the 2015 Central Military Commission Reform Work Meeting for China's armed forces to transform themselves into a more professional and modern military Focusing on those changes since late 2016 at corps level and below the first and second sections of the volume document the subsequent force structure and operational changes to the PLA's four conventional services and two newly established PLA branches the Strategic Support Force and Joint Logistic Support Force To that end the contributors examine the reforms promulgated by the Chinese high command and measure them against observable developments in the PLA's power projection capabilities In view of how the instrumentalization of military power is writ large in Beijing's strategic calculus and in regional hotspot issues the final part of the book also provides pathbreaking insights into two critical but not so well understood phenomena the now regular PLA aerial activities in the
